S. F. WOMAN SLAIN BY JEALOUS WI

REVENGE FOR BREAKING UP HOME, CHARGE

Sacramento Woman Opens Fire on Palace Hotel Employee in Busiest Section of S. F. During Rush Hour

Angered Wife Satisfied With Success of Assault Made Upon Young Woman When Taken to Police Station

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Shooting at close range before the Monadnock building in the busiest block on Market street this afternoon, Mrs. Julia Mildred Thurston, 30, Sacramento, fired five bullets from a small revolver into the body of Miss Jean Kimball, a bookkeeper of the Palace hotel, until the latter fell in the doorway of the building and died there a moment later.

"I'll teach you to break up my home," bystanders heard Mrs. Thurston cry as she started firing.

KILLED BY FIRST SHOT THAT IS FIRED.

The first shot the Sacramento woman fired struck Miss Kimball under the left breast and went quite through her body. The others were fired at an angle and caused but superficial wounds. The first shot caused the girl's death.

That Miss Kimball had robbed her of her husband's affection was the claim made by Mrs. Thurston after she was taken to the police station following the shooting. She said she had made the journey here from Sacramento particularly for the purpose of achieving the revenge which she had planned.

SHOOTING TAKES PLACE DURING RUSH HOUR

The shooting took place a little after 1 o'clock this afternoon. The street was crowded with people, most of them returning after the lunch hour to their offices. No notice was taken of the two women who walked slowly eastward along the south side of Market street engaged in apparently earnest conversation.

Suddenly, however, Mrs. Thurston opened her handbag and snatched therefrom a small revolver. She pressed it to Miss Kimball's side. The latter attempted to spring to one side, but she was too late. The bullet struck her squarely in the breast and as she reeled sideways toward the building four more shots were fired at her in quick succession.

By this time the crowd which was attracted to the immediate scene by the noise of the shots closed in upon the woman with the revolver, and a traffic policeman, rushing in from the street, snatched her still smoking revolver from her hands and placed her under arrest.

Miss Kimball, as she tried to escape from the murderous rain of bullets directed at her, stumbled into the doorway of the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company offices at 681 Market street. There she collapsed across the doorsill.

ASSAILANT HOPES GIRL WILL DIE OF WOUNDS.

"I hope she will die! I hope she will die!"

Thus Mrs. Thurston, hysterical in the arms of the police matron at the city jail, cried time and again.

Mrs. Thurston is thirty years of age, the wife of a former soldier and the mother of a six-year-old child. Her residence in Sacramento is at 1516 K street. She had been in San Francisco only since yesterday, staying over night at the Maryland Hotel.

CHARGES HER HUSBAND INTIMATE WITH WOMAN

She declared that her husband had been called by his business several times to San Francisco following his leaving the service of his country, that he had stopped at the Palace Hotel on these visits, and that there he had become intimate with Miss Kimball. Mrs. Thurston said that she had learned of this intimacy at Sacramento, and had reasoned with her husband in a vain effort to make him give up his friendship.

When she could make no headway with her spouse, Mrs. Thurston said, she determined to come to San Francisco and meet face to face the woman who, she claimed, had broken up her home. She arrived here last night and almost immediately called Miss Kimball on the telephone and arranged to meet her at the lunch hour today.

Following out this agreement Mrs. Thurston met the girl for the first time in her life at a little before 1 o'clock today on Market street, opposite Stockton. Together they walked down Market street toward Miss Kimball's place of employment.

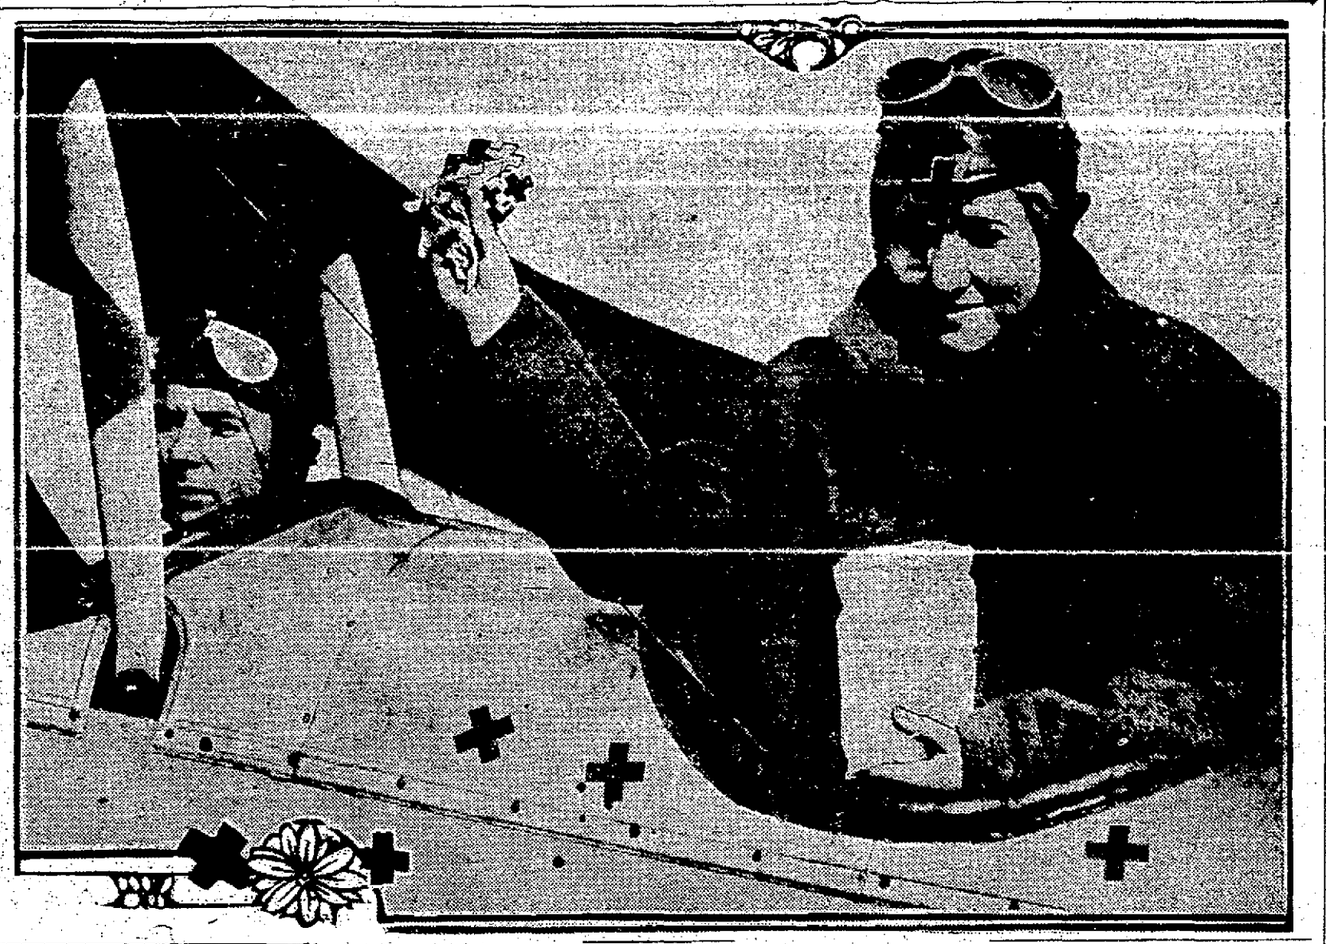

"I tried to persuade her to give up my husband," said Mrs. Thurston, "and tried to make her see the wrong she was doing. She would not listen to me, and refused to take any steps to terminate his attentions to her. I warned her that there would be trouble if she did not do so, but she refused again to give him up."

SLAIN WOMAN SOON TO HAVE WED, REPORT

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 4.—Miss Jane Kimball, shot and killed in San Francisco today, was mail clerk at the Maryland hotel here for an interval about three years ago. She was then cashier at the Hotel Huntington and was transferred to San Francisco about two years ago to another hotel under the same general management.

Miss Kimbell recently wrote that she was to be married soon to a San Francisco man. Little was known here of her family or history, before the term of her employment.

MRS. CLIFF DURANT is making use of an aeroplane to advance the interest of Oakland Chapter, American Red Cross, in its Third Annual Roll Call. The picture shows Mrs. Durant just as she was preparing to fly over the city to "shower" Red Crosses on the passers-by. LIEUTENANT J. P. CUMBERPATCH is the pilot who drove the machine.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL DEVELOPS INTO LANDSLIDE

The opening day of the third annual Red Cross roll call precipitated a landslide for Oakland chapter. If yesterday is a prophecy of the membership campaign which closes on Armistice Day, November 11, that part of Alameda county which lies within the jurisdiction of Oakland chapter will more than exceed its full quota of 50,000 of the 15,000,000 enrollment which is urged in the United States.

Mrs. Clifford Durant, the intrepid society war worker, made her first aeroplane flight in the interests of the organization yesterday afternoon. In her sweep over the city and the eastern end of the county she sent down a shower of souvenir paper Red Crosses. Mrs. Durant promised two ascents from the Durant field at the foot of Eighty-second avenue as her contribution to the features of Roll Call week. The second flight was to have taken place today, but was postponed because of the weather. If conditions are satisfactory she will fly tomorrow.

VOLUNTEERS KEEP STREET BOOTHS FILLED

Volunteer memberships have kept the women who conducted the street booths busy, the day's record which has not yet been completed at the office, demonstrating the confidence and approval which the Red Cross organization has won from the public.

Men and women as they passed by the tables paused to pin the 1920 button upon their lapels which proclaimed them a part of the great machinery which will carry forward the reconstruction program and stand back of the project which is ready to meet any emergency in any part of the nation. The third annual roll call is being made an appreciation of the achievements of the national organization during the period of the war.

Club women, war workers and leaders in Red Cross service have offered their assistance for the week in conducting the tables in the business center. The street service is in charge of Mrs. A. B. Glasier, representing the Oakland club, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Eddy and a corps of aides. Casual memberships to the number of 150 were received in a few hours at the headquarters of the Oakland chapter, 557 Twelfth street, yesterday.

The precinct canvas of the district is going forward with the hearty co-operation of the householders, according to the unanimous report of the 1200 workers who are in the field.

LEADERS EXPECT TO SURPASS QUOTA

Arthur P. Karbach, chairman of the third annual Red Cross roll call for Oakland chapter, declared this morning that if the record of the opening day was kept up, the local membership register would far exceed the quota.

In charge of the campaign work in Piedmont is a large committee at the head of which are Dr. E. J. Boyes and Mrs. Boyes. A 100 per cent record will be attempted. Besides plans which are being carried out for the house-to-house canvas, booths are being conducted at the Frank C. Havens school, Egbert Beach school, Red Cross headquarters in the Interdenominational church and at Leber's drug store.

Business firms are swamping headquarters with 100 per cent enrollment of employees. Local houses are making a feature of Red Cross week by devoting an entire window display to original interpretations of the spirit of the organization.

Accused Berkeley Nurse's Fiance Breaks Betrothal

With the man she was to have married no longer her ally, Miss Alline Wilson, pretty Berkeley nurse who has been arrested in Los Angeles for alleged diamond robberies, [illegible] together with her co-defendant, Mrs. H. L. Weber, formerly prominent in Fresno, Oakland and San Francisco social circles. Cyrus Sinclair, Miss Wilson's former fiancee, has broken with her since her arrest, according to the statement of his mother, and "washed his hands" of the whole affair.

Herbert W. Wilson of 2409 Oregon street received a letter yesterday from his daughter to the effect that she had been released on bonds, a new date set for her hearing, and that she would leave Los Angeles on a train bringing her to the bay today. He expects her to remain at her Berkeley home until she is wanted for trial in the South.

Sinclair is but two years older than his former fiancee, who is only 19 years of age. He is employed by an adding machine company in San Francisco. The girl's father is in the grocery business also in that city. Mrs. Weber's husband, who has been assisting her to fight the charge against her, is an officer of the Fresno Fruit Growers' Association. She claims to be the daughter of Mrs. Clara Goodrich of this city. She is 27 years old.

Los Angeles dispatches today state that while arrangements were being made for the preliminary hearing of Miss Wilson and Mrs. Weber, Detectives Walter Wood and W. E. Murphy of Los Angeles announced this morning that $5000 worth of diamond ornaments, alleged to have been stolen, had been recovered.

The defendants were scheduled to have been taken today before Justice Summerfield in Los Angeles, but at the last moment their attorney arranged for a continuance of the case until November 18. Charges of grand larceny were preferred against them ten days ago. The girls are alleged to have stolen a $700 diamond ring from the establishment of J. P. Tait, 329 West Seventh street, Los Angeles, when they were shown some trays of gems.

According to Wood and Murphy, the police recovered $4300 worth of diamond ornaments and wrist watches taken by the girls in this city and San Francisco and Oakland.

Here is a list of th thefts Miss Wilson and Mrs. Weber are alleged to have committed:

H. Morton & Co., Oakland, $2000 diamond ring.

Watson & Co., Oakland, $500 diamond ring.

Shreve, Treart and Eacret company, 136 Geary street, San Francisco, $825 diamond ring and $1500 diamond ring.

Houston-Gilmore company, 299 Post street, San Francisco, $800 diamond ring.

H. C. Watson, 135 Geary street, wrist watches.

BOOST IN BREAD PRICE SUBJECT OF U. S. INQUIRY

The federal government has taken cognizance of the recently announced increase of the cost of bread to consumers in the bay region and will begin an immediate investigation for possible violations of the food control act, it was announced today by U. S. District Attorney Annette A. Adams.

Investigation will be thorough and will be quarticipated in not only by the U. S. district attorney's office, but by Department of Justice, acting under the direction of M. Blamford, district chief of the department.

Mrs. Adams made public her intention to probe increases in bread prices at the conclusion of a conference with Blamford. Investigation of the increased cost of commodities to consumers is made possible by a provision of the food control act which specifically makes illegal any unwarranted increase in prices of public commodities.

The Master Bakers' Association of California on Saturday announced an increase in the price of bread of 1½ cents per pound to the dealer, which has resulted in an increase of 2 cents to the consumer. This increase, according to E. Foley, secretary of the Master Bakers' Association, has been made necessary by an increase in wages to workers in the baking industry, and increases in the price of flour and by the fact that the old supply of flour, which was purchased at a comparatively low price, has been exhausted. Evidence collected by the government in its investigation will be submitetd to a federal grand jury, which will be empaneled tomorrow.

BOLIVIA GRANTED OUTLET TO SEA BY CHILE AWARD

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Chile has given Bolivia an outlet to the Pacific Ocean by ceding a strip of land north of the province of Arica, according to official advices received here today.

Details as to the extent and exact location of the territory reported to have been ceded were not given in the dispatches.

Bolivia was cut off from the Pacific thirty-five years ago when Chile captured the provinces of Arica and Tacna from Bolivia and Peru. The territory in which is located the world's greatest supply of nitrate since has been in dispute between Chile and Peru by reason of the failure to carry out the provisions of the treaty between the two countries calling for a plebiscite in the provinces ten years after the ratification of the treaty.

Bolivia's claims to the territory apparently had not been given serious consideration. After the end of the war that country refused to negotiate a treaty with Chile. A treaty finally was ratified some ten years ago, however, and recently Bolivia sought to obtain an outlet to the Pacific.

RIVALRY KEEN IN ELECTION AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Despite predictions to the contrary and conjectures that the old political spirit of San Francisco was dead, voting today on candidates for all city officers ranging from mayor to supervisors and police judges was unusually heavy up to early afternoon, according to a statement issued by Registrar of Voters Zemansky.

According to reports received from the various precincts, particularly in the residential district, it became apparent soon after the polls opened that the vote would be far above normal, with a preponderence of the early ballot being had by fair voters.

With a total registration of 190,000, it was estimated that fully 120,000 would cast their ballots.

Public interest is centered on the mayoralty fight between Eugene Schmidt and Mayor Rolph and the office of district attorney between Fickert and Police Judge Mathew I. Brady.

The most noteworthy contribution to the eleventh hour method of stimulating laggard voters was a large float on which rode three persons, one depicting the Goddess of Liberty, the other a drummer of the revolutionary period and a man who bore a remote resemblance to George Washington. Above the float was a banner reading: "Vote for Daniel O'Connell for district attorney and revive the spirit of '76."

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The senate today voted down a motion by Senator Lodge to strike out the Shantung section of the peace treaty. The vote was 38 to 41.

Preceding this vote the senate laid aside until tomorrow the La Follette amendment to strike out the labor section.

Lodge asked also immediate consideration on the Gore amendment to require a referendum on declaration of war under the league.

Retail Grocers Ask Sugar Investigation

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Secretary G. R. Weber of the Retail Grocers' association, today forwarded a request to the federal commission for an immediate investigation of "certain phases" of the sugar situation in Southern California.

"We have a hunch what is wrong and we propose to have the trade commission do some sleuthing," Weber declared. The exact contents of his letter was not made public.

'GRAFT' CASES DISMISSED ON DECOTO'S PLEA

Former Police Chief, Cockrell and O'Neill Can't Be Convicted, Says Dist. Attorney; Indictments Are Dismissed

Decoto Declares It Is Impossible to Obtain Jury Sufficiently Free From 'Misguided Sympathy' to Get Conviction

Former Police Chief John Henry Nedderman and David W. Cockrell, involved with him in indictments for bribery, will be tried no more and former Corporal Thomas O'Neill, similarly involved, will not be tried at all. Today, upon the request of District Attorney Ezra W. Decoto himself, the indictments against the three defendants remaining untried were dismissed.

"It has been impossible to obtain a jury sufficiently free from misguided sympathy and self-interest to obtain for the people of this county a fair and impartial trial against these defendants," was the parting word to the so-called graft cases of District Attorney Decoto.

Following the request of the district attorney, Superior Judge James G. Quinn dismissed the indictments remaining untried. The bonds under which the men have been held were exonerated and the bondsmen released.

NEDDERMAN TO BE RESTORED AS CHIEF.

That reinstatement of the two former police officials to the department from which they resigned when the grand jury returned true bills against them last May would follow the dismissal of the cases was intimated today by Commissioner F. F. Morse of the department of public health and safety. Morse also was of the opinion that Nedderman should be restored to the office of chief.

Following the acquittal of Nedderman, which had been preceded by the acquittal of Cockrell and the mistrial of Nedderman earlier in the year, District Attorney Decoto left for his vacation, promising to announce upon his return what policy his office would pursue toward the remaining indictments. He returned in time for the appearance in the calendar of Department 5 of the several indictments today.

In moving for their dismissal, he said:

"In these cases I have submitted to three separate juries all the evidence I have been able to obtain against these defendants. Witnesses have testified in court that they personally had paid money to each of the defendants for the purpose of being permitted to carry on illegal gambling. Evidence also was introduced showing that the defendant, Nedderman, in 14 months after he became chief of police, had deposited money in the First National Bank and purchased property aggregating more than $8000 in excess of his salary. Evidence also was introduced showing that before he became chief of police he was too poor to own his own home. When placed on the stand he made no explanation of this sudden increase in wealth.

"I believed, and the people of this county expected it, that we could obtain a jury that would try these cases fairly and impartially. However, it has been impossible to obtain a jury sufficiently free from misguided sympathy and self-interest to obtain for the people of this county a fair and impartial trial against these defendants.

WOULD SAVE EXPENSE OF FURTHER TRIALS.

"I feel that I have done my full duty and that further expenditure of the money of the taxpayers of this county in further trial of these defendants would not be justified by the results obtained. I therefore ask your honor to dismiss all of the remaining indictments against the defendants, J. H. Nedderman, David Cockrell and Thomas O'Neill."

Final decision as to whether Nedderman shall be returned to the chief's office and the incumbent, J. F. Lynch, restored to his captaincy remains for decision. Commissioner Morse made this statement today:

"I believe that Nedderman is entitled to be made chief of police," said Commissioner Morse, "and I expect to ask the City Council to reinstate him in that position. The result of the cases in the Superior Court cannot be termed otherwise than a vindication and I would hold it quite unfair to the trial juries to pass judgement over their verdicts.

"I hold that a man is innocent until proven guilty, and the prosecution has failed signally in its attempts to secure a conviction. The result demonstrated that Nedderman was unjustly removed from his position as chief of police, and since the three trials have proven him not guilty, it is unfair to deprive him of that which he enjoyed prior to the filing of the charges. He is entitled to every justification."

MAY PROCEED WITH HIS POLICE PROBE

Commissioner Morse further stated that he expects to ask the city attorney for advice as to whether to proceed with the police department investigation started by him prior to the finding of true bills.

"My hearing would have involved a considerable number of the forty odd police officials mentioned by Captain Petersen in his charges of graft in the department," said Morse. "Some of them had been 'offside' in their public service, and had no regard for their oath of office

LIGHTLESS NIGHTS IN PROSPECT IN INDIANA CITIES

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Despite the professed optimism in Washington official circles over the coal strike situation, Indiana officials today are making plans to cope with a prolonged tieup of the mines of the country. Lightless nights are in prospect in Indiana cities.

The public service commission will meet this afternoon to consider drastic steps providing for discontinuance of street lighting on moonlight nights, curtailment of electric current for shop windows and electric signs, and cutting off electricity from non-essential industries. Curtailment of use of artificial gas except where it is essential is another step outlined for saving coal.

Meanwhile there is no indication in Indiana of weakening on the part of the miners. While in some circles it is held that the coal strike will be short-lived, such intimations do not come from the miners' camps.

Miners' officials were silent today, and no information was forthcoming from their headquarters regarding progress of the strike.

At his hotel this morning, John L. Lewis, acting president of the mine workers, declined to add to statements he made to the International News Service on his arrival from Springfield, Ill., late yesterday. He was non-committal regarding the government's belief that the strike will be short-lived and he also declined to comment on the statement of Frank Farrington at Springfield that "indications are for a prolonged strike."

That the hundred thousand organized farmers of Indiana expect to figure strongly in a settlement of the coal controversy was apparent today when officials of the state federation of farmers' association met to iname a committee to investigate the strike.

The committee will go into the mining camps to learn the miners' point of view, then it will confer with the operators. Upon the committee's report the organization will formulate a general policy to meet the emergency.

The farmers' organization is the first combined interest towards sifting teh trouble between employers and employees of the mines.

STRIKE TO END IN 4 WEEKS, LORD'S VIEW

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The end of the national coal strike in four weeks was seen here today by James Lord, president of the miners' department of the American Federation of Labor, after a conference with Samuel Gompers.

"The strike, I think, will be over in about four weeks," he said. "I can't see how the operators will let the strike run because Garfield has nailed down the prices of coal which eliminates their chances to clean up by profiteering.

"The element of uncertainty in the strike has been eliminated by Dr. Garfield's fixing of prices. I don't believe that the government can smash the strike by injunctions, and I am dubious of President Wilson's plan for an outside commission to interfere. It will be settled by a conference between the miners and the operators. The miners are entirely prepared, however, to stay out indefinitely. Between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 is behind them. They are determined to get their rights this time. All this talk of radicalism and 'aliens' has antagonized them. Outside of a very few radicals, every man in the organized labor movement is standing squarely behind Samuel Gompers.

"If any rioting comes out of this strike it will be the fault of the operators. Riots and disorder are easy to create. I've seen them planned and carried out under my very nose.

"The parade of gunmen, thugs and militia through the streets of mining towns are in themselves enough to create antagonism. Thugs have been hired to deliberately insult the miners' women so as to provoke outbursts. I have steadfastly counselled the men to preserve the peace in spite of all provocations, but some of these things make men forget peace."

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, planned to return to Washington today. He voted today in a Ninth avenue booth.

Prolonged Strike Is His Prediction
Farrington Reviews Coal Situation

By HERMAN G. BROLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Indications are for a prolonged coal strike, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Coal Miners' union, declared in an interview today just after he emphasized that not one of the 90,000 miners in Illinois are at work except those authorized by the union.

Farrington reviewed the entire strike situation. His interview came in the midst of an executive session of the state union board called to consider the strike. He talked freely as the Indianapolis restraining injunction had not as yet been served on him. Neither has it been served on any of the other state union heads. The writs, however, are expected momentarily. They may come and compel a breaking up of the executive session which began yesterday and was scheduled to continue throughout today.

Possible disruption of the union recall of strike orders, conjecture on the duration of the walkout, the union's objection to arbitration, what the government should have done to really avert the strike, the comparative percentage of increase in wages and efforts of some operators to compel operating of mines under government contract, were all taken up by the state union head.

ALL OUT IN ILLINOIS

"Unless the strike is settled quickly," Farrington said, "there will be few miners left to mine the coal when it is. Our reports are that the Illinois miners are out 100 per cent. They tell us that the men in the large southern fields are leaving the cities by the hundreds, seeking employment in other lines of endeavor. Since there is a general scarcity of labor throughout the country this can have but one result—that is that those men who find remunerative positions will not return to the mining industry. This indicates a long siege of strike and fewer coal miners when the strike is over."

"What is this talk about disruption of the union?" Farrington was asked.

He hesitated a moment, but when published articles were recalled in which it was alleged the present crisis was precipitated through rivalry between himself and John L. Lewis, acting president, for supremacy in the union, he replied:

"There has been and is a concerted movement on foot by large financial interests to break up organized labor in America. Those reports about Lewis and myself are only a part of it. Lewis and I have no difference of opinion and are on the most friendly terms. It is a feeble attempt to create dissension in the ranks of the union heads.

"No, the injunction has not yet been served on any of the Illinois mine union heads," Farrington continued, in answer to the question.

"And when it is it will have no effect on the strike in Illinois. If the government really wanted to prevent this strike it should have taken the step when the union officials and coal operators were in conference. The government should have seen that the coal operators treated squarely with us. Then there would be no strike today.

WITHOUT AUTHORITY

"Arbitration? Why talk about it? We are emphatically opposed to it in view of the operators' attitude in the conferences preceding the strike, statements by Edgar Wallace in Washington to the contrary notwithstanding. Wallace has no authority to make such announcements. He is merely our legislative representative in Washington and has no official title in the union."

"What are these reports that the miners' demands are too exorbitant for the operators to consider from a financial standpoint?" Farrington was asked.

"Rot!" he replied with some vehemence. "Why, do you know that statistics will prove that the coal operators have increased the price of coal 125 per cent since 1914, while the miners received increases in wages of but 37 per cent during that period?"

REFUSE TO WORK

On the question of operating mines under government contract, Farrington said no appeals had been received by him from the government requesting it. The Jeff mine of the Sangamon Coal Company here is said to have a government contract for coal at Camp Grant, Rockford. Miners there went out in a body Saturday and continue to refuse to work despite appeals from the management that the coal was needed for government use. The management attempted to compel the miners to return to their posts by displaying alleged orders from the quartermaster's department of the army.

"The proper thing to have done," Farrington explained, "was for the government to have sent its appeal to the union heads. We received no such appeals."

Recall of the strike order by the international executive council was impossible, the union head declared. It was authorized by a higher tribunal than the council—by national convention vote—and could only be rescinded in the same way, he said.

Farrington added that even if a national convention were called now to consider the question of calling off the strike he believed it would decline to do so.

"The miners are determined to get a fair and living wage and proper working hours," he said.

TROOPS ENCAMPED

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—The first United States troops to come into Pennsylvania during the coal strike were encamped at Bronsville, south of Pittsburg. The 140 men in the force were in command of Colonel E. D. Evans and came from Fort Niagara, N. Y. Non-union miners in the Bronsville territory yesterday established a record production. The situation in the organized districts of Pennsylvania showed no change.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 4.—United States troops entered Pennsylvania on strike duty today when a company of infantry arrived here from Buffalo. The troops arrived from Fort Niagara early in the day. They number 189 men and carried camp equipment and ample supplies for a long stay. It was reported that another company would arrive later in the day.

Brownsville is on the Monongahela river, the center of an important mining field with about forty mines employing some 20,000 men. It is on the edge of the non-union mine country. Many mines are closed by the strike, but an almost equal number not controlled by the United Mine Workers are to be kept in operation under the protection of the troops, it was stated by operators.

MINE FORCES SMALL

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 4.—With breaks reported in the striking coal miners' ranks in the northern part of the state, operators of mines in the paralyzed districts gathered here today to discuss conditions, were confident that there would soon be a return to normal.

The mines which resumed work were only of small capacity and in a number of them the forces were so small that there was no attempt at production.

The operators received word today that West Virginia production is about half its usual tonnage of coal, and today it was said this production would be increased to 52 per cent. Rains and floods in some of the non-union fields were responsible for keeping down the output.

After their meeting today the operators will extend a general invitation to the miners to work and it was expected that some of the larger mines will soon be operating again.

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 4.—The public schools were closed here today on account of a coal famine resulting from the strike.

Union Men in Miami Vote General Strike

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 4.—More than ninety per cent of union men in Miami have voted in favor of a general strike to uphold the principle of the closed shop. The strike committee today set next Monday for a general walkout. More than 3600 union men will be affected and two million dollars worth of buildings held up.

PARLEY HELD TO END COAL STRIKE

Governor Larrizol. Federal soldiers took charge as the strike became complete in all mines of the State except those of the Gallup American Company at Gallup.

Additional troops for possible duty in the extensive Pennsylvania fields were under orders today to be ready to entrain at two hours' notice from San Antonio, Texas.

TROOPS TO MOVE FOR STRIKE DUTY

The Thirty-fifth Infantry will start tomorrow for Camp Lewis, Washington, for strike duty in the Pacific Northwest, an announcement from Camp Travis said.

For duty in Wyoming coal fields, 121 of the 121st Infantry today were en route from Spokane, Wash.

Military control was established yesterday in all the Northern Wyoming coal camps, but it was announced civil authorities would continue to function.

Additional state troops were sent into the Colorado fields yesterday, their activities centering northwest of Trinidad.

Fifteen union mines in the northern fields of West Virginia today had resumed production, according to a statement by the West Virginia Coal Association, which asserted that was the first definite break in the miners' ranks.

COAL PRODUCTION OVER 50 PER CENT

Coal production in that large producing state was well over 50 per cent, the operators said.

So far the strike has been remarkably free of violence. No instance of threatened damage to property, except in the case of the miner arrested in Colorado, has been reported.

No actual suffering today had been reported as due to the coal shortage, but Newton, Iowa, was in darkness last night, the electric light plant being shut down when the coal supply was diverted to the water works plant. In Nebraska and Montana the shortage also was reported as interferring with routine. Schools in both states not already closed soon must do so unless supplies of fuel are forthcoming.

By RALPH F. COUCH,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Organized labor throughout the country is preparing to extend assistance to 450,000 miners whose strike benefit is tied up by the temporary restraining order of Judge Anderson at Indianapolis, according to information received by labor men today.

Reports of plans to help the miners began to arrive coincidentally with reports indicating that schools and factories are beginning to feel the pinch and are closing down for lack of fuel.

"Every union man in the country will do his share to prevent the miners being starved into surrender," said L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors.

Leaders made light of reports that the strike has begun to disintegrate. They called attention to rumors that regional railway directors are considering curtailing passenger service to save fuel.

Tonnage being mined by non-union men is but a small percentage of the demands of the country, labor chiefs claimed. They asserted that reports even of operators showed practically all mines are closed in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, and that ships are being held in Atlantic ports.

The government, through the railroad administration, is commandeering coal in transit for rationing to industries, schools and hospitals through the regional coal committees. Nearly 100 cars were taken in the Pittsburgh yards.

Attorney General Palmer, just before leaving for his home near Harrisburg, Pa., where he will make a speech today, expressed the opinion that the climax of the strike would come before Saturday.

Palmer, before leaving, canceled a number of speaking engagements to be able to give all his time to the strike situation if necessary.

Palmer and Assistant Attorney General Ames are preparing the government's case in the injunction suit to be argued in Indianapolis Saturday. At that time Judge Anderson will decide whether the order temporarily restraining officials of the United Mine Workers from directing the strike shall be made permanent.

Miners are rumored to be negotiating with William G. McAdoo to assist in handling their side of the case in court. In addition to handling the injunction suit, McAdoo, if he consents to take charge, would be asked to give advice in connection with the acceptance of official assistance to be tendered by other unions to the miners, it was stated.

One contribution has already been received here. One local let leaders know that it had bought a carload of potatoes and placed it at the disposal of the union miners of the neighborhood.

WORK INCREASES IN MINES OF COLORADO

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—Reports received at the offices of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company here today indicated an increase in the number of men working in company mines, compared with yesterday.

At Walzen, near Walzenburg, where troops were despatched late yesterday, 186 men were working this morning, while only 56 worked yesterday, according to the company.

The Fremont mine in Fremont county had twenty-four men at work and was operating today. Yesterday this mine was closed, no workers reporting.

Other properties, except Ideal, reported increased working forces. At Ideal the force at work was two less than yesterday, the company said.

Nedderman May Regain Old Job

and were lax in their observance of police rules and regulations."

Chief of Police J. F. Lynch declared that he had not asked for the position and if the City Council wishes to reinstate Nedderman it is "up to them."

Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen made the following statement:

"I believe that the district attorney's office has done its full duty in relation to the prosecution of these cases, and I agree with the district attorney that it would be useless to entail further expense upon the county in further trials. The outcome is the result of a verdict of a jury composed largely of women, whose sentimental character and kindness of heart caused them to lean more towards mercy than justice."

Today's court action terminates a police graft investigation which began in April of this year. A little over half a year's time has been consumed in the investigation, trials and other legal procedures, two of the three defendants have been acquitted and thirty-three of the thirty-six indictments which the case involved have never come to trial.

ALLEGED "EXPOSURES" PRECEDE INDICTMENTS

Though the definite beginning of the so-called graft cases was in April, a series of events, including two separate alleged "exposes," preceded their inception. One of the first of these was launched by State Senator Eddie Grant in the spring of 1918. In the fall of the same year newspaper "discoveries" brought the situation again into the limelight.

Captain of Detectives Walter J. Petersen precipitated the more recent situation, when, on April 24, he publicly stated that Policeman Charles Nightingale had confessed to him that graft was rampant in the police department and that he had involved Nedderman, then chief. Nightingale denied making the statement, but out of Petersen's announcement came an investigation of conditions by Commissioner F. F. Morse, successor of Dr. F. F. Jackson in the commissionership of public health and safety.

Dr. Jackson publicly charged that the whole affair was a political move to injure him in his contest for re-election, in which his opponent was William J. Baccus, now incumbent. Lasting from April 29 to May 6, Commissioner Morse's hearing, held jointly with other commissioners and the district attorney, involved a questioning of members of the police department only. The transcript of testimony taken did not become public property until some time afterward. Morse admitted his investigation did show police graft, but did not involve Dr. Jackson.

Summoned on May 13 by District Attorney Ezra W. Decoto, the grand jury next day returned thirty-six indictments, twelve against Chief Nedderman, nineteen against Cockrell and five against Corporal O'Neill. All three were arrested and furnished bonds respectively in the sums of $60,000, $95,000 and $25,000. Two days later Nedderman resigned from his office and was succeeded therein by Captain J. F. Lynch, who is now incumbent.

In the three trials that have followed since that time Nedderman's first jury disagreed, standing ten to two for acquittal; the second acquitted him on another of the indictments. Cockrell, in a trial intermediate of these two, was acquitted on one of his indictments. Following the Nedderman second trial, concluded the middle of last month, the cases were all set in the calendar for today.

The case against Nedderman and Cockrell developed from the evidence of four witnesses particularly. These were Herman Loorz, proprietor of the Bartenders' Club, a gambling resort formerly operated at 419 Twelfth street, and Jue Moy, Gee Sam Kee and "Little Ernest" Lun, proprietors of gambling resorts and lotteries in Chinatown.

DECLARES HE PAID PROTECTION MONEY

Loorz declared that for twelve months he paid protection money to Nedderman, directly so on eleven occasions and to Cockrell as Nedderman's agent on the twelfth. In addition, he charged he paid O'Neill $40 a month for five months also for protection. The total amount paid to Nedderman Loorz fixed at slightly under $3000. The Chinese witnesses testified to dealings with Cockrell, whom the prosecution tied with Nedderman as party to a common scheme or plot for mulcting bribes.

Both Nedderman and Cockrell in their trials categorically denied the accusations of the witnesses for the state. They said they had never received money from Loorz or any of the Chinese for protection. Details of meetings with Nedderman for paying him money recounted by Loorz were denied from every angle by the accused ex-official. In addition, the defense set up allegations of a conspiracy purposed to return Captain Petersen to the office of police chief and involved the gamblers with Petersen in an effort to discredit Nedderman and open the way for this restoration.

FOOTBALL SHOW OF PRE-WAR ERA TO BE REVIVED

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—The old and nearly forgotten custom of holding a "football show" on the University of California campus on the eve of the "big game" may be revived by the college glee club this year.

The football show was always a combination of vaudeville stunts by the college students, and short talks by members of the college team.

Manager K. S. Craft of the California club is endeavoring to make arrangements for a joint performance of both California and Stanford glee clubs to be held on the night before the "big game."

Colonel W. S. Mappes, commander of the troops in Gary, is investigating letters he obtained urging the strikers to "lie low" until the troops are recalled. He said the withdrawal of the pickets probably was in line with this policy.

LANE PROPOSES EXPLOSIVES CURB

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretary of the Interior Lane today asked Congress for an appropriation of $60,000 for enforcement of the explosives regulation act, stating that rigid enforcement was made necessary in view of the present industrial unrest.

The secretary proposed, in a letter to Vice President Marshall, an amendment to the act providing for the revocation of licenses of persons, "who may permit the misuse of explosives."

WILSON'S ILLNESS SHOCKS ARMENIA

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The news that President Wilson is suffering from a nervous breakdown, which is sufficiently serious to necessitate his taking a real rest, has been received in some circles with something like consternation, says the periodical, The Near East, editorially. It continues:

"Rightly or wrongly, it is argued that the President's breakdown is likely to react unfavorably upon the chance of America becoming willing to accept a mandate for Armenia."

San Francisco Woman and Brother, Held for Death Of Sheep Man, Seek Trial

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Nov. 4. — Attorneys for Mrs. Fred J. Wilson and Frank McCormick, held in the killing of Charles Brown, young and wealthy sheep raiser, were expected today to file habeas corpus proceedings to win their release.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of a San Francisco newspaper man, and McCormick both shot Brown Saturday, after Brown had fired at McCormick, according to their story. They say Brown insisted on paying attentions to the wife of a young logger.

The attorneys are trying to determine whether bullets fired by McCormick or several shots from a .25 automatic fired by Mrs. Wilson into Brown's prostrate body, killed the man. Brown was a member of one of the older families and was popular.

"I shot to defend my brother," she is quoted as saying, "and have done nothing that I am ashamed of. The idea that I was in love with Brown is absurd," she protests. "Charlie was a nice enough fellow, but he and I did not speak the same language." It is presumed she meant thereby that they had nothing in common.

Mrs. Wilson is a prepossessing woman in her early thirties and her sister, of whom the gossips say she was jealous, is 21 and beautiful. The latter resides at Oroville, where it is said Brown visited Friday night and where he is said to have paid too devoted attention to her.

BROWN INTOXICATED, CLAIM

According to the narrative of the subsequent events by Marysville people, Brown returned to the ranch, and all Saturday before the shooting sat in the bunkhouse, under the influence of intoxicants, awaiting the return of McCormick. The latter had gone to Oroville to ascertain what transpired there Friday, and returned with the determination to give Brown a beating. Parking his machine near the chicken house he went to his room, changed his clothes and sought Brown. An employee named Arvin Ward was with Brown when McCormick approached.

McCormick threw Brown to the floor and upbraided him for what had transpired, according to the witness. Then he left the bunkhouse and was walking away when Brown opened fire. McCormick ran into a feed shed and obtained a rifle, with which he returned the shots. The second shot struck Brown in the throat, severing the jugular vein. He fell to the ground.

From this instant the bitter fight is described by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Goldie McCormick, wife of Frank McCormick:

"Meanwhile Goldie McCormick, Frank's wife, and I ran from the dining room, where we had been watching the whole scene. Goldie was unarmed. I grabbed a small .25 automatic, just like the one Brown had, and which, by the way, I had presented to him a few weeks before for some trivial kindness he had done for me. I saw that Frank was wounded in the face.

BEGS CHARLIE TO STOP.

"Goldie threw her arms around him and begged Charlie to stop shooting. But he kept on firing, his shots going wild and imbedding themselves in the wall of the shed. Brown, meanwhile had fallen and I, excited beyond words at the awfulness of Frank's peril, fired at the body.

"Then Frank and I got into a machine and went to Roncut to telephone to Mr. Wilson in San Francisco. We had no difficulty in getting him and he said he would come right up. He told me to go to Marysville and await him there."

Whether the shot from McCormick's rifle inflicted the mortal wound, or whether one of the shots fired by his sister caused the death, is the question the coroner's jury will attempt to answer. The inquest has been delayed pending further investigation by Sheriff C. J. McCoy and District Attorney Ray Manwell.

The ranch where the shooting occurred is owned by Fred J. Wilson, husband of the accused woman, and her brother was its manager. Mrs. Howard, Mrs. McCormick's sister, is at the ranch but refuses to speak, except, it is said, to comment that her relatives took upon themselves unnecessarily an affair which concerned herself entirely.

ARVIN WARD TELLS STORY

Arvin Ward, an employee on Brown's ranch, declared Brown was reclining on a bed when McCormick entered the cabin and took hold of his throat, choking him until he spat blood. Ward says the men struggled until they were outside the door, when McCormick ran to a feed shed and got a rifle with which Ward says the killing was committed.

Mrs. Wilson says she fired several shots at Brown with a revolver. Ward says this is true, but that the woman did not shoot until Brown was lying on the ground wounded by McCormick's bullet.

McCormick and Mrs. Wilson were lodged in the county jail and are held without bail, although McCormick was shot through the throat and was given medical attention by the county physician, Dr. W. J. Guinan.

Brown was a brother of Miss May Brown and Mrs. Wilson McRae of this city and Mrs. John Pooley of Oroville. He also leaves a mother and three brothers.

McCormick is said to have been a correspondent for a number of newspapers during the war, according to the story told the sheriff. Wilson came here at once and has retained Attorney Charles E. Wetmore Jr. of this city to defend his wife.

CLAIM LEPROSY CURED BY USE OF SPECIAL OIL

HONOLULU, Nov. 4.—(By Associated Press.)—The treatment of leprosy with chaulmoogra oil, as used in California and recently condemned as a failure by Dr. W. C. Hassler, San Francisco health officer, is not similar to that which has proved a success at the Kalihi hospital, Hawaii.

This is the statement made by Dr. A. L. Dean, president of the College of Hawaii, and Dr. Harry T. Hollman, former physician at the Kalihi hospital.

Chaulmoogra oil has been used for several years in Hawaii in treating leprosy, Dr. Dean said, but recently, he added, he had been able to separate the fatty acids from the oil and in its refined form it has been very successful. "Our tests have shown," Dr. Dean asserted, "that after the treatment no leprosy bacteria existed."

So far as he knew, the doctor said, the oil was separated nowhere but at the College of Hawaii, and the particular elements which he abstracted were used only there.

BLISS DECLARED SECONDARY IDEA IN WEDDED LIFE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Happiness of man and woman is only a secondary affair in marriage, the prime purpose of which is to produce robust children, Professor William J. Durant of Columbia University said in a lecture at the Sinai Social Center here last night. "Where there are no children there is no marriage," he added.

Free love is impossible, the professor said, because conquests of a man are praised by other men, "but if a woman has had one free love affair she is held in ridicule and belittled by her associates."

"Most men now marry after they have become incapable of love," the professor continued, "and then comes your divorce.

"Courts say that divorces are due to cruelty, drunkenness and half a dozen other things, but they are all wrong. The three fundamental reasons for divorce are:

"1—The natural vanity of both sexes.

"2—Psychological incompatibility.

"3—Lack of children."

Naughtiness of S. F. in Evading Dry Law Bared By Los Angeles Times

Awake, San Franciscans!

Here's a chance to find out about your own city, to drink in—all those are the words—the secrets of your gay, cosmopolitan village Perhaps ye who are easily discouraged believe that the once merry joyous life has fled from your midst Perchance, you think that all those "soft drink" saloons and 'soft drink cafes deal in "soft drinks" and soft ones alone Perish the thought. Or at least, listen to what the Los Angeles Times has to say before you give way to despair

"San Francisco vs Prohibition"

It reads like a handbill for a prize-fight between two veteran scrappers of the big leagues, doesn't it?

That is the way that the Times heads a part of its cheering article on the dry regime in San Francisco.

Where "auld lang syne" is with us yet!

Many a San Franciscan may be surprised at this statement in the Los Angeles paper article, which covers a page and is illustrated attractively by a barroom scene with Miss Fluffy Ruffles biting a cocktail in true crossing the bar fashion.

SAN FRANCISCO STILL MERRY.

"To be exact, San Francisco is a merry little place where a man with a thirst for something stronger than almost-beer may get it in the following places Hotels, restaurants right-hawk cafes, ex-saloons and the streets. This category ignores the great army of the home-brewers"

The writer, Frederick B Moore evidently recites from experience He gives first-hand vivid accounts The 'corkage' charge in cafes he terms a joke, and many a man, one moment a thirst and forlorn is lifted to heavenly heights when he learns from the waiter that he is the 'owner' of some bottles of wine, which he placed with the cafe for storage but which he knew nothing about, being a stranger in San Francisco

Though Ring Lardner said of New York, 'the only way you can get a drink is to go into a saloon," San Francisco has that and many other ways, too, according to the Los Angeles paper Says the writer

FAMED FOR JOYOUSNESS

"The bay region has long been known as a place in which to have a good time—in a bibulous sense as well as others When Joe Ball came along there were persons who lamented the probable effect on San Francisco But after four years of drought, the people of the community still manage to exist in quite gay abandon There are those who say that San Francisco is wetter now than ever This writer is stretching it some — not much, but some

'San Francisco is indeed a fine place for a man with a thirst. He may buy whisky for 20 cents a drink right over the bar—an honest-to goodness bar with a brass rail, cloves and everything He may conduct sundry negotiations with bellboys and pay $10 to $12 a quart for bonded whisky, some of which perhaps never saw a distillery Or he may be introduced at a good eating place, where they will serve him a bottle of his wife stored for him (by polite fiction) For this wine he will pay "corkage," which is quite within the accommodating San Francisco law that governs the operations of restaurants

GUMSHOE UNNECESSARY

"To do all this it is not necessary that a man gum-shoe up a dark alley. Not at all. No slipping around the law by stealth. The blind pig in the smelly back room, with lookouts and code signals, is not the mode in San Francisco The gentleman who would invest in a wee nip of whisky has only to walk into the best-looking saloon in the the neighborhood (they are still open, ostensibly as "soft-drink" places), put up his money and order his liquor like a man. The chances are he will get it if he conducts the negotiations frankly and does not look like a policeman of some sort. But even if he fails he need not despair Some other saloon will certainly accommodate him, or he may get a friend to introduce him or teach him the high-sign. The rest is easy It is so easy, in fact, that the man who has the entree is far less likely to die of thirst than of whisky liver

'Above all, San Francisco is making no secret of her whisky trade There are cute little tricks it is true But they merely lend a bit of zest to the drinking of forbidden stuff These little tricks are played presumably for the purpose of fooling all the wily hounds of the law Do they? It is difficult to believe It is far more likely that the little tricks serve the same purposes as refilling bottles of bonded liquor —they make the customer pay more

DIME FOR CITY TAXES.

"When a man exchanges 25 cents [illegible] San Francisco he may figure he is spending at least 10 cents for the privilege of seeing a unique exhibition of something done. He is paying cash to watch somebody evade the law. Of course he is served right out in the open, without more than a feeble show of secrecy. But he is supposed to be impressed by that feeble show and to be willing to pay for the privilege"

That bootleggers are "monkeying" with the government stamp on whisky bottles is another assertion of the Los Angeles writer. There is a tale of a trip to the Barbary Coast.

GLIMPSE AT BARBARY.

"So you go out and run into a lot of [illegible] looking places and finally collide with the whisky, right on the outskirts of the once hectic and now cheerless Barbary Coast. You drop into a cafe A frayed-looking young woman asks you to dance You say you have two cork legs and intimate that you are expiring because of the alcohol-starved condition of your system The young woman holds converse with a waiter, who examines you out of the corner of his eye. A few minutes later the young woman passes your table

It'll cost you a heap,' she says

'Quick as a flash she produces a flask from a portion of her clothing rather remote from where her bootleg would be, if she only wore boots You crowd the flask into your pocket From there you transfer it directly to the table in front of you For you have technically 'brought along your own,' and you may drink highballs so all the world may see'

SPEAKING OF CORKAGE.

Then comes the "corkage joke"

'The San Francisco law concerning drinkables in restaurants contains a very accommodating clause Proprietors of eating places may store the private stock of patrons Friend patron comes in to dine and orders a bottle of his own goods. He is charged "corkage." All well and good It is legal.

"But it is an open secret that in some restaurants in San Francisco a patron may be astonished by an odd discovery He may suddenly learn that he has wine, or cocktails or what not stored in the cellars of that very restaurant That is pleasant, to say the least And it is quite within the law for him to drink his own. Nobody can raise any objection.

'Not at least some of those restaurants that have made San Francisco famous as the city of high living are still emporiums of cheer There are still attractions for the late crowds at some places along the beach San Francisco does not yet go to bed at 9 p m. and the most advanced legislator in that city has not bethought himself of a curfew law

ARRESTS DECREASE.

'Statistics show that the average number of arrests for drunkenness has greatly decreased in San Francisco since war-time prohibition went into effect. But the reasons are complex. Some men who drank mildly during "wet" days now drink nothing at all, for the sole reason that the cost of hard liquor is too great. Other men do not care for the air of stealth with which the traffic is surrounded Polite drinking is certainly passe The very poor man can no longer afford public drinking, if he is an addict he falls back on home brew, with fancy variations to give his product 'the kick.'

'But, for all that, it would seem that the San Francisco saloon men who sell whisky find it profitable. One proprietor, who got too bold and was arrested, is quoted as saying he made more money selling illicitly at 25 cents a drink to a hand-picked coterie of customers than he had made in the old days of lawful selling at 15 cents a drink He sells less by volume But it is cheaper stuff with more water in it, and vended for a fancy price

"They believe the country is dry to stay dry There is an admitted shortage of real whisky It will never be any cheaper the price is scheduled to advance by from $2 to $3 a quart November 1 So it is a case of getting all that can be got, while the getting is good

'And in San Francisco they are getting it"

Livermore Votes on City Bonds Today

LIVERMORE Nov 4—The $10-000 bond election called by the board of trustees for today, will decide whether Livermore is to have adequate fire protection The city engineer has planned the installation of a new fire alarm system and the purchasing agent of the board of trustees has selected a $5000 fire engine to be purchased with the $10,-000 should the bonds carry. The chamber of commerce has indorsed the election and has been working in conjunction with the trustees for passage The Boy Scouts paraded this afternoon carrying banners urging the citizens to protect the city and their own interests

200 S. F. Saloons Close Doors as Dry Net Tightens

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Two hundred saloons closed their doors here yesterday. November is the saddest month of all this sad old year. However, sadder ones are coming next year!

The new enforcement law for war-time prohibition is too strict, say the dealers. In addition to their inability to sell "two and three-quarters per cent" beer, the "wise ones" say that even the saloonkeepers are running out of their whisky stock, and cannot carry on a profitable illicit business any more, whisky being too expensive "on the curb."

A few are still holding to the hope of a few days' release if the prohibition ban is lifted with the ratification of the peace treaty.

Justus Wardell, collector of internal revenue, has announced that he can see nothing to prohibit cafe patrons from bringing in their own liquor, and the "corkage" charge is not specifically banned. Wardell received word from Washington that the practice was all right "as long as there is no contributing sale"

Wardell said "so long as liquor is not sold in the cafes and no trickery is practiced in bringing it there, the practice will be allowed."

Hetch Hetchy Water Argument Is Heard

BERKELEY, Nov 4 — W C Haines attorney for the Modesto Irrigation District, appeared before the city council today in the interests of his client and made an argument against the advisability of the city joining San Francisco in the Hetch Hetchy water project.

Haines declared the farmers of the valley have the first call on the water under the provisions of the Raker bill and that they have $1 000,000 with which to defend that right He said San Francisco never could put the project into operation within the estimated cost and that the Eastbay cities would be called upon to supply the additional capital necessary

The council listened to the argument without taking any action

WORLD SUGAR CROP IS SHORT 400,000 TONS

LONDON, Nov. 5 (by the Associated Press.)—A decline in the world's sugar production of about 14 per cent, as compared with the season of 1913-14, was registered during 1918-19, according to figures issued by the official Board of Trade Journal. But for the increase in the Cuban output, from 2,600,000 tons in 1913-14 to an estimated 4,000,000 tons in 1918-19, the decline would have been much more serious, says the Journal.

The world's production of raw cane sugar, excluding the Indian crop, which is consumed locally, rose from 7,500,000 tons in 1913-14 to 9,700,000 tons in 1918-19, an increase of 2,200,000 tons. In the case of raw beet sugar, however, production dropped from 8,900,000 tons to 4,300,000, a decrease of 4,500,000 tons. On balance, therefore, there was a deficiency in the world's supply of sugar in the season just ended, compared with pre-war supplies, amounting to approximately 2,400,000 tons.

The latest reports, the Journal states, indicate that for 1919-20 the world's crops are likely to fall short of those of the previous season by about 400,000 tons.

SIMS CANNOT BE DISCIPLINED FOR STATEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretary Daniels indicated today that no steps were cotemplated to discipline Rear Admiral Sims because of statements in recently published articles detailing the Admiral's experiences in Europe during the war. Daniel Connell, director of the Irish National Bureau, has written Daniels demanding that the officer be called to account for alleged reflections on the Sinn Fein party in Ireland.

CAPITAL KEEPS EYE ON 4 STATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Elections in four states today were watched with close interest by administration officials and congressmen.

At the White House special attention was being paid to the contest in New Jersey, home of President Wilson, where Edward I. Edwards, a state senator, is the Democratic candidate for governor in opposition to Newton A. K. Bugbee, Republican, the state controller.

In other states the elections were:

Maryland—For governor: Harry W. Nice, Republican, vs. Albert C. Ritchie, Democrat.

Massachusetts—For governor: Calvin Coolidge, incumbent, Republican, vs. Richard H. Long, Democrat.

Kentucky—For governor: James D. Black, incumbent, Democrat, vs. Edwin P. Morrow, Republican.

Mississippi also was voting for governor, but a Democratic victory was conceded.

Attention was riveted on the wet and dry election in Ohio, where there was a referendum on ratification of constitutional prohibition by the legislature.

GERMANS PROBE CAUSE OF WAR

BERLIN, Nov. 4 (By the Associated Press.)—The parliamentary commission appointed to investigate the questions of war guilt has decided to appoint four sub-committees which will occupy themselves in the examination of the specific issues involved. (Some of these sub-committees have since begun their work.)

The first committee will look into the pre-war diplomatic history, the second will investigate peace possibilities and the third and fourth the economic and military problems, respectively. It is also proposed to go into the Armenian atrocities question.

Deputy Landsberg brought up the question whether the sub-committees would be qualified to place witnesses under oath, thus assuming the prerogatives of the main commission, but it was finally voted to refer each individual case to the plenary session of the national assembly for definite approval.

TONOPAH HEARS COASTS TALKING

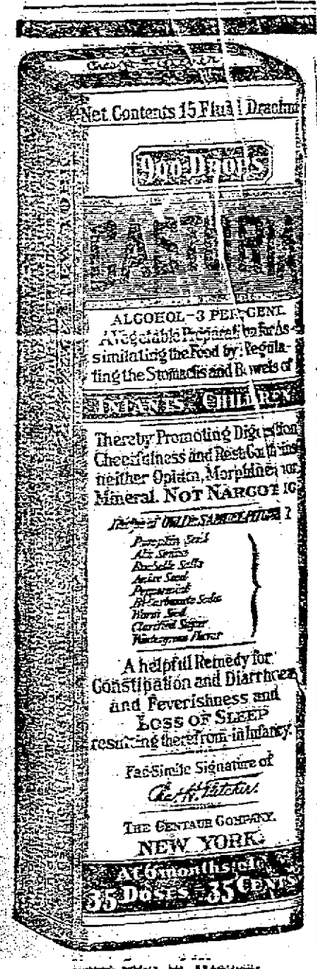

TONOPAH, Nev., Nov. 4.—The opening of direct telephone lines between Tonopah and New York and Tonopah and San Francisco was observed here yesterday when the Bell Telephone Company requested W. W. Booth, publisher of the Tonopah Bonanza to put in the first call. Getting a San Francisco friend on the line, Booth sent the following message:

"Tonopah, the gem of the desert, sends greetings. This is a message from the land that knows no 'knocker' and where every man, woman and child swears by silver, the metal that is coming into its own after almost fifty years."

Booth was invited to put a call in for New York today.

Oakland Women Express Thanks to Gov. Stephens

By EDNA B. RINNARD

An invitation has gone forward to Governor William D. Stephens to be a guest at the luncheon which is arranged at the Hotel Oakland for Saturday, November 22, that appreciation of Miss Gail Laughlin, woman attorney at law, civic worker and leader in public work, may be shown by her sister women of Alameda county, but more particularly by the women of Oakland Center. California Civic League. The original date which was planned for the function has been moved forward on the calendar by several days, Saturday permitting a greater number to assemble and being more convenient for a visit of the governor and representatives of the law-making bodies. Women from afar have frequently been feted and made much of, but glory seldom, if ever, has been extended to the individual woman in our midst who has carried the burden and attained in local affairs. Thus once more do Oakland women lead by doing homage to the prophetess within their own country, proving verily, indeed, that times do change. While Miss Laughlin's residence is in San Francisco, her interests have been so identical with that of the women on this side of the bay that she is admitted to the inner circle and made one with them.

The November function, without doubt, will be the most brilliant event which the pre-holidays will offer. Reservations will of necessity be limited to some 500 guests, but those 500 men and women who meet to break bread together will represent the leaders in thought and public work in this part of the state. The ballroom of the Hotel Oakland has been reserved for the luncheon and the program of toasts and addresses which will follow. With three weeks intervening before Oakland Center becomes hostess to Miss Laughlin, Governor William D. Stephens and the women of Alameda county and even from across the bay, already reservations are pouring in, giving promise of a record luncheon and disappointment to the late comer. Mrs. Bertram C. Eddy has been appointed to the task of distributing the tickets and looking out after the table seating. Mrs. O. E. Chaney is luncheon chairman.

American ideals will be considered by members of the Mills Club of Alameda County on Thursday afternoon when Professor Eugene Neuhaus will be the speaker. Neuhaus is professor of art in the University of California and Mills College. For this season the club has taken over Alumnae Hall on the Mills College campus as its headquarters, where the guests of the day will be received. A delightful musical program is promised by Miss Ellen Jansen, violin, and Miss Mabel Jansen, piano.

Hostesses of the day will be Mrs. William Nat Friend, Miss Sarah Davis, Miss Imogene Hawley, Mrs. Charles W. Camm, Mrs. H. D. Edson and Mrs. George M. Flint. Mrs. E. C. Robinson, president of the Mills Club, will preside as chairman.

It is something more than woman's curiosity which is prompting them to learn all that may be learned of the proposed league of nations and covenant of peace. Fruitvale Woman's Club, which is handicapped by meeting but once a month, is deeming their knowledge of the vital problem of such great importance that the Friday afternoon program will be given over to its discussion, with able speakers to present the issue. A notable program of song will lighten the serious deliberations. The club meets at the Fruitvale avenue residence of Mrs. W. E. Gibson.

Women who have within their hands the administration of affairs in Alameda District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, will assemble in Ebell clubhouse on Saturday morning, to confer on matters of importance. The organized women of the United States are facing tremendous problems, which the women of Alameda district are fully conscious of. Besides reports of various departments of work, programs for the coming months will be outlined and policies debated. Mrs. Claude Leech will come down from Walnut Creek to preside at the monthly executive meeting, which is brought back again to Oakland from Stockton, where it was held in October.

Five-cent movies has been a venture of the Young Woman's Christian Association, which the directors have tried out in their community spirit program. Tonight witnesses the third of the popular shows which have presented the real heroes and heroines of the silver screen at their best. Wallace Reid, Marguerite Clark and Bryan Washburn were elected the trio of favorites. Tonight it is Washburn in "The Venus of the East," who will shine in the Web-[illegible] screen. If any one has a doubt that 5-cent movies, as the association can present them, are not the best ever, they are invited to deposit their bit of coin in the ticket box and be convinced.

"TRIBUNE" FILM SHOWS OAKLAND FROM AIRPLANE

Moving pictures of the flights taken by the officers and employees of the Central National bank at the Durant aviation field recently are being shown in the TRIBUNE News Weekly at the Kinema today.

Other more experienced flyers are also known reposing on Lake Merritt—the flocks of teal, pintail, brant and other varieties of duck which have representatives wintering in Oakland. The cameraman obtained some excellent pictures of the feathered visitors while they were feeding.

The football game between the University of California and the Washington State University is also a feature of the weekly at the Kinema.

LITTLE FOREST VISITOR THROWS CO-EDS IN PANIC

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—Out at Claremont, on a clothesline stretched taut behind the home of one of the professors of Pomona college, hangs a suit of clothes in toto, around which still faintly rises the aroma of the woods.

And in the corridors of one of the girls' dormitories there is the some faint tang in the air. And thereby hangs a tale—a cat's tail.

Four professors living next to Haddon hall, a home for girls attending college, were aroused in the early morning hours by wails of distress. Valiantly they rushed to the rescue. They found in complete possession of the corridor a pretty black and white "kitty." Recognizing the breed, the instructors retreated to parley. Meanwhile the girls huddled in closets and emptied perfume bottles.

The professors later approached and the animal executed a "shimmy" movement. Another retreat. Science was brought into play. The intruder was sprayed with ether, but instead of keeling over, it seemed to like it.

One of the quartet then remembered that he had read that animals of this variety could be safely handled if held by the tail. He acted, though not without some disaster. The "kitty" was thrown through the window. It landed on its feet and scampered away. Groups of collegians on their way to early classes were scattered.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home: To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ½ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp; is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look 10 to 20 years younger"—Advertisement.

Man Discovers Cause of Falling Hair

Thought It Was Dandruff, But Prof. John H. Austin, Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist of Chicago, Showed the Ailment to Be 'Alopecia Pityrodes."

Prof. Austin, who has had 40 years' experience in conditions of the hair and scalp, says there are about sixty different ailments to which the hair and scalp are subject. For instance, there is the above mentioned common scalp trouble, "Alopecia Pityrodes"—it starts with a scaling of the scalp, sometimes slight, called "dandruff," sometime abundant—producing thick, grayish-white dry or greasy scales—which lead to falling hair. This stage lasts from two to seven years, as a rule.

At first, when the hair starts to fall, it is hardly noticeable, but as this ailment, "Alopecia Pityrodes," becomes more deeply seated and the germs multiply, as they always do, the falling of the hair increases rapidly and in time the top of the head becomes entirely bald. Both men and women of all ages are subject to "Alopecia Pityrodes," but particularly those between the ages of 20 and 35 years.

Then, there are different stages of itching scalp, falling hair, excessively oily hair, dandruff, split hair, dry and brittle hair, and so on.

Prof. Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics, vaseline and elixirs is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

During the past two years at the Owl Drug Stores Prof. Austin has taught hundreds of people how to stop falling hair, grow new hair, remove dandruff and relieve itching scalp.

Prof. Austin has found that only the most powerful microscope can determine the exact trouble with which your hair is afflicted.

Both men and women are invited to take advantage of this Free Microscopic Examination of the hair and scalp. Hours 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. daily. The Owl Drug Store, 14th and Washington.—Advertisement.

Byron Women Lose Auto in Stockton

BYRON, Nov. 4.—Mrs. J. L. Prerichs and her guest, Miss Zelma Dainty of Brentwood, discovered Sunday night as they emerged from the T. & D. theater, Stockton, that their Studebaker was missing. A taxi brought them to Byron. Late that night the police discovered the stolen car down the Holt road with its four new tires and the emergency tire gone.

A Hallowe'en dance was given at the I. O. O. F. hall by the members of the Byron Social club. Decorations in keeping with the occasion were all in place. The event created unusual interest among the younger set. Those in charge of the affair were Alfred Santos, who acted as floor director, and Fal Lewis, Andrew Fraggulia Jr. and Frank N. Cabral Jr., who served as floor managers.

Women of Byron are planning a community social at Odd Fellows' hall for next Friday evening, November 7.

IT is the custom in well conducted households to lay away a Lackawanna Twins garment as it is outgrown by boy or girl. The next younger child, growing up to it, finds it whole and perfect in every inch of fabric and every detail of button, buttonhole and seam.

In this continuous economy Lackawanna contrasts strikingly with underwear that grows down—shrinks—to smaller sizes. Lackawanna, sterilized in live steam, is preshrunk and nonshrinkable.

POLICE FIND CLUE TO AUTO MAN'S SLAYERS

That the slayers of Michael J. Needham, rent car driver, whose dead body was found at Baden, San Mateo county, Friday morning, drove the murdered man's car to the gasoline station at Fourteenth and Webster streets, Oakland, Wednesday, early in the morning, and stopped for a supply of gasoline, is the belief of the attendant at the station, who has communicated the information to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson in San Francisco, assigned to the case. The new witness declares there was a soldier in uniform in the back seat and that the man at the wheel corresponded to the description of one William Eugene Landers, sought by the police as the murder instigator. The name of the witness has not been disclosed.

The picture of Landers has been secured and shown to witnesses, who have identified it as the picture of the man who negotiated with the murdered man for the car and as the man seen driving the machine later. According to Matheson, a man named Paul Meyers, a moving picture man at 948 Post street, told him yesterday of having stood by while a man corresponding to the description of Landers talked with the chauffeur of a car at Union Square last Tuesday evening. Meyers' report to Matheson was as follows:

"Tuesday evening, while passing Union Square, I noticed a man talking to the chauffeur of a new Marmon automobile. I stopped and took particular notice of this man because I thought he was a man I knew in the East. I intended to speak to him, but wanted to make sure first that he was the right man. They talked for about ten minutes and then two other men, one of them in a soldier uniform, appeared and they got into the car and were driven off."

Landers, according to Matheson, is sought by the police of Baltimore, where he is wanted on a grand jury indictment for the murder of Homer Jones, a chauffeur, whose fate was similar to that of Needham.

According to Matheson, the records show that on June 14, Landers, with a man named Clarence Cathron and his wife, Grace Cathron, engaged Jones' automobiles, had him drive them into the country, then shot and killed him, taking his automobile and $150 from his person. The Cathrons were captured but Landers escaped.

Matheson says he has received an absolute identification of Needham's machine, seen by a traffic officer, passing through Hilltop, Nev., traveling east, last Thursday morning. Matheson has sent out telegrams to authorities at advanced points and a watch is being kept.

COBURN ESTATE SUED FOR $87,150

C. L. Littlefield of Pescadero, who from 1885 to a quite recent date was advisor to and general manager of the affairs of Loren Coburn of that place, and said to have been the "last man in the house" before the death of Mrs. Coburn, the circumstances of which are still shrouded in mystery, has filed a claim against the Coburn $2,000,000 estate in the sum of $87,150, based upon a promissory note claimed to have been executed in his favor by Coburn and Mrs. Coburn and attested before a notary. The note is dated February 17, 1917, expiring on the same day in 1920, for $75,000 and interest at 6 per cent. The consideration for the note is recited as "payment for services rendered."

Littlefield's activities as manager for the Coburn interests continued until the time of C. H. Widemann's entrance as lessee of a large part of the properties, and even after that date he remained advisor to the aged millionaire.

Littlefield's claim follows closely upon the claim filed last week by Attorney H. J. Bias of Santa Cruz for $21,000 for legal services rendered to the Coburns. The Bias claim involves delivery of more than $100,000 worth of mortgages, held by Widemann, on the Coburn King City ranch.

Cabinet Members Absent for Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—With several members of President Wilson's cabinet in their home towns today to cast their ballots, the cabinet did not hold its regular Tuesday meeting. It was expected to assemble later in the week, however, to discuss the coal strike and the appointment of a commission on industrial unrest. Cabinet officers absent included Attorney General Palmer, who was at his home in Stroudsburg, Pa., and Secretary Glass, who was in Lynchburg, Va. Secretary Baker had obtained an absentee's ballot from Cleveland and voted by mail.

For the first time since he has been in the White House, President Wilson was unable to go to his home in Princeton, N. J., to cast his ballot. Secretary Tumulty said the President was in "fine shape" this morning and would be permitted to receive the election returns "provided they are good."

SAYS RHEUMATISM CAUSED HIM MANY HOURS OF TORTURE

Missouri Man Took the Advice of a Friend. Tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and Found Relief

"I suffered from rheumatism for twenty-five years," relates Mr. John [illegible] who resides at 1425 Holmes street, Kansas City, Mo. "The attacks were very mild at first but they became more painful and severe all the time. Last winter I couldn't move from my bed for six weeks.

"The rheumatism first appeared in the small of my back, gradually working to my hips and knees. From a dull ache it became a sharp, cutting pain and I was sore all over. I could hardly get up after sitting down. My knees were swollen. I tried many prescriptions but the relief was only temporary.

"A friend who resides in Montana [illegible] I procured a box and a week after I began the treatment could see a slight improvement, that is, the pain was a little less severe. Then the swelling began to go down and finally the [illegible] pains disappeared entirely. I am well now, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I can't speak too highly of the remedy."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," containing a special chapter on rheumatism.—Advertisement

CARLOADS OF JUICY APPLES FOR SOLDIERS

If they were stolen green apples, it would be fatal. But they are the great, juicy, luscious, rosy kind—1500 boxes of them—which the military and naval hospitals in California, Arizona and Nevada are to receive on Thursday. It is the celebration which has been planned in honor of National Apple Day. The distribution will be made by the Pacific division American Red Cross, on behalf of the International Apple Shippers' association.

From all the great apple growing centers have been poured the choicest fruits in shipments of scores and hundreds of boxes as gifts to Uncle Sam's fighters. For every five men in the federal hospitals, a box of apples has been appropriated. The "treat" will number some 6000 boxes of which the Pacific coast will receive 1500.

This is why every naval and military patient in the United States on Thursday will be eating apples.

FRUIT GROWERS TO MEET NOV. 10

CHICO, Nov. 4—A week of conferences, visits and discussions participated in by farmers and technical experts in agricultural lines, is outlined for the fifty-second convention of California fruit growers and farmers which opens here November 10.

Near Chico is located one of the few government plants introduction gardens, where plants from all parts of the world are tended and developed, to ascertain their possible value for commercial production in America. This will be visited by the delegates.

Six miles south of Chico, near Durham, is the first land settlement project undertaken by the state of California. Here an experiment in state financing of agricultural projects is being carried forward and the convention program contemplates that an entire day shall be spent at Durham in an inspection of the colony.

Monday, November 10, will be devoted to a meeting of county horticultural commissioners, as will part of Tuesday, the afternoon of the latter day being occupied by visits to the plant introduction garden.

Co-operation in marketing fruits and vegetables will be under discussion Wednesday and representatives of the principal organizations of growers will have place on the program.

Thursday will be spent at Oroville on a visit to olive packing establishments, canneries and citrus groves and the program for an [illegible] discussion of citrus and olive production and handling.

Irrigation, insect pests and fruit drying will be under discussion Friday and committee reports will be received on that day, while Saturday will be spent at the Durham land settlement colony.

PREFERS DEATH TO BLINDNESS

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS

BAVARIAN GOATS HEIR $5,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Fear of blindness is the cause given by friends for the suicide late yesterday of Mrs. Helen B. Scott, age 30, a comely milliner of 1034 Sutter street. Her husband is in Honduras and she was planning to join him there. The strain on her eyes from her work with the needle was said to have undermined her health and brought on dread of total loss of sight. Mrs. Scott ended her life in her apartment by turning on the gas.

WILL PROVIDES $5000 FOR BAVARIAN GOATS.

It's a serious thing when one's goat is got." Carl F. Weber was one who appreciated the value of goats. [illegible] $5000 [illegible] for the establishment of a free goat pasture in his native village of Leugast, Bavaria. Weber gave a goat credit for saving his brother's life, from starvation. Three of the dead man's brothers are contesting the bequest, saying Weber was of unsound mind. Attorneys for the estate, however, produced a letter showing how the brother in Bavaria pleaded with Weber to send a goat and save him from abject want. Weber, according to the evidence, sent two goats, and the brother's life was doubly saved.

BAGGS LEAVES ESTATE TO WIFE, KILLS HER.

"I leave everything to my wife, if she survives me," wrote John W. Bagge, municipal gardener.

Two days later he killed his spouse and then himself.

The will provided that if his wife did not survive the estate should go, $1000 to his friend, Albert Zimmerman, and $2500 to his brothers, William H. and Lars Z. Bagge, and his sister, Mrs. Mary Alispaugh.

JUDGE OPPENHEIM TO PRESS "LIBEL" CHARGES.

Denounced as distributors of an "eleventh-hour lying and malicious attack on Judge Oppenheim," 19 defendants accused of criminal libel faced Police Judge Fitzpatrick yesterday afternoon and the cases were continued. Attorney George Lippmann, appearing as a special prosecutor, said that the charges would be pressed to the limit. Samples of the alleged libelous handbills reflecting on the integrity of Judge Oppenheim are in the hands of the prosecutors.

TAILORS REJECT OFFER BY THEIR EMPLOYERS.

The San Francisco Tailors' union is against returning to work under the old wage scale pending settlement. By 531 to 22 the proposal emanating from the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' association was rejected. The tailors have been on strike since September 1. Federal Mediators E. P. Marsh and Captain C. T. Connell are attempting to adjust the differences.

BRIDE FINDS HUSBAND IS PRACTICAL JOKER.

They were wed. The wedding bells had performed the customary and the old shoes flew. Then the happy groom escorted the blushing bride to her parents' home, and at the door he bowed, handed her a letter and walked away. She has not seen him since. The letter read:

"Gladdie: You will be surprised to know that I married you in jest. I just wanted to possess you and will never live with you."

This is the story told by Gladys Walton Martin, 3655 Seventeenth street, in her complaint for annulment of her marriage to John Martin.

S. F. ELECTRIC PIONEER ANOTHER "KING LEAR."

Behrend Joost, builder of San Francisco's first electric railway, was another "King Lear," says the executor of his estate, Attorney Hugo D. Newhouse. Newhouse alleges that Joost turned over a large amount of property to his children, Behrend A. Joost and Mrs Anna D. Roller, in order to cheat his creditors and that the children then refused to transfer them back. Joost declared he was neglected in the last years of his life and therefore took the settlement of his estate out of his family's hands. At the time of his death Joost was suing to recover approximately 100 pieces of property from his children.

HARDWARE DEALER ASKS JUDGE TO BE MEDIATOR.

To his wife's suit for divorce, Percy C. Arthur, hardware dealer, replies that he loves her violently and "life without her love and companionship would be of no value." Her charge of misconduct with Miss Edna Ladd, Stockton society girl, he emphatically denies and says his wife is the victim of bad advice. Arthur even puts in a little plea with the judge to act as a mediator.

DETECTIVES NAME ONE MURDER CASE SUSPECT.

Evidence is piling up to add to the suspicions of Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson regarding the slayers of Michael J. Needham, chauffeur, whose body was found in a clump of bushes near Baden last Friday, his automobile stolen. Captain Matheson said he expected the arrest in Utah of William Eugene Landers, whom he suspects of being the leader. According to Matheson, Landers is wanted for a similar killing in Baltimore last June.

War Veterans Plan Armistice Day Ball

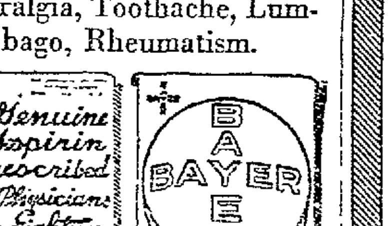

The first anniversary of Armistice Day will be celebrated by a ball at Scottish Rite hall, San Francisco, under the auspices of the San Francisco Society of French War Veterans. The ball will be under the honorary presidency of Consul General of France, J. Neltner, and will be held on November 10, with Mayor James Rolph, Lieutenant-General Hunter Liggett and Rear-Admiral J. L. Jayne as guests of honor. Admission tickets will entitle the bearer to participate in the drawing for prizes and a tombola will be held during the evening for the benefit of French war orphans.

Engineer Blamed For Acton Wreck

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Responsibility for the wreck of the San Joaquin Flyer on the Southern Pacific near Acton last Wednesday when five persons were killed and 143 injured, was placed on the dead engineer, Frank W. Fielder, by the official board of inquiry, sitting at Acton today. Excessive sped of the train in entering a curve was the verdict as to the cause of the accident.

FOREMAN SAYS IT WAS WONDERFUL

Mahoney Never Expected to Regain Former Strength—Now Back at Work

Many wonderful endorsements have been given Tanlac, but the statement made October 9 by James Mahoney of 22 East Fifteenth street, Los Angeles, Cal., is so remarkable as to be almost incredible.

Mr. Mahoney, however, is a man of unquestioned integrity and has been foreman at the Richards-Naustadt Construction Co ten years. His neighbors have corroborated his remarkable statement in every detail and will do so again if called upon.

"It was being talked among my friends," said Mr. Mahoney, "that I was going to die and I don't believe anyone ever had a much closer call. Closely following an injury to my back, caused by lifting some steel last July a year ago, my whole system seemed to give way. My stomach commenced hurting me terribly and I suffered from gas and indigestion. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and I could not eat a thing without intense pain afterwards. My appetite left me entirely and I got so weak I could not even lift ten pounds. Then I became constipated and my kidneys got out of order and disturbed me so at night I could not sleep sound. I was in misery all the time and so weak I could not lift my feet to go up the steps. I could not straighten up for the pain in my stomach. Before these troubles started I weighed one hundred and forty-five, but dropped down until I weighed only sixty-five pounds and if there was ever a living skeleton I was. I could hear my friends who came in to see me, say, 'Poor Jim, he can't last much longer' and I had no hope myself of ever getting up. In spite of all that could be done I kept getting worse. The lump-like feeling in my stomach seemed to get larger and the pain more intense. Finally I was told nothing more could be done except to operate and I was too weak to stand that.

"One day a friend, who had been coming to see me often, told me how Tanlac had helped his daughter, and urged me to try it. At first I refused, as I had given up hope of anything except prescribed medicines. But one day this friend offered to go and get me a bottle of Tanlac with the understanding that no one else know about it. Well, I started taking it and by the time he brought me the third bottle I was feeling better. I stopped everything else, kept taking Tanlac and slowly improving. I soon noticed the pain in my stomach easing up and the lumpy feeling began to leave. I got to eating something and then commenced getting back my lost weight and strength. I kept taking it until I used twenty bottles, and as a result I am in better shape than I was for years—even before I was taken sick. I now weigh one hundred and thirty pounds, so you see my weight has exactly doubled. I am working every day and can do the heavy lifting just the same as I ever could. I am not bothered any more with my kidneys or constipation and I sleep like a top every night. My food tastes good and my appetite is simply fine. My wife now thinks just as I do that Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world. I will praise it as long as I live, and I never expect to be without it."

TANLAC is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores.—Advertisement.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CABARET BEER REAL ARTICLE, POLICE CLAIM

Morals squad officers raided the Darktown Follies, a negro cabaret, at 374 Eighth street, at a late hour last night, took into custody its proprietor, Clifford Ritchie, and seized several bottles of what the police claim is beer.

A charge of violating the city ordinance was placed against Ritchie at Central Station. He was given liberty on $200 bail.

The police entered the place late last night, when the enthusiasm of roisterers was rampant. An officer bought a "bottle of beer" for 40 cents, according to the charge, and at tables were seated many patrons drinking beer.

Ritchie, it is said, declares the liquid is near-beer. He is expected to fight the case in the courts. Chief of Police John F. Lynch ordered an analysis of the brew made immediately, the results to be reported in police court when Ritchie comes up for trial.

The Darktown Follies has been under suspicion for some time.

A private label was on each bottle of Ritchie's brew, morals squad officers charge.

48-HOUR WEEK ALL OVER PLAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—An international convention, limiting the hours of work in industry to forty-eight a week in all countries, ratifying the agreement by July 1, 1921, was proposed to the International Labor Conference today by the organizing committee. The draft was prepared on the basis of information received from the governments of the countries invited to the conference.

The limit of forty-eight hours may be exceeded in certaain industries and under special conditions. In industries where processes are carried on continuously by successive shifts, such as public utilities and steel plants, 56 hours may be prescribed as the maximum. A limit of 60 hours is set for classes of work such as that done by laboratory chemists engaged in research, furnace men, repair men and watchmen, but provision is made that in these classes overtime shall not exceed 150 hours in the year and that compensation 25 per cent above the normal rate shall be paid.

For the benefit of Japan, China and India, reservations are made for postponement of enforcement of the agreement, because of climatic conditions, the imperfect development of industrial organization and other special circumstances.

It also is provided that the convention may be suspended in any country by order of the government in the event of war or other emergency.

Lady Astor Appeals For Parliament Seat

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 4.—Lady Astor has issued an address "to the electors of the Sutton division of Plymouth" appealing for their votes in the coming election to fill the seat in parliament made vacant by the elevation of her husband to the House of Lords.

"I come before you in all humility," Lady Astor says, "fully conscious of all my limitations. If you decide that Plymouth is to be the first English constituency with a woman member in parliament, I shall do all in my power to maintain the high traditions of the borough, the ideals of my sex and the credit of parliament."

LIONEL JACOBS WITHDRAWS.

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Independent Unionist candidate, Lionel Jacobs, who had the support of a number of Unionists opposing Lady Astor on the ground of sex, last night withdrew his candidacy.

Food for Germany Barred from Mails

United States postal regulations strictly prohibit the sending to Germany of certain food commodities and Postmaster Joseph J Rosborough has prepared a list of such supplies for the benefit of the public so that there may be no misapprehension on the part of patrons who intend mailing packages to that country. In the list are Butter, flour, sugar, caviar substitutes, meat and meat products, bacon, crabs, lobsters, caviar, oysters, caviar, pickles, pineapples and vanilla.

"NIPPERS" THIEF BLAMED.

The "nippers" thief is blamed for the theft of a watch and chain, attached to the neck of Ada E Osborn of 3366 Montgomery street, San Francisco. The chain and watch, a beautiful gem with opal settings, was cut by a delicate pair of nippers on the ferry or in Oakland.

PLATONIC LOVE LOSES IN RACE WITH U.S. LAW

Law wins. "Platonic love" is in the descendant.

As the Overland Limited whisks Albert W. Crouch away from Mrs. Violet Deegan today on the way to New York, where he deserted wife and child, his attorney, George F. Witter, still refuses to be entirely discouraged. He hopes to prevent his client from being given an trial in the eastern state.

The matter of "consolation prizes" came to the fore today. Will the "platonic lovers" be reunited to their own legal mates?

Where is Major William F. Deegan, who was declared by his attorney to have come to Oakland in pursuit of his wife, but to have vanished to avoid service of her suit for divorce? Will he come out of hiding now that Crouch is gone? These questions were asked today by those interested in the strange love triangle.

Reconciliation suggestions have been made. According to Crouch and Mrs. Deegan, their love was purely platonic. Four divorce suits, with cross complaints, are in the records.

Crouch had to be torn away almost by force yesterday when Superior Judge James G. Quinn denied the habeas corpus action brought by his attorney to prevent extradition. When the decision was announced, Crouch left the court without his hat. He returned for it, ran into the arms of Police Inspector Thomas Woods, who turned him over to Deputy Sheriff Benjamin Crawford of New York.

MRS. AGNES MENEFEE, who after four years' service in the Woman's Battalion of Death, during which time she was wounded twice and twice decorated by the Czar, has arrived in America as the wife of an American artillery officer. She will make her home with him at Covington, Ky. She was a prisoner in Germany six months. Her maiden name was Agnes Rostkovska.—Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, New York.

Market Street Fire Is Mystery

The Howard coal bunkers at the foot of Market street were threatened by fire early this morning, when a watchman discovered a smouldering pile of coals in a remote part of the bunkers. Fire apparatus responded, but workmen had quenched the coals before they arrived. The damage was slight. The watchman was making his regular rounds when he discovered the fire. The origin of the fire is a mystery to the proprietors and fire department.

In 1870 he came to California, in San Francisco he entered the wholesale shoe business and followed that line until 1890, when he entered the real estate business. He was the owner of large tracts of property.

KELLERD SCORES IN HAMLET ROLE

BY ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

A man is either married or not married; either white or not white; either dead or not dead; but one cannot, in the same way, declare a man must be either an actor or not an actor. Men of the stage fall into several categories. There are great actors, near-great actors, actors, near-actors and non-actors. Just where in this scale to deposit John E. Kellerd, who is playing Shakespeare et al at Ye Liberty this week, is properly decided if you place him rather nearer the top than the bottom. Whatever else he may do during the week is similarly inconsequential, since his playing of Hamlet last evening laid him liable to much praise and little blame.

Just as Shakespeare in general remains a test for [illegible] players, so "Hamlet" remains the most definite test in all Shakespeare. If the stage has lost anything because of film influence it has been the ability to speak brave lines bravely, which is the chief Shakespearean demand. Its second loss has been the degradation of psychological values, which particularly in "Hamlet" must be kept intelligible and pure.

Both of these achievements are to Kellerd's credit account in the balancing of books on his playing of the Dane. The Shakespearean periods rolled from his throat with a fine gusto. There was a distinct, sensuous pleasure in hearing them, such a pleasure as one has in listening to the polished harmonies of Saint-Saens. Yet they did more than fill the ear; they helped to fill that vacuum in the soul which the banalities of the bedroom plays, the flat chatter of vaudeville and the fortunate silence of the movies have failed to fill.

Then, too, it was the picture of a recognizable individual that Kellerd presented. The Hamlet opportunity is broad. The prince can be made quite outrageously mad or quite sardonically sane, but he may also be kept at an average human pitch, albeit sometimes distraught, sometimes perverse, sometimes unkind. It was this middle-of-the-road Hamlet that was given us. The artificiality of his antic disposition was never questioned. But likewise the vacillation that marred Hamlet as it mars thousands upon thousands of his fellows, that inability either to decide or to act upon a decision, governed the playing of the part from the walking of the ghost to the duel.

Now it takes a thorough-going consistency to do this, a consistency to be achieved only by the most thorough study, and the thoroughness of his study is, after all, the outstanding feature of Kellerd's playing. Genius he is not, not of the Booth type or the Irving or the Mansfield; but a student he very apparently is, every inch a student, and intelligence glitters across his playing like the morning sun across the dew.

With some two or three exceptions, certainly no more, the company which pretends to support Kellerd has no excuse in heaven or earth for attempting Shakespeare. John Macfarlane was an acceptable ghost, though it is a "trick" part that needs little beyond taking time and speaking low to be effective. Of some capability at speech and some understanding of team work, Harry Budd, who played Horatio, was evidently possessed. Miss Georgette du Parque as the Third Player was the only woman who evidenced an idea that this was tragedy and not tatting.

There were typical inadequacies. That the production was yet successful was due to the natural peculiarity of the "Hamlet" stage version that Hamlet is on-stage almost all of the time. It gave Kellerd chance to balance his associates' imperfections.

BOLSHEVISM IS SPREAD IN POLAND

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—By the Associated Press.)—The Vorwaerts says it has received information indicating that the Communistic movement is rapidly gaining strength among the wage earners of Poland. Lack of employment and shortage of food are stated to be the chief contributory causes. The food situation still continues serious, it is alleged, despite the supplies received from America.

According to the most recent figures, the number of unemployed in Warsaw is fully a hundred thousand. In Lodz and other large industrial centers it is reported that the ranks of the workers are constantly increasing.

The growth of communism has been greatly accelerated by the return of late of a number of Polish communist leaders from Moscow, who have proved very apt pupils of Russian methods.

The national council of Fiume, according to this newspaper, has officially notified the entente powers of the resolution passed October 30 claiming annexation to Italy, upon the principle of self-determination.

Christian Names of Children Are Barred by Reds

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 15.—(By the Associated Press).—Leaders of Russia's soviet government have banned the giving of Christian names to children, it is reported, because they are considered "reminiscent of the reactionary system." It is expected an order will be issued soon forbidding their use. Numbers are to be substituted. Thus three children of a family named Petkoff may in future be known as "Petkoff One, Two and Three," respectively.

BULGARIAN FLAG DRAPED IN BLACK

SOFIA, Bulgaria, by Courier to Paris, Oct. 8.—The Bulgarian peace delegates, headed by M. Todoroff, prime minister, arrived here today. They were met at the station by a delegation of peasants from the city of Czaribrod, whose leader carried the Bulgarian national colors draped in mourning. The peace delegates were dressed in deep black.

King Boris met the delegates near the Bulgarian border and accompanied them to the capital. The members of the party seemed to feel a sense of humiliation at having been kept under constant surveillance in Paris, but showed no disposition to be severe in their comment on their reception by the allies.

A proclamation was issued ordering all restaurants, cafes and places of amusement to close their doors at 9 p. m. and counseling the people to refrain from demonstrations against the peace terms.

Prussian Railways Looted by Thieves

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—Since the revolution Prussian State railways have suffered a loss of 110,000,000 marks through the depredations of thieves, whose operations ranged from passengers' baggage to every variety of freight. Before the war, it is stated, the losses caused by thieves averaged only 4,000,000 marks annually.

WATERFRONT LEASE STANDS; FIGHT FAILS

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Berkeley's waterfront lease stands today as an official act of the city.

Legal steps planned to hold up the leasing of the city's tidelands for fifty years to Rufus P. Jennings were defeated last night when initiative and referendum petitions being circulated throughout the city failed to materialize in the office of City Clerk A. G. Briggs.

The time limit for the filing of referendum petitions expired at 5 o'clock last night. Additional time is allowed under the law for initiative measures, but opponents of the lease admitted this morning that these petitions have been abandoned with the failure to secure sufficient names on the referendum.

LACK 100 NAMES

According to Miss M. A. Ross, attorney and leader in the referendum fight, the petitions lacked approximately 100 of the 908 necessary to place them on file.

Miss Ross places the failure of the referendum to lack of workers. "Had we had more workers we should have secured the necessary signatures as there was decided opposition against the lease," she declares. Associated with Miss Ross in her fight on the lease were Professor Stuart Daggett, Professor O. M. Washburn, C. M. Wilkinson and others.

That other steps may be taken to hold up the harbor project, was the intimation of Miss Ross, although just what action is contemplated she refused to state. "It is possible, however, that all opposition may be dropped," is the statement of the woman attorney. "If the lease is proven legally defective, however, we will immediately inaugurate a new initiative fight upon it."

OBJECTION TO LEASE

Failure of opponents of the lease to file petitions last night marks the climax of a heated controversy which has been raging in the college city the last few weeks. Lined on one side of the council as sponsors of the lease were Councilman Chas. D. Heywood, George Schmidt and E. T. Harms, with Mayor Louis Bartlett and Councilman Carl Bartlett as opponents of the Jennings project.

Objection to the lease was raised on the ground that its provisions did not legally protect the city and that the document was not binding to the lessee. Berkeley business men supported the majority of the council in its stand that the document was legal in every clause and raised funds to fight the referendum movement. Resolutions endorsing the lease were adopted in the past few weeks by practically every large civic or commercial body in the city.

HAIG CAN'T HAVE DEMERSYDE TITLE

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Field Marshal Lord Haig does not after all become "Earl Haig of Bemersyde," as he had wished, but "Earl Haig of Kingston," is announced. His residence being at Coombe, there were objections, it is understood, to the territorial designation of Bemersyde, the Tweedside seat of the head of his family and remote kinsman, Colonel A. H. Haig.

There were well defined rules as to the assumption of territorial titles, and the lord of a manor can object to a new peer taking his title from a place over which the former has "rights." Lord Fisher, for example, wished to be Lord Thetford, but his Norfolk Manor belonged to W. D. Mackenzie. Lord Strathcona wanted to be Lord Glencoe, but the rights of the ancient Macdonalds stood in the way.

CANTIGNY PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO DOUGHBOYS

CANTIGNY, France, Nov. 4.—This village, where the American troops first "went over the top" in earnest after the Germans, the first of the many towns and villages the American army liberated for France, will soon have a new church on the front of which will appear the inscription "Gift of the American People."

Until it is possible to restore the old stone edifice, the church will be located in one of the American Red Cross huts. The first ceremony to be celebrated there will be the marriage of the daughter of the mayor of Cantigny.

Man Who Fled in Theft Charge, Found

VALLEJO, Nov. 4.—George Connors, third alleged member of an alleged tire-thieving ring that has been operating in Sonoma county, was captured at his home at 3 o'clock this morning. Last week he escaped from a ship at the navy yard after a marine had been sent to get him.

Under arrest now are Connors, who is a machinist; E. E. Slatter, a sailor, and Thomas Sisto, a chauffeur. Connors' escape was sensational. After he had been summoned on deck, he asked permission to go below and get some effects. He did so and disappeared.

GYPSY AND GENTILE ROMANCES WOVEN IN "THE LIFE LINE"

PAULINE STARKE frees the trapped rabbit for Jack Holt's dinner in "The Life Line" at the Kinema today.

Two love stories side by side are developed in "The Life Line," Maurice Tourneur's dramatic picturization of the famous English melodrama "Romany Rye," at the Kinema today.

One is the story of Lura—an impulsive Gypsy girl, courageous, reckless, who loves the master of Craggsnest, a country gentleman who did not know that "Honor" was inscribed on his family crest.

The other is the story of Ruth Heckett, London bred, who found that the world outside of her grey corner in the big city was very friendly and beautiful. From across the daisy covered hills of Devonshire she watched the Gypsy band come, not knowing that it was bringing her the man that would take her forever from the grey city.

The Kinema orchestra will provide the musical background for the picture. Holly Leslie, the Australian basso, will sing a group of sailor songs.

Elsie Ferguson in her latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Witness for the Defense," with Vernon Steel, Wyndham Standing, and Warner Oland is playing at the Franklin Theater today.—Advertisement.

Vamp of Ancient Times to Live Again in Oakland for Two Days

Love scene in the first Cronyn play to be produced on the Pacific Coast. The characters are Circe, vampire of ancient Greece, played by Miss Florence Cox, and Odysseus, taken by John Barrier.

"Circe's Isle," a comedy, in which Circe, the sorceress of ancient Greek fame, becomes the modern vamp, will be given two presentations by the Golden Gate players in the Technical high school theater, Thursday and Friday evenings, November [illegible].

The play was written by George W. Cronyn, English instructor in the Technical high school, who is also directing it. This presentation is significant in that it is the first of Cronyn's plays to be produced on this coast and is also the beginning of a little theater movement in Oakland. "Circe's Isle" will be played in New York this winter by the Provincetown players.

Cronyn, poet, painter and dramatist, has been identified with the little theater movement in America for some years and two of his plays, "The Greaser" and "The Sandbar Queen," have been produced in the east.

A CLASSICAL COMEDY.

The play is a comedy along classical lines. It is laidin the Homeric period. It will be presented by a talented cast, the majority of whom are Tech students and alumni.

The scene is placed on the island of the enchantress Circe. The play concerns the experience of Odysseus, the hero of the Trojan war, on the isle and the unsuccessful attempt of Circe to change him into bestial form as she has done all the other visitors. The conclusion is quite different from that given by Homer and leads to a highly comic denoument. There are twenty-nine in the cast. The part of Circe is played by Miss Florence Cox; that of Odysseus by John Barrier, and Penelope is taken by May Larkin Marston.

The others in the cast are:

Homer ..... Lee C Melboan
Eurylochus.....William Jacks
Phrenos ..... Robert Norman
Antigone ..... Millie Tremp
Cassandra .....Maree Pohlee
Wives—Viola Hanson, Laura Henderson, Gertrude Varley, Isabelle Hill.
Sailors—William DePuy, Clinton Davison, W. A. Hewitt, Bernard Walsh, Harry Mh, Austin Little.

One of the new things in modernized version of Circe is a highly musical variety of howls and yelps. This "howling chorus" is furnished by eight people impersonating goats, bears and lions. "It may not seem possible for yelps and howls to be musical," said Cronyn laughingly, "however, the chorus will be an example of a difficult are and highly musical."

Besides this animal chorus there are to be many other entertaining features.

The songs and incidental music for the play were composed by Miss Angela Pingatore, a former student prominent in school musical circles. Miss Pingatore established her reputation as "Katisha" in the presentation of "The Mikado" given by the school in 1918.

Tzchekow's "Bear" will be the next offering of the Community Players of the Technical high school. Under the guidance of Helen La Baree Crandall, director of dramatics in the school, the Community Players have presented a number of short plays, sufficient to equip their little theater. The company has presented a number of its plays for the entertainment of the city's charges in the orphans' and old ladies' homes of the city.

CITY EXPENSE CUT $50,000 PRESENT YEAR

SAN JOSE, Nov. 1—The government of the city of San Jose at the present ratio of expenditure, will cost $50,000 less during the year of 1918-1919 than for the year of 1917-1918, stated Dr. W. C. Bailey, city manager, during the course of a discussion of city finances at the meeting of the council last evening.

The cost for 1915-16, he stated, was $[illegible]; for 17-18, $380,000. Councilman E. R. Shaw remarked that this saving did not take into consideration the decreased purchasing value of the dollar.

Councilman Shaw reported last evening on some of the activities of the sessions of the league of California Municipalities. The league, he stated, seemed to be in favor of municipal ownership of public utilities, such as city-owned water, electric and gas works.

Shaw remarked that one of the first things that attracted his attention in Los Angeles was the publication of a new licensing ordinance which brought in a large revenue from business and professional men in Los Angeles. He sent a copy of the law to City Manager Bailey.

Councilman Shaw also investigated the public camping grounds between San Jose and Los Angeles and stated that none of them with the exception of the Fresno site, would be suitable in solving local problems. "We ought to figure on a reasonably small fee for automobile camping grounds in San Jose," he said. "If a fee were paid we could put in a man to take care of the grounds and lay out the camping spaces. He would keep it clean and have it ideal in every way. The autoists would then have a sanitary and wholesome place to go and it could be done by each autoist paying about 25 cents a day for each day he is on the grounds. If we have the place well kept we will attract the right kind of people and they will travel many miles to the kind of park we will have.

At the request of Councilman Shaw the city attorney was instructed to report as to whether there was not an ordinance governing the opening of cellar doors on the sidewalks in the business part of town. The need of such an ordinance was called to his attention, he said, when doors flush with the sidewalk started upward under the feet of a pedestrian. The man was thrown off his feet to the pavement.

The sentiment of the council was that such doors should not be opened unless people who might be passing are warned.

F. E. Chapin, manager of the Peninsular Electric company, has put in a requisition with his company for the repaving of Market street from the postoffice to Park avenue, stated City Manager Bailey, when the matter of the deterioration of certain paved streets was brought up for discussion.

Dr. Bailey reported that he had attended the meeting of mayors and [illegible] in this state and that the sentiment of the meeting was in favor of the curtailment of exports from this country as one means of controlling prices.

LIQUOR EXPORT TRADE TAKES GREAT JUMP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Radical changes in the foreign trade of the United States in spirits, wines and liquors due to national prohibition legislation are reported by the department of commerce.

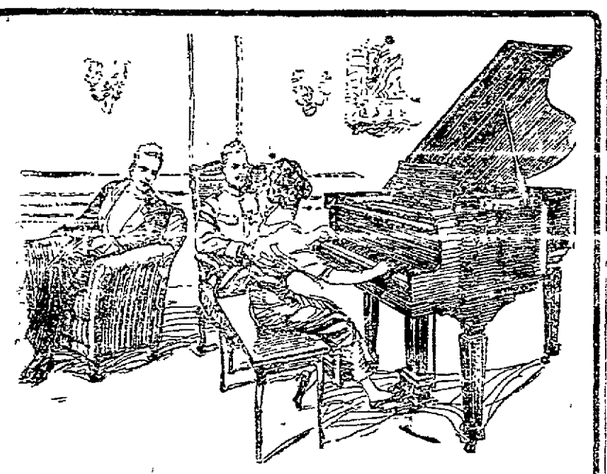

For the eight months ending with August, 1919, the value of liquors exported was nineteen times as great as the imports, while in the year 1914 the value of the imports was five times the value of the exports. Intoxicating liquors imported during the first eight months of the present year totalled $516,214 in value, or at the rate of $774,324 for the complete year, while in 1917 the import trade of the United States in this commodity amounted to $17,679,132 and in 1914 to $20,-[illegible].

Exports for the eight months ending with August amounted to $9,989,038 as compared with $5,-883,013 for the corresponding period in 1918 and $8,417,178 in 1917. Continuation of this export trade is expected by the department in view of the great quantities of liquors now in bond distilleries and customs warehouses.

STATUE ON PEAK HONORS GUIDE

BERNE, Nov. 4.—Unusual religious ceremony was performed yesterday in the shadow of Mont Blanc. The Abbe Coutin, accompanied by five Chamonix guides, carried to the top of Charlet Peak, an altitude of 12,240 feet, an aluminum statue four feet high and weighing thirty pounds. The summit of the peak was reached after a seven-hour climb; the Chamonix aiguille is one of the most difficult peaks of the Mont Blanc range to ascend.

The Abbe blessed the statue after it was erected and pronounced a short oration. The statue is of the guide Charlet, after whom the peak is named, and who was the first to conquer it in 1879. Charlet is now 82 years of age.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1919.

NO DANGER, NO ALARM.

Now that the amendment to "equalize the voting power" of the United States in the League of Nations has failed in the Senate the country shows not the slightest indication of fear that it has been placed in the dangerous position which antagonists of the peace treaty pictured. As a matter of fact there is no cause that the serenity of the American people should be at all disturbed.

The effort to modify the treaty so that it would be specifically stated that the United States should have as many votes in the league assembly as England and the self-governing British dominions was based on a false premise and foredoomed to failure. Great Britain is not given any more authority in the League of Nations than any other government, a fact which accounts for the absence in France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and all the neutrals who have signified their intention to join the league of any excited discussion such as disturbed the United States.

After all the arguments and interpretations, specious and otherwise, have been set down, the fact remains that in all cases in which unanimous approval of the council of the league is not required action in the assembly must be unanimous, and wherein a decision in the assembly may be recorded by a majority or two-thirds vote it must be unanimously approved by the council. It follows unquestionably, therefore, that each member nation of the council has as much influence as regards voting strength as any other nation. Each nation represented on the council has as much power as any other nation, regardless of the number of votes that may be friendly to another nation in the assembly—and this applies even to the matter of electing new members to the council.

There is no gainsaying the assertion that under the rule of unanimity, the one vote of the United States, France, Italy and Japan are each just as effective as the six votes of Great Britain and the British dominions.

But there is another fact which both opponents and advocates of the League of Nations have omitted to mention. Not only does the one vote of the United States equal in effect the six British votes, but the United States will come nearer to controlling six votes in the assembly than Great Britain. Among the nations signatory to the peace treaty, and which are thereby original members of the League of Nations, are Cuba, Panama, Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Nicaragua. Over each of these republics the United States virtually exercises a protectorate. In the event "inside politics" are ever waged in the League of Nations these five nations would be more likely to stand by the side of the United States than Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand to side with Great Britain. At any rate the United States has a larger influence in their political activities than Britain has over her dominions.

The opponents of the treaty have not referred to this for obvious reasons—it demolishes their fanciful grievance. The advocates of the league have not mentioned it because to do so emphasizes a truth which is considered bad taste to talk about in the American family of nations. But it is the truth.

So far as the voting privileges and their influence are considered the United States is taking no serious chance in entering the League of Nations. No one knows this better than the German sympathizers and the England baiters.

Fuel oil is now selling at $1.23 per barrel to the producer at the well and $1.63 at tidewater at Los Angeles and San Francisco. Yet the Secretary of the Navy has set an arbitrary price of $1.11 per barrel for the oil which the naval stations require. He has served notice upon California oil producers that they must deliver the oil required at this price or their plants will be seized and the oil taken by force. Mr. Daniels derives his power to make this threat, and perhaps to carry it out, from the fact that the nation is still technically at war, the peace treaty not having been ratified, which permits him to maintain the fiction that a great emergency exists justifying the conscription of fuel oil. Perhaps he is right in his purpose and methods, though both will be seriously questioned by many persons. But if he is right, the market price for fuel oil is wrong and it ought to be made right by some process. The price of oil furnished the private consumer ought to be the same, making due allowances for bulk sales, as is charged the navy. But it cannot readily be assumed that the whim or fancy of the Secretary of the Navy is the infallible gauge of the correct price for fuel oil.

NEW METHODS IN CLOTHMAKING.

An Australian of Melbourne is reported to have discovered a method of utilizing the bark of a large variety of eucalyptus trees for the making a fibre suitable for the manufacture of twine rope and bagging of equal quality to and at half the cost of the best flax and India jute goods. According to a bulletin of the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce, the inventor of the process has been experimenting with the bark for fifteen years and now has available for inspection samples of twine, binder twine, light and heavy rope and bagging from which bags for onions, potatoes, wheat and wool can be made.

So far as can be ascertained, the bulletin continues, the bark is first passed through a "softening" machine, which loosens out the fibers, and then through carding and spinning machines which have been adapted to the purpose. It is claimed that in the process the three main essentials in fiber production—staple of good length, a strong and durable product, and low cost of manufacture—have been fully complied with and demonstrated by the samples produced. If the claims as to low cost of production, quality, and utility of the articles made from this bark can be substantiated on a large scale of manufacture, the commercial possibilities of the industry would be very great. The supply of raw material is practically inexhaustible and can be had for the mere cost of gathering and transportation to factory.

Not long ago an article was published in an eastern trade journal to the effect that American cloth manufacturers had discovered a method of making silk out of wood pulp. Briefly, it is claimed that a process has been worked out by which the agency of the silkworm can be dispensed with. Much of the mechanically made silk is said to have been placed on the market, both in the "raw" state and in manufactured articles of clothing.

It is still remembered that the Germans caused much comment during the war by their use of paper as a substitute for cotton and woolen fabrics in clothing. This was not an unqualified success, for the paper clothing did not stand the wear of cotton and wool fabrics, and it suffered particularly by the usual laundering processes. But it has also been argued that the German chemists tried too short a cut in finding a substitute for cotton and wool. They utilized paper first, when they might have worked with much more success had they tried to make a fiber out of wood pulp or grass, weeds and cereal stocks.

Thus appears many indications that human ingenuity and science are about to discover more simple methods of converting raw materials into finished products. The prospect of eliminating the silk worm in the production of silk and sheep in the production of woolen clothing is not merely a dream. It is a possibility, however remote. The reported Australian experiment with eucalyptus should especially interest the grain growers of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain States, where sacking of wheat in the field is a considerable cost problem. A fifty percent cut in the cost of twine and jute bags would be much appreciated.

Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the new British foreign minister, did not require his latest appointment to complete a distinguished career. But it rounds out a period of official service which few Britishers have excelled. Lord Curzon's most important post prior to the war was that of Viceroy of India, a billet which, it is reported, gratified an ambition formed in his student days at Oxford. His friends say he was the greatest viceroy India ever had, but there are critics, of course, who dispute this. During the war he was a member of the coalition cabinet and one of the strongest aides of Lloyd George. Now he takes charge of the department of foreign affairs of the British government, a position apparently still destined to be one of the most influential in world affairs. Curzon's honors and great success have come mainly as the reward of industry and severe application to the work in hand, a trait that he displayed at Oxford where he won honors that gave him the coveted position in the world of letters of president of the Oxford Union. Through his American wife, the former Daisy Leiter (now deceased), he enjoys a wide acquaintance in this country, which lends interest to his assumption of his new office.

Every time a despatch appears to the effect that France has shot a traitor one is forced to wonder what kind of creatures the American government calls conscientious objectors and pays them for their time in prison while American soldiers were fighting the Hun. But we have ignored many valuable lessons of the war.

San Francisco boasts of an airplane police patrol. A still more acute need is a police court that will [illegible] enforcement of the law by imposing the penalties prescribed by law. It is not the things that may be seen or carried in an airplane that hamper police efficiency.

NOTES and COMMENT

The conspicuous signs in the Southern Pacific "dinky" cars which recite that "in the interest of 'safety first' the motorman is prohibited from talking while on duty—our patrons will please refrain from asking him questions," is put there as a mere pleasantry. All who have observed the conservaziones carried on by passengers on either side with the motorman, often characterized by much hilarity, will understand this perfectly.

Generally, and indeed, well nigh universally heretofore, the poet's truculence has found escape in verse, but in d'Annunzio we have a new type. His capture and persistence in holding Fiume discloses a versifier of action as well as of words. Incidentally he is becoming something of a problem to the Italian government.

Americans will read with becoming national emotion that a deputation of the women of France, representing the society known as "The French Idea Abroad," placed a bronze palm on the grave of Quentin Roosevelt last Sunday, the first All-Saints' Day since the signing of the armistice.

Civilized and enlightened Americans have not yet learned fully that eleventh-hour campaign attacks never avail against a candidate. The practice is not as general as it was formerly, but recent tactics near by demonstrate that it still lingers.

The theft of fourteen barrels of liquor, in bond, somewhere between Kentucky and San Francisco, is a notable achievement. That loot in barrels could be got away with under any circumstances is unusual, but that it could be removed from the government's custody is a real star performance.

It would seem that public sentiment is much the same all over the country about police unions affiliating with the American Federation of Labor. The first to thus affiliate was that of Knoxville, Tennessee, which has just surrendered its charter. It is not logical that the protectors of a city should owe allegiance to authority entirely removed from it, and liable to be swayed by influences in which it has no concern.

It does not seem to have been settled with the definiteness of a jury's decision in court whether Jenkins' abduction by Mexican bandits was a frame-up or not, but it is very difficult to figure out the idea if it was.

Something not at all unwholesome is very likely to come out of the strike epidemic. It is being demonstrated that in a majority of instances strikes are induced and fostered largely by foreign agitators. Laws for their deportation and to rigidly prevent the entrance of others are already under way.

The Los Banos Enterprise makes a correction: "Mrs. Mary Williams, widow of the late Jos. L. Williams, was in town from Visalia the first of the week visiting with friends. She states that the Enterprise story of the inquest held over the body of her late husband made her say her husband had been kicked by a cow, thus causing his death. She states that she was in Visalia at the time of the accident which resulted in her husband's death, and that she testified that she had heard from a friend that the cause of the injury was as stated above."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

There is a "human fly" in Oakland, a woman who makes some practical use of her ability to go to the top. She paints towers, spires, smokestacks and the like. Her husband was a steeplejack and when he went to war she took up his work to earn bread. She learned to like the "higher life" so well that when he came back she went into business with him. If the high cost of painting continues, some of the best of us will be doing a human fly stunt the next time the house needs painting.—Stockton Record.

Dr. David Starr Jordan says the peace treaty raises the value of human life. The wording of the league document is of little importance. If we send a man such as Hoover, for instance, as the American delegate to the league, America will control the world, no matter how the votes are distributed. America represented by a delegate imbued with American idealism and common sense, in which quality he is supreme, will control the earth, for he will have the idealism of all the world to which to appeal.—Woodland Democrat.

Serious trouble developed from the work of boy mischief makers last night when a red lantern taken away from a danger place where the city is doing construction work was left on the track of the Southern Pacific near the freight shed. Seeing the lantern on the track, and taking its presence to indicate an impassable road, three important trains were held up with serious inconvenience to passengers and havoc to railroad schedules resulting. — Palo Alto Times.

"SPREAD OUT" ADVICE

"How are the evils that go with city crowding to be avoided in the face of the increasing congestion of American cities?"

This, says a bulletin from the National Geographic society, is one of the major civic questions of the time, and it will become even more apparent when house hunting begins in the fall.

One answer to the question, the bulletin states, is given in a communication from Charles [illegible], who is quoted as follows:

"In order to cure the destructive evils of present urban life and the factory system, it will not be enough to restrict the vices, to diminish the pressure of poverty, to prevent destructive diseases, and prolong the average human life. The human environment must be not only negatively but positively improved, so that the whole people may have the opportunity to cultivate healthy tastes and interests, to acquire just ideals of pleasantness and beauty, and to learn the value toward tranquil happiness of that living with nature which city congestion has within a single generation made almost impossible for multitudes.

"While the exclusion of bad influences needs to be unremitting, the good influences—fortunately for crowded urban populations—need not all be incessantly in action. An occasional holiday in a city park or garden, a week-end in the country now and then, or a fortnight's vacation in summer may make deep and lasting mental impressions, and supply both children and adults with wholesome material to fill the mind and direct its energies for months and years.

"Hence the importance of better city and suburban planning, of public reservations of all sorts in city and state, and of national parks and monuments. All these modes of public action tell not only on the physical well-being of both urban and rural populations, but on the mental training of children and on [illegible] whole people [illegible] tion of thoroughly healthy spiritual interests and uplifting enjoyments, both individual and social.

"The present evils of city life and the factory system—bad conditions which civilization has itself created—have developed their destructive forces in this country in spite of the schools and churches and of free [illegible] institutions, and in spite of many happy influences from art, poetry, music and the drama. Clearly, society needs to develop a new and better environment for the general life—an environment favorable to both bodily and mental health and to the attainment of genuine happiness—not of mere momentary excitements, pleasures and gratifications, but of solid contentment, and the lasting satisfactions of life enjoyed in quietness and peace. What are the means of compassing this end?

"The readiest means is good planning of city, town and landscape—first applied to areas still open, and then gradually to areas already occupied in undesirable ways. The new planning must take into account the interests of the whole community, as well as the interests of individual owners, the social or collective interest always prevailing.

"The immediate objects to be sought are more light and air for dwellings, offices, shops and factories, [illegible] the spreading out of cities, the transfer of factories to suburbs and to country sites along the lines of railway, the multiplication of playgrounds and open decorated areas, and above all the attachment of a piece of arable or garden ground to every family dwelling.

"The collective force of the community must further supply the means of making rural and landscape pleasures occasionally accessible to city populations by means of parks and gardens which illustrate all forms of open country beauty and permit the occasional enjoyment by city families or larger urban groups of the outdoor pleasures which woods, shrubberies, gardens and broad fields can give. All city dwellers greatly need these occasional delights, and Americans more than any other people; for they have become accustomed to an indoor life, and have come to rely on electricity for sunlight, and mechanical ventilation as an equivalent for fresh air."

JOHNNY APPLESEED.

A modern Johnny Appleseed is now going up and down the country urging the planting of trees. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, hammers day and night on the need of a national forest policy. He has called on the timberland owners and the foresters to get together on a fire protection policy as the first step.

This modern Johnny Appleseed is reaching thousands where the Johnny Appleseed of legend, who marched from town to town, and planted as he went, reached only the few. Memorial Trees, Roads of Remembrance, Victory Drives, all planted with trees in honor of the men who offered their lives to their country, have met with a remarkable response. Women's clubs, churches, Rotary clubs, Kiwanis clubs and patriotic organizations, to say nothing of individuals, are planting trees in rows, groups and groves.

With thousands more interested in trees, thousands more will be interested in the whys and wherefores of a national forest policy.—Lynn Item.

FATE OF A SAMARITAN.

"During the State fair," remarked the man about town, "I was riding north on a High street car. Yes, it was crowded. As we approached the Union station a gaunt youth, with shoe-top trousers, green suit, red necktie and unrazored lips, leaned over, as we stood together in the front vestibule, and asked me if that place up yonder might be the depot. I assured him that it was, wondering to myself if he would be able to get through the mob at the station without having his pocket picked.

"A moment later the youngster, whose innocence had so impressed me, explained that he was looking for a friend from Greenfield on the 11:40 train. 'We've come over to take in the cattle show at the fair grounds,' he added.

"I prided myself on directing him carefully as he got off the car, but worried, nevertheless, when I thought what an easy mark he would make for a 'sharper.'

"Instinctively I felt for my own purse, and—it was gone.—Columbus Dispatch.

THE PUBLIC WAKING UP.

A very large percentage of the population of this country are neither trouble-seekers nor trouble-makers. They mind their own business so effectively that their existence is easily lost sight of. They are not seeking undue wealth through selfishness and rapaciousness; they are not seeking undue power through organization and threats. They are pursuing happiness in their own way, without clamor and without intrusion, attending to their own business and minding it. They are the general public.

Because this large percentage of the population is attending to its own business so quietly and continuously, those who have special axes to grind—or whatever character—have paid no attention to them, have on many occasions ignored them, and have even flouted them by acts which caused discomfort, injury and loss. The general public seem to be viewed as an intangible, inarticulate and inanimate thing by the axe-grinders.

This procedure has been going on for a long while, steadily increasing in arbitrariness. The general public have continued their placid way, good-natured and self-restrained, but they have been doing much thinking. The time is soon coming when they will put their conclusions into deeds, and when this takes place, something, a whole lot of things, will give way. A steady fire [illegible] make lukewarm water boil and transform a harmless fluid into a dangerous vapor.

The forces, under any name you will, that have been heating the general public to the boiling point should mark time and take heed. An explosion is about due, and the general public will be on the spot when it is over.—Three Partners.

SECRET BRIDE CRITICIZED BY U.C. 'FRIENDS'

Alpha Gamma Delta Members Repudiate Mrs. Mileham; Honorable Marriage Held by Them to Be No Disgrace

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Esther Diggles Mileham, pretty co-ed bride of Horace Mileham, hero of the Argonne, sought to defend the "honor" of her sorority by denying the fact that she had become a secret bride.

Today members of Mrs. Mileham's sorority, the Alpha Gamma Delta, repudiate her. They refuse to accept the sacrifice in the spirit in which it was offered. An honorable marriage, they hold, is no disgrace.

Today this formal statement of repudiation was given out by the sorority.

"The members of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority repudiate the actions of Esther Diggles Mileham in denying her marriage to Horace Mileham. The sorority as a whole has no knowledge of her whereabouts and has had and assumes no responsibility for her conduct."

MEETINGS ARE SECRET.

A special meeting of the sorority to consider the dropping of Mrs. Mileham's name from the membership roll is rumored for later in the week, but members of the society refuse to discuss this phase of the organization's actions, declaring that all such gatherings are strictly secret.

Meanwhile Mrs. Mileham is declared to be in seclusion in Tuolomne with Miss Fern Palmer, a sorority sister, who has filled the role of adviser to her since the former's husband attempted suicide in Moscow, Idaho. With Mrs. Mileham, Miss Palmer has steadfastly denied the fact of the secret marriage and has reiterated the former's statements that she had ever heard of the soldier who lies in a critical condition on a hospital cot. Despite this fact Miss Palmer has been identified as a companion of Mrs. Mileham on a visit to the University hotel, 2059 University avenue, where Mileham was a guest during his visit to this city on an unsuccessful mission to have his bride return east with him.

No word of her niece's whereabouts has reached Mrs. R. N. Diggles, 2544 Etna street, to whose home Miss Diggles fled after her name came into prominence in association with the attempted suicide of Mileham.

"Any word I have had of my niece comes from outside sources," declares Mrs. Diggles. "I know nothing of her plans, whatever."

"SILLY STAND" TAKEN.

It was Mrs. Diggles who gave the first confirmation of her niece's marriage and repudiated the attitude of her own relative in falsifying for the sake of her sorority.

"My niece was advised to protect herself, but she failed to heed the words of her relatives," says Mrs. Diggles. "Her sorority now repudiates her and she stands practically alone in the silly stand she has taken. She has been influenced by persons who have shown no knowledge of what it was best for her to do."

Campus agitation over the plight of the attractive young co-ed was heightened today with an attack on the Daily Californian, the college daily, for publishing a story of the Diggles-Mileham near-tragic romance. Resentment of the use of the name of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority was voiced by the protestant in an unsigned communication sent to the college paper. The campus publication was accused of "lowering its plane" in publishing the story in question and of resorting to "gossip" to fill its news columns.

George Tenney, editor of The Californian, answers the attack in a heated editorial by declaring that only the mere facts of the case from a news standpoint were compiled for campus readers. He refuses to apologize for the alleged "attack" on the sorority.

Husband Says His Wife "Swatted" Him

Ryan further states his wife often [illegible] and with such husband-swatters as she could lay her hand to. Mrs. Ryan's charges, under the head of cruelty, include flirting with and infatuation for a married woman, telling her he no longer loved her or cared for his home, and bidding her leave it and take their young child with her.

VELVET GOWNS, DRESS SUITS THIEF'S LOOT

Burglar Surprised While Looting Home of Dr. Schloss Escapes With Clothing, but Leaves Silverware Behind

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Dr. Aaron Schloss returned to his home at 3209 Claremont avenue Sunday night about midnight in time to interrupt a burglar in the act of ransacking the house. The burglar was frightened away but several hundred dollars' worth of clothing was taken.

When Dr. Schloss drove up he noticed a light in an upper room. Mrs. Schloss, who is head of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, is in the southern part of the state in connection with club matters and no other member of the family was home. Dr. Schloss, therefore, suspected an intruder and immediately went to a neighbor's house and phoned the police. Before their arrival the burglar had departed.

Entering the house the owner found that the rooms had been turned topsy turvy, drawers pulled out and the contents scattered about the floor. The closets were likewise looted and many articles of clothing were missing. Among the most valuable were a number of gowns and fur pieces and other valuables belonging to Mrs. Schloss, as follows:

One brocaded evening gown, value $150; one blue brocaded afternoon gown, $100; one seal neck piece, $150; one hand bag, $50; one suitcase, $15.

Dr. Schloss lost the following articles:

One tuxedo suit, $90; one blue business suit, $75; two fancy vests, each, $15; four pair wool sox, $3; one pair small binoculars, $25.

Dr. Schloss says there are a number of other articles of wearing apparel belonging to Mrs. Schloss missing, but which he cannot enumerate.

The thief had collected a large quantity of silverware, tearing open a cushion cover and stuffing the wares inside. With them on the floor was a small typewriter and a number of vases and other articles of value. It is believed the timely arrival of the owner prevented their being taken away with the other articles missing. Entrance to the house was effected by way of a rear window.

HOUSE CANVASS RED CROSS PLAN

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Have you a heart and a dollar?

Then it's all you need, declare the officials of the Berkeley Chapter of the American Red Cross to enroll the college city a 100 per cent membership in the league of the "Greatest Mother of the World."

Tomorrow a house to house canvass will be inaugurated in Berkeley in the interests of the roll call.

The Mobilized Women, under the leadership of Mrs. Lewis A. Hicks, will handle the home campaign. The drive was opened by the Boy Scouts, who have canvassed both train stations and ferryboats among the commuters.

A thorough canvass of the West Berkeley factories has been promised by S. Hall Bither, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of Berkeley. The campaign on the university campus is being handled by a committee of the student body.

"Berkeley has never fallen down in any drive yet," said Rev. W. R. H. Hodgkin, chairman of the chapter, today. "We are confident that the showing made in the third roll call will eclipse even the membership total achieved during the war."

SUGAR PROFITEERS INDICTED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Three alleged sugar profiteers were indicted by the federal grand jury here. Julius and George Ruth, commission man, and Jacob Lorner, all East Side merchants, were the men accused.

COAST VICTOR IN FIGHT FOR MARINE BOARD

House Agrees to Keep Control of Water Carriers from Inter-State Commerce Commission; New Laws Proposed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — The house interstate commerce committee had decided tentatively today not to include legislation regulating water carriers in the railroad bill.

The Esch-Pomerene bill places the water carriers under the interstate commerce commission, to which the Pacific coastwise shipping interests objected.

On motion of Representative Simms, Tennessee, the committee struck these provisions from the bill, with the understanding that the watercarriers shall be controlled by a special marine commission to be created by later legislation. Representative Esch, Wisconsin, who favors interstate commerce regulation, will seek to have the committee reinsert the provisions.

The Pacific coast has directed an effective barrage against the opponents of the provision to place coastwise shipping under the interstate commerce commission. The coast shiping men claimed such action would result in "virtual destruction of all coastwise shipping enterprise." The coast apparently has won its fight.

AGED MAN DIES IN DAIRY BARN

The body of an unidentified, aged man, of intelligent appearance, lies at the morgue today and police inspectors are investigating the man's antecedents and strange circumstances surrounding his death in an old barn at the dairy farm of George Ponak, 1031 Ninety-eighth avenue, last evening.

The man, gray-haired and apparently between 60 and 65 years old, was not the ordinary type of hobo, though he was equipped with a blanket and camping utensils. He seemed to have more of the average intelligence of the general wayfarer, according to Mrs. Ponak, who talked with the stranger before he was found dead in the Ponak barn.

The "mystery man" appeared at Ponak's place late yesterday afternoon. He asked to be allowed to sleep in the Ponak barn. Permission was granted and nothing was seen of the stranger, until several hours later he came out to a water trough to get a drink. He complained of not feeling well and stated he would go to a hospital later.

Last night when the stranger did not reappear, Ponak investigated and discovered the lifeless body in a pile of hay, close by the barn door. The man had apparently crawled and struggled to get to the door and call for assistance to the house.

Government Aid To Mothers Given Workers' Approval

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Legislation extending financial assistance to mothers and exempting them from labor for a period of six weeks before and after childbirth was indorsed today by the International Congress of Working Women.

Suggestions by the French delegation that maternity benefits be extended to all women brought quick disapproval from most of the other representatives, especially those from Italy. An American delegate said the French position was based on the fact that there was a very low birth rate in that country, while that of the Italian representative resulted from the high birth rate in Italy.

ACCUSED SAILOR TELLS OF ATTACK

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Miss Geraldine M. Wayland, 1533 Henry street, is convalescing in a San Francisco hospital from shock and injury received Sunday evening when, according to police report, she was struck by an intoxicated service man as she walked along the great highway with her brother, Clarke Wayland.

John J. Chudzinski, a sailor, corroberates the story of the encounter as given by the victim and her brother. He appeared before Police Judge Sullivan on a charge of battery, at which time he gave his version of the incident.

"I never saw the girl before," Chudzinski said at the city prison yesterday, "and I don't know much about the row. Another sailor and I were walking along the road. We both had been drinking. When he saw a girl and fellow approaching he said: 'I'm going to say hello to this girl,' and before I could stop him he did. An argument followed and then a fight. I tried to pull my friend away. The next thing I knew, I was in the arms of a policeman, my friend was gone and so was the girl and her escort."

Miss Wayland announced her engagement recently to John P. White, a naval man. Last March Miss Wayland came into public view when O. E. Roodhouse, a mining engineer, and a married man, committed suicide because he could not wed her.

SHOOTS SELF AFTER WIFE LEAVES HIM

Albany Man Ends Life, Leaving Note to Wife and Daughter, Saying He Desired to End Their Worry Due to Him

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—"It's all my fault. I'm sorry to leave you both, but it is best. I can't stay here any longer to cause you more trouble."

Leaving this note to his wife and 14-year-old daughter, H. C. Brott, 40 years old, solicitor for Oakland Baking Company, shot himself in the heart Sunday morning at his home, 816 Ramona avenue.

Brott's body was discovered this morning after neighbors had become alarmed at failing to see him about his home. He was partially dressed and lying on a couch in the living room of the home, a revolver by his side. On a table was a note addressed to his wife and daughter written on a piece of wrapping paper. According to Mrs. H. W. Porter, neighbors of the Brotts, she heard a shot Sunday morning in the Brott home, but paid no further attention to it until her fears were aroused by the failure of Brott to make his appearance about his residence.

Mrs. Brott and her daughter, Dorothy, had left their Albany home Saturday night for San Jose following a quarrel over Brott's habits. It is declared by neighbors that Brott's drinking had caused Mrs. Brott to leave him and that the latter became despondent when deserted by his wife and daughter.

Mrs. Brott has been notified of her husband's death and is en route to this city to take charge of the funeral arrangements.

Fire Prevention Lesson Is Given to Tommy Dykes

Traffic pulled into the curb, a swirl of dust arose on the streets and the loud, clamorous din of fire apparatus sirens and bells rang out. All because little Tommy Dykes at 1425 Eighty-sixth avenue, tried to make a bon fire of bedding inside his mother's house.

The fire fighters arrived in time to check the blaze. Little Tommy crouched in a corner of the yard seeing with saucer eyes, the excitement he had caused, and getting his first lesson in fire prevention.

EX-STANFORD TEACHER TRIES TO KILL SELF

Gomes is unconscious at St. John's Hospital. Authorities say he will die. Gomes has not recovered from injuries received in France, and friends believe this to be the cause of his attempt on his life.

Lucrezia Bori on BEAUTY

The expression "beauty sleep," is sometimes accepted as a joke, but beauty sleep is very necessary to the woman who would keep her beauty at its highest point. The hours before midnight are said to be the hours for beauty sleep, but next to this eight hours of good, sound sleep with your windows wide open constitute a beauty sleep.

LUCREZIA BORI

Too much sleep is fattening. The body tears down tissue when awake and rebuilds it when asleep. Thin, nervous, energetic women shoud seek more sleep, while those whose tendency is toward an over-fulness of form should sleep less. Both classes of physique need plenty of exercise, the former to build up muscle and fatigue the physical body, thus inducing sound sleep —the latter to consume fatty tissues.

Women are said to require more sleep than men because most women are muscularly undeveloped, and require more sleep because they're nervously more highly organized.

EIGHT HOURS STANDARD.

Eight hours is usually given as the proper amount of time for sleeping. An hour more may be required by the young girl, and an hour less by the elderly woman. Every woman should strive to sleep enough to give her a rested feeling and to produce a clear look in her eyes and freshness in her face.

Sleeping a short time in the middle of the day is justified for those whose work is exhausting. Many a busy woman has greatly improved her beauty by this method. There are, however, few women who can spare the time to nap in the afternoon.

Mere napping for those who already have too much rest and luxury is suicidal to beauty, and must not be confused with necessary rest or sleep that refreshes one for an evening's entertainment.

There is no greater enemy of beauty than sleeplessness. The best means in the world to induce sleep is to exercise to the point of moderate fatigue, and followed with the soothing effects of a hot bath. The woman who cuts down on exercise and the sound sleep it induces must be willing to pay the price in loss of youth and beauty.

WAYS TO REST.

Sleep is always more refreshing in proportion to the purity of the air you breathe. Sleep with all your windows wide open, or, better still, on a sleeping porch. Outdoor sleeping, where practical, is a great beautifier. It brings fresh air to your lungs throughout the night, increases the brightness of your eyes and deepens the color of your cheeks.

You should sleep as nearly flat as possible. Avoid thick pillows that bolster you up into a semi-sitting position, because this contracts your lungs by throwing your shoulders forward, and cuts down your consumption of air. You should also sleep on a firm mattress.

In the winter time you will need plenty of covers to sleep with your windows open or out of doors. But try to have your covers as light as compatible with the necessary warmth. Sometimes covers that are so heavy as to be positively oppressive by their weight are the cause of sleeplessness.

Sometimes you may be "too tired" to sleep. You should avoid over-exhaustion when possible, and if you are overly tired massage is often an aid in inducing sleep. If you suspect that your sleeplessness is due to over-taut nerves rub the back of your neck with a light, rotary movement. Also rub up and down your spine. This massage will often induce drowsiness when all other means fail.

Remember that you cannot burn the candle at both ends, keep late and exhausting hours and awake the next morning to find yourself looking fresh and lovely and feeling fine.

WORDS of the WISE

Felicity eats up circumspection.

A good fellow lights his candle at both ends.

Full vessels give the least sound.—German proverb.

Whatever is fortified will be attacked, and whatever is attacked will be destroyed.—Machiavelli.

The modern child has as little belief in the fairy tales his mother tells him as she herself has in the ones his father tells her.

Wise or unwise, who doubts for a moment that contentment is the cause of happiness?

AUNT ELSIE'S KIDDIE KORNER

What do you do when you see Mr. Garter Snake crawling through the grass? YELL! Or if you're a boy you run for a stick. That's very silly for the wise men now tell us that Mr. Garter Snake is one of the best and busiest workers in the animal world and does us just mountains of good. All the same—when I meet one I YELL! But here's a story that makes me almost willing to chuck the horrid old thing under its chin (HAS a garter snake a chin?) and tell it my best secrets. And I positively sure I'd like to chuck the writer of the story under her chin and give her a hug.

JENNET MAHER.

Dear Aunt Elsie—

Gee! I'm lonesome. I wish someone would write to me. I'm sending a story—THE STONE OF GRATITUDE. Long ago there lived a King who was much beloved by his people because of his kindness. But alas! the king was blind! "I cannot see if my people are unhappy," said the King, "but I can hear them and help them, so hang the great brass gong in the courtyard so that if anyone is in trouble he may strike the gong and I shall know he needs my help." This was done and year after year rich and poor, young and old, sounded the great gong and were helped by the King.

But one day the gong sounded and when the soldier went there he could find no one. "It is only an ugly snake striking the gong with its tail," said he to the King. "Shall I drive it away?"

"No," answered the King, "the gong is for everyone who is wronged. Let the snake come forward and tell its tale."

The snake crept to the King's feet. Then she lifted her head and spoke: "O King!" said she, "my nest is at the foot of yonder oak tree. In it my little ones and I were so happy. This morning I went to get food for my babies and myself. When I came back to my nest I found my children dead and a strange beast, armed all over his body with spikes, in my nest. He has killed my children and says that the nest belongs to him. Will you not drive him away?"

"Indeed I will," said the King, and at once he had the porcupine killed and the nest restored to the snake.

Late that night while all in the palace slept the mother snake crept softly to the King's bed and laid upon his blind eyes a shining stone. In the morning when he woke there was great joy—for the King could see! The mother snake had cured him! That is why the topaz is called "the stone of gratitude."

ETHEL FRYE.

Dear Aunt Elsie—

I have some ducks and they are most fun. In the winter they go out and swim in a pond by the railroad, but in the summer there is no pond, so they are locked up. They look to see if they can get out and when they find they can't they go down under the trees and rest. About six every morning they begin to quack, because they are hungry then. Yours lovingly.

ETHEL FRYE.

Ethel didn't give her address, but wherever she is, here's a hug and a giggle.

FRANCES ANDERSON.

BETTY WORK.

Dear Aunt Elsie—

Sola Smith told me about you, so I thought I would join our page. Lola and I were swinging in the hammock one day, and it busted with us and we were on the ground before we knew it. We're getting up a club of people to write letters and stories. With a barn full of love. BETTY WORK.

181 Central Ave., Pacific Grove, Cal.

PUZZLE CORNER.

Here's somebody who wants you to guess his name. He's a humble little fellow with a shining face but at the big Thanksgiving feast he has one of the places of honor. See if you can dig his name out.

My first is in cry but not in howl.
My second is in rooster but not in owl.
My third is in ankle but not in leg.
My fourth is in nail but not in peg.
My fifth is in barrel but not in vat.
My sixth is in kitten but not in cat.
My eleventh is in rain but not in hail.
My eighth is in dipper but not in pail.
My ninth is in you but not in me.

A HIDDEN GAME.

A game the boys are interested in is hidden in this Thanksgiving dinner one word to each letter—in the order given. See if you can find it. Coffee, potatoes, soup, turkey, cranberry, ice cream, salad, walnuts.

A GIRL'S GAME.

A game the girls like is hidden in these flowers, one word to each flower, in the order given. Snowball, pansy, rose, larkspur, mignonette, tulip, buttercup, oleander, violet, lily.

JACK'S CLOTHES.

Jack was in such a hurry Hallowe'en night that he threw all his clothes in a jumble on the floor when he dressed for the party. When he went to pick them up what do you suppose had happened. They were all mixed up! Each article had been a tidy word of two syllables when he threw it down, but now the syllables were all mixed and he had a great time straightening them out. See if you can see what he wore.

ERLAR, COLSWEAT, ERSTROU, GARJACK, TERSNEAK, ETTIE, SERING, STONECK.

A FOOLISH DOLL.

When Aunt Elsie was a kiddie she used to make clay pipe dolls. They were lots of fun. Did you ever make one. They would be jolly decorations for the Thanksgiving table so perhaps even mother would giggle over them. The picture shows how it is done. Use an ordinary clay pipe —the sunbonnet is simply made by [illegible] the back part of the "head" and gluing a crescent shaped piece of cardboard like A cover the front part of the head. Pad the stem with cotton near the head and put on a straight piece of goods, seamed up the back and gathered in at neck and waist for a dress. Make a roll of the same goods for arms and stitch it on in back. Then put a white 'neckerchief" on which will cover the joining of the arms. Lastly put on a white apron. If you will dress your lady in a gray dress, black bonnet, and white neckerchief and apron she will make a dandy Puritan lady for your dinner table.

PUZZLE ANSWERS.

Dig-me-out—CRANBERRY.
Hidden Game—Football. Girl's game—Basketball.
Jack's Clothes—Collar, sneakers, jacket, stocking, trousers, necktie, garter, sweater.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

REGRET.

I wonder if he knew that I
Was thinking of him all day long—
The friend that was so soon to die—
The while I mingled with the throng?
Now in his room the shades are drawn,
His brave voice is forever dumb,
And from his eyes the light has gone—
He cannot see me when I come.

His lifeless fingers cannot hold
The letter I had planned to write;
Out of his body, now so cold,
His soul has swiftly taken flight.
He shall not know that I am there,
Nor feel my fingers on his cheek.
He cannot guess how much I care,
He cannot hear me when I speak.

How trivial now appear the things
That kept me from him yesterday;
Had I but heard Death's rustling wings,
I should have put them all away.
I should have spurned the lure of gain,
Beside his bed to watch and wait,
To comfort him and sooth his pain.
Now I must go tonight—too late!

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE by ADELE GARRISON

"The Mineola Hospital," I returned, a bit wonderingly. "I was the victim of a slight automobile accident last tweek."

"But you're all right now?"

"Oh, yes!"

"Please pardon my abruptness," she said, "but the mere mention of hospital shatters my nerves."

"I can well believe that," I returned, but as I hung up the telephone after making arrangements to come to tea the next day, I wondered vaguely if she had given the real reason for her abruptness.

The amount of interest which I found myself enjoying in my invitation to take tea with the "other Mrs. Graham" surprised me. It was an unusual thing for me to be so affected by such a trivial occurrence.

Upon analyzing my own thought processes—a thing I frequently do—I discovered that while part of my interest was accounted for by the rather unusual circumstances of my telephone acquaintance with her, the greater portion of it was due to her apparently casual question concerning the hospital to which I had been taken after my ostensible "automobile accident."

The chimerical idea that there was some connection between her question and my dramatic days at the hospital became a conviction, then an obsession in the 24 hours that elapsed between her telephone invitation and my arrival at her door. All vainly did I score myself with the lash of my own contempt for the weakness which made me magnify and dwell upon every incident connected with my hospital experience. I could think of nothing else save the "other Mrs. Graham's" query.

Could it be possible that through this accidental acquaintance with a woman of the same name as my own, I should perhaps gain a clew to the story of the wounded officer whose personality had so large a place in my thoughts, and about whose identity I knew only the bare name? I had inferred from one of his speeches that he, himself, was "one of the poor devils who have no home worth speaking of," to whom he had so feelingly referred. And from the burning flush which had overspread his face at my laughing, careless allusion to "the word of and officer and a gentleman," I had surmised that there was a painful story, perhaps one connected with disgrace, somewhere in his life.

By the time I reached the "other Mrs. Graham's" door I was shaking inwardly with nervous excitement. I don't think I would have been surprised to have seen Captain Hugh Grantland himself open the door to greet me, so fantastic a riot had my unchecked imagination run with me.

The woman who opened the door to my ring was, however, in her very appearance, a sedative for overstrung nerves. She was tall and slender, with coils of silver hair surmounting a face that spelled quiet strength and calm as plainly as if the words had been actually written across her forehead.

I felt as if a quieting hand had been laid upon my wrist. An old scriptural verse flashed into my mind—"The peace of God which passeth all understanding." Never in my life have I seen a person whose very appearance exemplified the words as did the presence of the woman before me.

THE SERVICE PIN

She was dressed in a gown of gray, silky, clinging material that softened the severe simplicity of its lines. An exquisitely embroidered vestee of white linen with only an army service pin for fastening, and wristbands to match were the only trimmings.

The service pin caught and held my eyes. Could it be possible? Then by a mighty effort I drew the reins of my will tautly over my frenzied imagination, and transferred my gaze from the woman's service pin to her eyes, which were smiling at me with a question in their placid depths.

"I am sure you are Mrs. Richard Graham," she said brightly. "You [illegible] as I had pictured you, only—prettier"—she finished with charming naivete as she drew me inside he hall door.

I flushed and took refuge in a conventional reply:

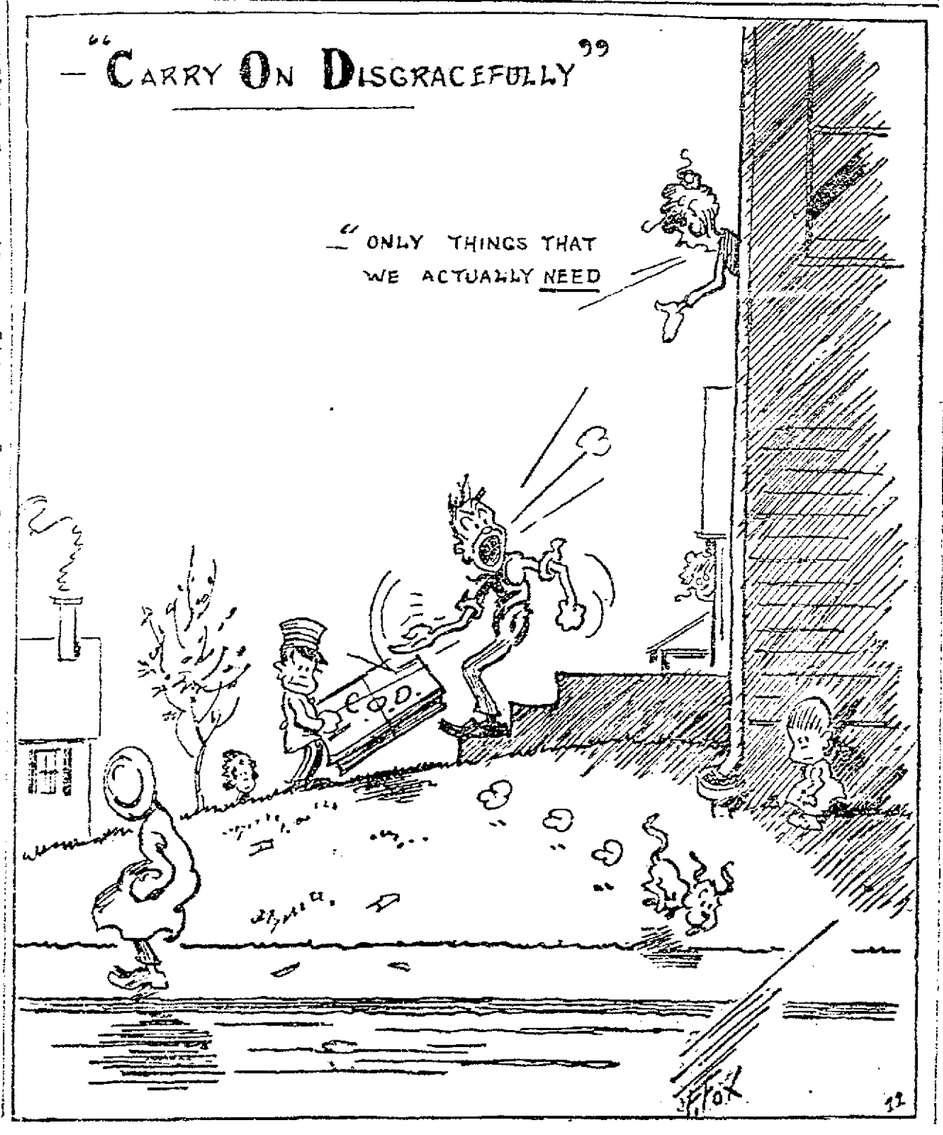

"Thank you." I said confusedly. "And, of course, you are Mrs. Frederick Graham."

"Admitted," she smiled. "And now having been properly introduced, we're not going to be formal any more, are we? Please let me take that pretty hat. Pardon me."

With a pretty grace all her own she had put me into a low, easy chair near a tea table in a charming room, half-veranda, half-sitting room, into which she had ushered me. I felt her deft fingers just touching my hat and hair, and in another moment she had withdrawn the hat and was laying it on a reading table covered with magazines and newspapers.

Ask the Tribune A department of QUESTION & ANSWER

Editor TRIBUNE: I will appreciate answers to the following questions: What is the true meaning and intent of common-law marriage Is there any law in California or in the United States prohibiting a man and woman from living together as man and wife claiming common-law marriage. If so, what are the several charges for which they could be arrested and punished.

A SUBSCRIBER.

A common-law marriage is one when the parties enter of their own volition and without license or ceremony. There is no California law which expressly prohibits common-law marriages. In order that two persons may be competent to contract marriage they must be competent under the law to enter into such a relationship. The law even provides that a man and woman who have been living together for some time as man and wife may be married by minister or justice of the peace without securing a license. The complications in the law which, however, endanger such a relationship are numerous, and become active if either or both parties are married, if they are within forbidden degrees of consanguinity or if the female is under 18 years of age. Some of these complications entail punishment for one, others for misdemeanor. The law varies in this regard from State to State almost as broadly as does the law in regard to marriage and divorce. It is to be remembered, outside of the criminal aspects of the question, that the common-law marriage has no standing before the courts, any more than any other contract that has not been recorded. Matters of community property, the wife's right to inherit and to sue are carefully defined as to marriage in its legal form, and not [illegible] reference to common law marriages. The situation of the offspring of such relationships, normally illegitimate, has been to some extent passed upon by the high courts, but it also is precarious and uncertain.

CINEMA CLOSE-UPS

This almost makes one shiver. It's Priscilla Dean and her new skating outfit. And they say she actually uses it in Los Angeles—only on artificial ice. They also say Miss Dean is the idol of British Columbia and she is getting ready to go to Victoria for the second time this year. Early in the summer Miss Dean went to the north as the guest of the British Columbian war aviators. So great was the ovation accorded the beautiful Universal star that she promised to return for a skating party. A snug white skating cap, a "roush-neck" sweater, high shoes with the ankles well braced and keen hockey skates complete the outfit.

Ruth Clifford has retired from the protecting folds of the banner of Universal, and will soon begin the production of a ten-reel serial for the Frohman Amusement Company. This company heretofore has operated exclusively in New York, but the metropolis has been permanently abandoned for a studio in Hollywood. Most fans know Ruth. She appeared with Rupert Julian in "The Beast of Berlin," and also played prominent parts in "Fires of Youth" and "A Kentucky Cinderella." San Francisco is her birthplace, and she was educated there. The denizens of that town are proud of her and the fans there look upon her as their ownest own. Fans elsewhere doubtless will be pleased to learn that she tips the scales at 120 pounds, that her hair is of the shade known as auburn and that she has dark blue eyes.

EXPECT SOMETHING DAZZLING.

In Southern California, where only the bank clerks doubt that the stars eat Treasure Island salad every Saturday noon, folks feel that the movies are going to step out and do something dazzling. No one seems to know just what the new departure will be, but everyone is sure that the world in general is going to demand something radically new in the way of entertainment. The entertainment of the hour must make folks forget the war, cure the red, yellow and near-beer perils and sooth the national nerves. There is going to be a high, wide and handsome change in the movies and it will start on the Pacific Coast.

HENRY KOLKER AN AUTHOR.

The big society drama which Henry Kolker, Brentwood director and former eminent New York actor, is preparing to film for the screen, will have a strong cast. Betty Blythe, Mahlon Hamilton, Jack Pratt and Betty Price (in private life Mrs. Pratt), will have leading parts. The story from which the picture is to be made is an original by Mr. Kolker. With many tense dramatic situations, it shows the influence of the sound principles established by an old Dutch merchant, the founder of one of New York's wealthy families, upon the life of his grandson, now become a leader in the business and social life of the great city. Particularly human characters have been drawn for Miss Blythe and Mr. Hamilton to portray.

FRESHEN VEGETABLES.

All green vegetables, roots and tubers should be crisp and firm when put on to cook. If, for any reason, a vegetable has lost its firmness and crispness it may be soaked in very cold water until it becomes plump and crisp. With new vegetables this will be a matter of minutes only, while old roots and tubers often require many hours.

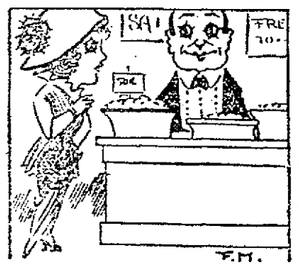

All vegetables should be thoroughly cleaned just before being put on to cook. Vegetables that form in heads, such as cabbage, cauliflower, and Brussels sprouts, may be soaked with the heads turned down in salted cold water, to which a few spoonfuls of vinegar may be added. If there are any worms or other forms of animal life in these vegetables they will crawl out into the solution.

For best results all vegetables, except the dry legumes, must be put in boiling water and the water must be made to boil again as soon as possible after the vegetables have been added and must be kept boiling until the cooking is finished.

If the most appetising and palatable dishes are desired, only fresh tender vegetables should be cooked. Green beans, peas, etc., that have grown a little too old may be made more tender by adding a small piece of baking soda to the water in which they are boiled. Too much soda injures the flavor, and an excess must be avoided. A little soda may also be used to advantage if the water is quite hard.

"Don't you have a lot of trouble keeping down expenses?" "Not so much as I have keeping up the revenue."

MADE TO ORDER

Mrs. Knosit—That salad looks tempting but it doesn't contain many calories.

Delicatessen Man—Madam, I mixed that salad myself and I put an extra quart of genuine imported calories in it.

SPURS HER AMBITION

Mayor—Why do you wish to be appointed movie censor? There's lots of work and no salary to the job.

Mrs. Filmhound—Oh I'm not afraid of the work. And, besides, I'm just crazy to see the pictures that have to be suppressed.

It was on the third day following the massacre of the English column by the Ahmet-Kehl and Ffoliott and Ralph, returning from a stroll through the bazaars, came across Montagu Stairs, who was leaning against the palace gate, a letter in his hand, and silently weeping.

"Ralph! Ffoliott! De-de-d-d-deah boys," he stammered as he saw them, in a voice which was both sorrowful and alcoholic.

Ralph, who had an appointment with the raja, pushed past without replying, while Montagu Stairs turned to the Englishman and buttonholed him with a moist unsteady hand.

"Deah boy," he said, "it's—yes, it's sa-a-ad!"

"What?"

"Gwen Lorme!"

"Oh, double-dash it!" mumbled Ffoliott tired of the other's sporadic tirades against the perfidy of women, chiefly of leading ladies.

But Montagu continued with that deliberate and impressive sagacity which no mere water-bibbler ever attains: "Ffoliott, my boy, I have forgiven her! I have forgiven her because—because of the great sorrow which came to her—ah!" in a hollow, dramatic voice, "the great sorrow which came to her like—like a blo-o-od sucking vampire!".

"Sorrow?" inquired Ffoliott, a little interested.

"Yes—sorrow—for her husband!" Sudden jealousy overcame him. "Ah—that thirty-cent, crimson-coated, cheap sport of a Britisher who hooked my best girl and my best diamond! He—he is a viper—a viper which I su-su-suckled in my bosom; but—" with a sweeping generous gesture, "I forgive him, too! He has gone to war against the Ahmet-Khel, and Gwen writes me—deah old girl—that she's heart-broken!"

And he uttered in tones of unutterable pathos: "Ffoliott, it appears that she is in love with the scarlet-coated viper!" And again he wept.

Ffoliott was Anglo-Indian bred-in-the-bone, and his was the Anglo-Indian prejudice—perhaps Anglo-Indian wisdom—that no European or American should be allowed to make an exhibition of himself before natives; and already a crowd of staring, smiling Rajputs was beginning to gather.

"Tell me all about it in your room," he whispered to Montagu, and led him to the latter's dressing-room in the raja's theater.

The actor poured himself a stiff drink; and he began rambling once more—this time about Susan and Ralph. He said, with a great show of feeling, that he had forgiven them, too, though they had laughed at him—"yes, laughed at me in my great misery!"

Quite suddenly he burst into Mephistophelian laughter.

"Deah boy," he said, "between you and me—strictly between you and me—I have a joke on them—on both of them. For—" with a mysterious wink, "there is Cadorna! There is—ah—the coming disgrace!"

He looked at Ffoliott with an expression of noble triumph while the latter sat up in his chair, tense, alert.

"What disgrace?" he inquired softly, nonchalantly, so as not to arouse the actor's alcoholic suspicions; and then Motague told him the Bokharan's tale—as much of it as he had understood.

"He took me for Ralph," he wound up with a laugh which he changed immediately into a snort of indignation. "My deah boy—he took me for Ralph. He took me, the leading man for that flat slapstick!" And he was still mumbling about the "bru-bru-brutal indignity of it," as Ffoliott left the room with some ready apology.

It was Ffoliott's original impulse to take Ralph into his confidence. It would be the fair thing to do.

But he reconsidered.

For he was a semipolitical first, last and all the time, and he had the peculiar conscience of the semipolitical which made him draw a strict line between his personal inclination and duties, and those which touched his official capacity. Ralph was sure to lose his temper, which would be bad, for Ffoliott did not want to frighten his game.

As to Susan he would see that no harm came to her. He was forewarned in a way.

He turned to the Dak-bungalow where he lived. He felt depressed. Lies and intrigue, he said to himself, that was the epiteme of India, and these Americans, kind and jolly, decent, brave people, seemed to have been caught in the net—and there was no reason why, no justice. Disgrace for Susan through the machinations of Cadorna was the gist of the actor's tale, and the latter had also described it to him the appearance of the native who had told the tale in the first place.

"A tall, fair-skinned man with a most murderous face and a huge fur cap, like some sort of Asiatic Russian—and a gorgeous, silver-studded belt."

Ffoliott, knowing India, classified the mysterious stranger at once as a man from the North-Afghan, Khivan or Bokharan, a man who had come into India through the mountain passes of the north—and quite suddenly he remembered that the rifles which the Ahmet-khel had used with such deadly effect must also have crossed the border through the northern passes.

The rifles, and there was the memory of Cadorna's behavior when he had read the newspaper report about the gun-running!

Which was the answer?

Eat Well and Feel Well

By Taking Vinol

It creates a hearty appetite, aids digestion, creates thousands of new red blood corpuscles, the glow of health replaces pallid cheeks, anaemia disappears and strength and vigor returns.

These Letters Prove It

West Chester, Pa.—"My blood was so poor that I had skin eruptions and was weak, nervous and could not sleep. My mother wanted me to try Vinol. It purified and enriched my blood, gave me a good appetite, my nervousness has gone, and it has built up my whole system. I can surely recommend it to others who need a good blood tonic."—MRS. EDWIN S. GUTHRIE.

Kenton, Del.—"I suffered from a nervous, run-down condition and no appetite. I keep house and live on a farm so had to keep about my work as I have five in the family. My druggist recommended Vinol as the best medicine for my condition. It has given me a good appetite, and I sleep better and feel stronger in every way."—MRS. J. HERMAN WILDS.

Too Ill to Work

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."
—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

MEXICO BORDER LINE FOLLOWS VAGRANT RIVER

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3.—Commissions representaing the United States and the Mexican governments will meet soon in Monterey, Mexico, to define the exact international borders of the two countries, according to newspapers here. The Rio Grande river has always been accepted as the boundary line but of late it has shown an erratic disposition, at many places leaving its old bed and wandering aimlessly north and south, and it is deemed expedient to fix the boundary by other means.

Lucius D. Hill, Henry P. Corbin and W. V. Tinsley are named as the American commissioners. Antonio Prieto will head the Mexican representatives.

JAPANESE PROBE TO BE THOROUGH

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—It is not possible at this time to say when the report of the State board of control on the Japanese problem in California will be completed, a statement from the office of Governor Stephens declared, apropos of the request for a special session of the legislature to deal with the question.

"Investigation of the Japanese situation in California by the board of control will be prosecuted with due diligence," the statement said. "The governor desires a thorough exaction into some of the phases of the question hitherto touched but lightly.

"There are important national and international questions involved; therefore it is important that we be accurately and convincingly informed as to the degree of Japanese menace on the Pacific coast."

23,000 GALLONS OF SULPHIDE TO SQUIRRELS

F. Collins, horticultural commissioner. The report adds that Collins believes that another season will do away with the pest.

ORIENTALS ARE COUNTED IN YUBA COUNTY

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 4.—Data as to the number of Hindus and Japanese in Yuba county has been requested by the State board of control of the Yuba County Chamber of Commerce. This is taken to indicate that there may be an effort made to include the Hindus in whatever action is taken against the Japanese, if any, by the legislature. The number of Hindus in this section has increased enormously within the last few months and many of them are arriving daily, it was said by Secretary H. L. Niemeyer, who is gathering the data.

EXCELSIOR MINE TO REMAIN UNWATERED

TRUCKEE, Nov. 4.—The Excelsior mine in the noted old mining camp of Meadow Lake is being unwatered preparatory to inspection by an eastern syndicate, which expects to buy and work it on a large scale. The property has been on a good paying plate gold. The property is now owned by Peter Bokay. Gold quartz of the Meadow Lake district, of which there is said to be large bodies, is difficult of milling, but this handicap can be overcome by the flotation method, according to local mining men.

WATER FROM CAPITAL TAKEN TO MOUNTAINS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—For the first time in many years the Southern Pacific is hauling water to the mountains. Its tank cars are carrying water from Sacramento to the Summit. There has been little snow and the cold weather has checked the flow of the springs and small mountain streams.

TULARE WILL PROVIDE AERO LANDING FIELD

TULARE, Nov. 4.—Tulare now has a municipal aviation landing stage, the city officials having set aside a strip of property which borders Elm street, for use of airmen. As far as can be learned here, Tulare is one of the very few cities in California which will afford such a landing field within the city limits.

FIRE IN MARYSVILLE DOES $10,000 DAMAGE.

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 4.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Southern Pacific restaurant, owned by William McClellan, here Sunday night, entailing a loss of more than $10,000. McClellan carried no insurance. The flames gained such headway in a short time that the Southern Pacific depot building only a few feet away was threatened. The side of the depot was scorched, but the fire company of the railroad, aiding the local department, succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading. The restaurant will be rebuilt at once, McClellan said.

There now remain only about fifty bales of this year's hops in the hands of growers of Sonoma county.

Demand for War Literature is Gone

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—A year of peace has been enough to bury war fiction in its grave, as far as Los Angeles readers are concerned.

Public library reports show the demand for this class of reading is practically nil.

The demand for books of American travel and American history has steadily gained as the demand for war fiction decreased.

BRITISH OFFICERS TO GO TO MEXICO

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Brigadier-General A. C. Critchley, is going to take a chosen party of fifty fellow British officers to settle on a million-acre ranch about 400 miles north of Mexico City. He says Mexico is "the coming country of the world."

Discussing the reported opposition to his colonization scheme of the British and American governments, he said:

"We are not going out to stir up trouble. I have no urgent need of taking the officers with me, but I want to give the lads a chance if they've got enough grit in them to make good, and I want company. Both my father and my mother are coming out with me, but with fifty Englishmen in the party we can be very happy."

DUCKS HERDED TOWARD BLINDS BY AEROPLANE

VALLEJO, Nov. 4.—Four Vallejo hunters bagged the limit of ducks in the vicinity of Colusa Sunday with the assistance of an aeroplane herder. Charles Stoffer, a local aviator, who is engaged to keep the rice fields free from ducks, fulfilled the part of herder and caused thousands of birds to fly in the direction of the blinds which were occupied by T. V., Joe and F. Collins and J. Westline of Vallejo. The idea of herding ducks for hunters by aeroplane is something new and gives promise of being followed by other sportsmen when they hear of the success of the local party.

NAVAL BASE RE-HEARING IS REFUSED

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4.—There will not be a rehearing of Pacific Coast naval base projects according to word from Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels by G. A. Eddy of Alameda, who lives at 2027 [illegible] avenue. Eddy wrote to Congressman Thomas S. Butler [illegible] the House committee on naval affairs, last month. He received today a letter from Congressman Butler, enclosing an official statement [illegible] which the Secretary of the Navy denies the tenor of recent despatches from Washington and says there will be no rehearing. The letter from Congressman Butler to Eddy, with the enclosed statement of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, is given below:

Oct. 29, 1919.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of the sixteenth instant relative to a rehearing on the naval base on the west coast, I beg to hand you herewith a letter received from the Secretary of the Navy which explains itself.

Kindly return this letter to me for my files, and oblige

Yours very truly,
THOMAS S. BUTLER, Chairman.
To Mr. G. A. Eddy, Alameda, Cal.

Secretary Daniels, replying to a request for information from Congressman Butler, not only states that there will not be a rehearing but adds that while the secretary was on the coast he went fully into the situation and is still studying the data collected on this visit. The secretary's letter to Congressman Butler reads:

Oct. 27, 1919.

My Dear Mr. Chairman: I am in receipt of your favor asking if the publication that the Navy Department would have a rehearing on the naval base on the west coast is correct. I wish to say that this is incorrect. No rehearing has been ordered. When I was on the Pacific Coast I went fully into the situation and we are now studying the matter. There will be no rehearing.

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPHUS DANIELS.
Hon. Thomas S. Butler, chairman committee on naval affairs, House of Representatives.

ROMAN JURISTS DECIDED CASES IN EASY STYLE

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—Modern judges may ponder over the problems arising from the "contemplation of death" clause of the inheritance tax law, but the Romans of ancient days so clearly provided for this condition that Prof. W. A. Merrill of the University of California Latin department thinks modern jurists are borrowing so much trouble over the clause that their interpretations are becoming absurd.

Recent decisions show that the judges have held that gifts made within five years of death were in "contemplation of death" and therefore liable to the inheritance tax levy.

The Romans dealt with this matter by holding that the only time when the phrase "in contemplation of death" could be used was when a man was so seriously stricken that he had no time to make a will; and even in this ruling, if the donor recovered he was to have the property returned to him. Age [illegible] did not enter into the Roman ruling, for only in the most sudden and severe cases did the element of death contemplation enter.

MANY BUSINESS MEN TO MARCH

Receipt of scores of postcards, indicating the intention of members to march, is taken by officials of the Chamber of Commerce to mean that the division of that body will be one of the largest in the Armistice Day parade next Tuesday. It is estimated that at least 500 of the leading business and professional men of Oakland will march in the Chamber of Commerce division.

The business women of Oakland, too, will be prominent in the parade, as the feminine members of the chamber now are laying plans to participate in a body. It is probable that they will have an elaborately decorated float in line.

Colonel J. K. Ritter, grand marshal of the parade, will appear tonight before a special meeting of the manufacturers' bureau and the new industries committee, called by the chairman, John W. Phillips, to make their plans for parading. Colonel Ritter will outline the plans and obtain individual pledges from each member to take part.

The trade extension and city interests committees of the chamber have already indorsed the matter of participating in the parade and individual members have pledged themselves to take part.

If all the world were a desert, with "near" a drink in the vicinity, Della Graham would be sure to get more than her share."

Thus opined Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning. Court attaches have despaired of keeping count of Della's "farewell appearances" before Police Judge Smith. She would vindicate herself, stating that near-beer brought her to jail or some other powerful potent, over which she had no power, created the misfortune of being drunk.

"This is a dry country; where do you get it?" asked the judge.

"I don't know, your honor. One glass of near-beer and here I am."

"Ninety days, Della, and there you are."

DIVORCE IS GRANTED TO MRS. COPPAGE

Mrs. Mary Shields Coppage wins a divorce and two-thirds of community property valued at approximately $110,000 from Charles Landon Coppage, oil investor and clubman, by decision of Superior Judge Everett J. Brown. Cruelty and neglect are the divorce grounds.

Attorney [illegible] Moore, representing [illegible] that the preparation of the papers will be hurried because of the serious illness of Mrs. Coppage, who underwent a complete collapse as a result of the strain of the prolonged trial.

[illegible] it was [illegible] she would ask for. [illegible] her attorney pointed out that in the complaint she request "a division" of community property and not a half of it, as is the usual petition.

In her action, Mrs. Coppage gave the value of her husband's holdings as $400,000 and an attempt was made in the course of the trial to show that he was concealing resources. Judge Brown met the issue by giving the wife two-thirds of all property "in sight." Attorney Moore in his argument laid stress on the fact that there were no checks or stubs to show what had been done with approximately $80,000 of his deposits in the Crocker Bank in San Francisco.

The decision announced at the close of arguments last evening, gives the wife all of the Coppage properties in Berkeley which Judge Brown placed at $15,000, exclusive of an $8000 [illegible] by Mrs. Flora Cooper, sister of Mrs. Coppage.

In the remainder of the community property, Mrs. Coppage receives 59.7 per cent. This includes stock in the Continental Petroleum Company valued at $31,000 and a large interest in the Del Monte Garage Company which operates an automobile stage concession in connection with the Del Monte Hotel.

Mrs. Coppage throughout the trial was busy with a mass of financial records of her husband's affairs, was on the stand herself a large part of the time, and, according to her sister, the strain was too great. After the last day of testimony taking, she was seized with a heart attack and has been lying very ill since at her home, 3014 Dana street, Berkeley.

An effort was to be made today to remove her to the Merritt Hospital.

TELL OBJECTIONS TO VACCINATION

Plans for the submission to the voters at the general election in November, 1920, of a constitutional amendment prohibiting vaccination [illegible] mission of any person to a public or private school, college or university or for employment in any public or private business were outlined at a meeting held at the Auditorium Theater last night by the Public School Protective League.

Dr. L. P. Crutcher of Long Beach, former member of the Board of Education there, is president of the organization and was one of the speakers at last night's meeting. "The Public School Protective League," said Dr. Crutcher, "is not concerned with the merits or demerits of vaccination or other medical treatment. That is a question for the individual to determine. The present law, however, gives to health officers the right to exclude unvaccinated children from the schools under conditions which they themselves have [illegible]. The result is an active campaign on the part of [illegible] per cent of [illegible] children of the state whose parents have stated in writing that they are opposed to it."

Douglas L. Edmonds, secretary and counsel for the league, spoke of the work which has been conducted by the organization the last year. "The league," said Edmonds, "is a state-wide organization of citizens residing throughout the state, who have banded together in an endeavor to prevent compulsion in the public [illegible] in medical and [illegible] attempt [illegible] the practice of medicine or the exercise of [illegible]

JURORS URGE DEEPER PROBE OF MYSTERY

Unable to piece the mystery surrounding the death of C. Morton Freeman, returned Argonne hero, whose body was found in a gas-filled room at 574 Fifty-sixth street with his skull fractured, the coroner's jury, after an inquest today recommended a further investigation.

The police, who at first were inclined to dismiss the case as unmistakably suicide, have become active again in the inquiry, although they declare themselves so far entirely at a loss in an effort to pin the crime, if it was a crime, on any [illegible]

The fact that Freeman had a fractured skull was not brought out until after the first autopsy, which declared the wound on the side of the man's head to be a slight affair.

His wife, whom he wed just before leaving for France with an artillery regiment, testified at the inquest. She said that she had obtained $55 from Freeman Saturday, explaining in part the disappearance of the $75 pay check which relatives of the dead man said was a suspicious circumstance.

The verdict was that death was caused by asphyxiation from illuminating gas "and we are unable to determine whether death was accidental, suicide or homicidal. We recommend that further investigation of the death be made."

Freeman's body was found Sunday by his father-in-law, William Snowden.

U. S. Wants Men for New Naval Ships

The Navy's the thing!

At least, there's going to be a powerful attempt to show that it is.

Lads to man the great, new ships of Uncle Sam and her smaller, but just as handy, up-to-date craft, are wanted. The navy seeks men, experienced and inexperienced, skilled or fresh from the farm or school.

Another big campaign in behalf of the navy has been started. With the dropping out of the "for war men only" men, gaps have been left in many of the more coveted branches. Lure of the opportunity to see the world, or to take advantage of the navy's efficient trades schools, or the man-building feature of it, or the thrills—the new air service for instance—attracts many, but more are needed.

In connection with the aviation service, it is announced that flyers on inactive duty may engage in practice flying after checking up by commanding officers of naval air stations.

Advertising Club Is Told of Service

That money and volume of business represent only a nominal value and that the secret of success in [illegible] was the assertion of H. J. Banta, commercial manager for the Weinstock, Nichols Company, who gave a talk at the luncheon of the Oakland Advertising Club in the Hotel Oakland today.

The speaker said that the average merchant and other business man lay entirely too much stress on the dollar and the volume of business handled. Banta said that service is little understood, but that it should be reflected in every line of business.

RUSSIAN ARMY ISTRAPPED BY LENINE FORCE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A claim that the Northwestern Russian army of General Yudenitch, which has been attacking Petrograd, has been surrounded by the Bolsheviki is made in a Soviet government wireless despatch from Moscow dated today.

Their claim to have effected an encirclement of the Northwestern Russian army is presumably based upon the successes of the Bolsheviki against the Petrograd-Luga-Pskov railway, by which the southward railway communications of General Yudenitch with his Baltic Sea base are cut. The capture of Luga and Pskov and comparatively short advance to the southern end of Lake Peipus, a considerable body of water reaching from the vicinity of Pskov to within 30 miles of the Gulf of Finland, would prove an absolute bar to a retirement southward by General Yudenitch.

ARMY'S SITUATION BECOMES PRECARIOUS

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The advancing Bolshevik army southwest of Petrograd has captured Gatchina and Luga and the position of General Yudenitch's "white" army has become precarious, according to advices from Helsingfors. One unconfirmed report said that General Yudenitch's army was nearly surrounded.

A news agency correspondent at the Finnish capital reported that General Yudenitch's forces were retreating, falling back to a line nine miles west of the positions held Thursday.

FINS REFUSE TO HELP TAKE PETROGRAD

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 4 (By The Associated Press).—The Finnish government informed General Yudenitch today that it was unable to co-operate with him for the deliverance of Petrograd. (This is the Finnish reply to the appeal of the Northwestern Russian government for assistance coupled with a recognition of the independence of Finland.)

Three Bandits Foiled By Detroit Banker

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 4.—Three bandits in an automobile drove up to the Harper Avenue branch of the Peninsula State bank today and while one of them remained in the car, the other two entered the bank, pointed revolvers at Jasper E. Speers and demanded the money in the vault. Speers told them to "go to the devil" and the men each fired a shot at him. Manager A. K. Peplinski slammed the vault door closed and rang a burglar alarm which caused the bandits to run.

Chronic Asthma Cured

Y. L. Chan, the noted herb specialist, has achieved the greatest success in treating cases of asthma and bronchial trouble. The following testimonial shows what he did in one case:

Dr. Y. L. Chan,
San Francisco, California.

My Dear Sir:
I wish to herewith express to you my grateful appreciation for what you have done for me.

For almost seven years of my life I was a sufferer from chronic asthma. During the period of time I tried many doctors, and sought different climatic conditions in the hope of recovering my health, but I could find absolutely no relief.

After putting myself in your care, and at the end of three months' time, during which I treated with you, I found myself completely cured from the ailment with which I was afflicted.

It is now almost four years since you treated me for my trouble, during all of which time I have had no recurrence of the affliction, and at the present time enjoy the best of good health. I attribute my good physical condition entirely to your wonderful cure, and wish to herewith add my testimonial to the many you have in appreciation for what you have done for me.

Sincerely yours,

Hayward Legion Post Is Active Booster Mass Meeting Is Called

Men Who Saw Service in War Take Lead in Reorganizing All Service Men Into Strong Local Organization.

HAYWARD, Nov. 4.—A public meeting of Hayward post No. 68, American Legion of California, has been called for Monday evening, November 10, at Firemen's hall. The objects and purposes of the organization will then be explained.

All ex-service men and their families have been urged to attend.

Among the speakers mentioned for the evening are Peter J. Crosby, Judge Frank Mitchell, Adgt. Gen. James J. Borree and Major "Lany" O'Toole of Berkeley. These men will explain why every service man should join the legion and how the legion is helping all ex-service men. It is non-political and non-sectarian and welcomes all men with honorable discharges from the army, navy or marine corps, and also Red Cross nurses.

Hayward post No. 68, of the American Legion, is still in its infancy. The idea of establishing a post was conceived by John F. Fleddermann, N. Wesley Armstrong and Charles C. Jensen. These three got busy immediately with the result that Hayward post No. 68 was granted a charter. At the annual state convention held in San Francisco, Oct. 8 to 10, they represented Hayward post.

A brief resume of their military records is as follows:

FLEDDERMANN IS MUSICIAN.

Sergeant John F. Fleddermann received his first military training in the National Guard in Louisiana, attaining the rank of sergeant major. Five years ago he became affiliated with the National Guard of California, enlisting in Co. H, Fifth California infantry. He served on the Mexican border in 1916, being stationed at Nogales, Ariz. When the world war broke out Fleddermann again answered his country's call and for a few months did guard duty at Elko and Tonka, Nevada. He had charge of a recruiting party that toured the state and went overseas as a member of the regimental band of the 159th infantry, later joining headquarters troop of the Fortieth division. He organized and conducted a theatrical troop after the armistice was signed, and traveled over France. He also wrote the official march for the 159th infantry.

OFFICER FLYER.

Flight Lieutenant Chas. C. Jensen enlisted during the first week of the war in the signal reserve corps and before being called out as a member of that organization was transferred to the aviation corps and sent to Berkeley for preliminary training. He then completed his actual flying schooling at Texas, where he later became an instructor. Lieut. Jensen is still a member of the reserve corps and will train every season at some flying school, specializing in herial gunnery.

SERVED UNDER BORREE.

First Sergeant N. Wesley Armstrong entered the military service April 29, 1909, as a member of Co. H, Fifth infantry. When that organization was mustered into the state's service with Adjutant General Borree as company commander. He re-enlisted in 1912 and was appointed corporal, later being appointed regimental color sergeant of the Fifth infantry. In 1916 he was commissioner second lieutenant and served on the Mexican border with the 159th infantry. He resigned his commission in 1916 and was recommended for the first officers' training camp. He enlisted in the Eleventh company, California infantry and was commissioned first lieutenant and served with that outfit for six months, when, finding they would not be federalized, he enlisted in the air service and was sent to Vancouver barracks, Washington. He was appointed first sergeant and was one of two candidates from a class of twenty-four who passed the tests for a commission in the army from the Grays Harbor district.

POLICE SEEK TWO ALAMEDA YOUNG WOMEN

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4.—Fear that her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Booth, 1217 Park avenue, would commit suicide if the story of her unexplained disappearance from home was given publicity prompted Mrs. M. Boyde, 1502 Walnut street, to deny today that the daughter had in fact been away.

When the police heard of the refutation of the story they re-investigated the report, but no trace of the missing woman could be found. Upon persuasion Mrs. Boyde admitted that she had made up her explanation to save her daughter from the fate she fears awaits her.

No word has been received from Mrs. Booth or her companion, Mrs. Elsie P. Ellis, 1544 Ninth avenue, who went away with her. The two young women went out of the house Wednesday morning with the explanation that they were going for a "ride around the block" with Sam J. Slater, automobile man of San Francisco, son of Mrs. L. A. Slater, 1219 Central avenue.

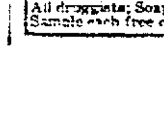

Mrs. Booth is 26 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 168 pounds, has brown eyes and hair, and wore a black suit with white stripes and brown turban hat. Mrs. Ellis is 27 years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighs 150 pounds, has dark blue eyes, ruddy complexion, with the index finger of her right hand cut off at the first joint.

Business Men Wanted By Tech High Gym.

Business men are wanted to take advantage of the sport and physical instruction offered by the Technical High school at the school gymnasium. The class meets Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30, goes through the regular training stunts, under the direction of the physical director, after which they play handball, baseball and other games and take a shower. It is all free, but there must be at least fifteen in regular attendance.

Judge Robinson Is Now Out of Danger

Superior Judge E. C. Robinson, who became ill on leaving the bench Saturday and who was threatened with pneumonia, was declared out of danger at his home, 552 Mont Clair avenue, today and so far improved that it is expected he will be able to resume his judicial duties next week.

NAME STREET FOR T. R. IS CITY'S PLAN

The name of Telegraph avenue will be changed to "Roosevelt Avenue" if the change is not protested at a hearing to be held before the City Council on Monday morning, December 8.

This morning Commissioner Baccus introduced in the Council meeting a resolution that was passed, setting the time for the hearing of a proposal to designate Telegraph avenue as "Roosevelt avenue."

Members of the Columbus Day committee this morning asked the Council to refund a portion of the rental fee paid for the use of the Municipal Auditorium for a dance held on the night of October 12 for the benefit of an Italian hospital to be built about the bay. According to the committee the dance was a failure from a financial standpoint, and resulted in a deficit. The request was referred to Commissioner of Public Works Frederick Soderberg.

Merchants located in Tenth street, between Webster and Franklin streets, asked the Council this morning to declare the street included in the zone within which automobiles cannot stand for a time longer than forty minutes. The communication was referred to Commissioner of Streets Baccus.

Commissioner Morse was asked to investigate a petition of property owners for a street light in Aileen street between Dover street and Shattuck avenue.

School Incorporated To Teach Healing

The Richmond Electropathic School for the Teaching of Conversion and Healing filed articles of incorporation with County Clerk George E. Gross today. The object of the organization is stated to be the "establishment of a permanent center for preaching the Gospel, orally or in printed form; to teach conversion and healing through faith in Christ and to formulate a system of Gospel training whereby eligible persons may be fitted for the ministry of conversion and healing."

The association is named for Samuel Richmond, who is the president and one of three directors, the others being Clara Richmond and E. C. Reeves. There is no capital stock. Richmond lives at 3140 Grove street.

"Drunks" Are Fined $6, or Three Days

Prohibition to the contrary, booze was fairly well represented in police court today. There were five drunks in all, including one old-timer, Della Graham.

Richard Carson, Charles Pruett and Ernest Borwick were fined $6. If they didn't have the $6 they went to jail for three days. Dan Bailey forfeited $10 bail

M'ADOO AND PALMER MAY ENTER RACE

By HUGH BAILLIE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Presidential possibilities were beginning to come to the fore in Washington today.

In the national capital the men most widely discussed for the Democratic nomination were A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney-general of the United States, and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury.

President Wilson will not only not be a third-term candidate, according to all indications, but he will not enter the campaign even to the extent of giving his backing to one of the aspirants.

WILSON PROMISES SILENCE

He will keep "hands off" and will not consider going on the stump in behalf of anyone. This is partly because he would not want to undergo the strain of an arduous speaking trip and partly because he is tired of politics, and when his duty to the country is done, he desires rest and quiet.

McAdoo appears likely to go into the campaign for nomination as "a business man's candidate," promising the nation a "business administration."

Just at present McAdoo is really the most prominent of all the aspirants for the Democratic candidacy, so far as political talk in Washington goes. Palmer comes next. It is believed by many, however, that the attorney-general sacrificed the labor vote when he caused the Indianapolis injunction to be issued against the striking miners. Those who hold he would not be a winner also claim that his fight against the high cost of living has not added to his strength. His popularity was greatest when he started that drive, but prices have not tumbled as rapidly as many expected them to. To this Palmer's friends reply that Congress has not yet given him all the authority he wanted to put the profiteers out of business.

INTEREST IN ISSUES

Great interest is manifest in the issues which will be put forward in the 1920 campaign. Taking it for granted that the treaty will have been disposed of before that time, one of the most talked about issues is prohibition. By November, 1920, the nation will be ready to say whether it likes bone dryness and if there are any widespread popular agitation for relief, that is expected to be one of the foremost points of contention. The drys, according to some reports in Washington, want to get control of the Democratic party and make it the great prohibition party.

William Jennings Bryan is said to be interested in this move, but all reports in this connection emphasize that Bryan has no political hopes for himself and that he favors Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, as a dry candidate.

Champ Clark has many supporters. Recently during a bit of repartee in the House, he indicated that he might be an aspirant. Friends point out that he still is an active figure in the House, where he is Democratic leader.

Governor Cox probably will have his state delegation with him when the convention opens.

Taxicab Hold-Up Man Is Sentenced

John Neilan, aged 28, convicted of robbery in holding up a taxicab driver, was given an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years in the state penitentiary by Superior Judge James G. Quinn today.

Neilan and a youthful companion were alleged to have induced Clarence Perry to take them in his taxicab to Eighty-fourth avenue and Foothill boulevard, where they are alleged to have taken $14 from him. They were arrested a week later riding a motorcycle and side car without lights. Loaded revolvers on both led to an investigation and the placing of the robbery charge. Neilan's companion was turned over to the juvenile court.

SECRETARY OF WAR CLASHES WITH SENATOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretary Baker and Senator Chamberlain, Democrat, Oregon, former chairman of the Senate military committee, clashed sharply today at a hearing of a sub-committee dealing with the military justice controversy.

"Whenever an inferior officer gets into a disagreement with his superior he is likely to get the axe very suddenly," Senator Chamberlain declared.

"That is not a fact," Secretary Baker said.

"But I say it is," Senator Chamberlain responded. "We know it up here."

"Oh, of course," Baker said, "when an officer comes up to Congressional committees and says things that are independent of department views, you class anything that happens to him after as punitive punishment."

"Take your actions," said Senator Chamberlain. "What did you do to General Kenley for his aircraft statements up here?"

"He was not disciplined," Secretary Baker returned.

"No, you don't call it discipline," Senator Chamberlain remarked. "What happened to Ansell. (Former Acting Judge Advocate General). You put him in a place of inocuous desuetude and reduced him in rank."

"I did that," Mr. Baker replied. "He was not only disagreeing with his superior, he was slandering him."

"Yes, and what became of Adjutant-General McCain, when he thought his office ought not to go under the general staff?" asked Senator Chamberlain.

"I gave him the opportunity to command a division in the field, the heart's desire of every soldier," Mr. Baker said.

"Yes, but did he ask to be relieved?" Senator Chamberlain persisted.

"He'd never had anything but office experience. I confess that I did not know his military record." Baker said. "I thought he had commanded troops."

Senator Chamberlain named other officers of lower rank and the secretary conceded that some of them had been demoted and transferred.

"When a man can't get along with his chief, he ought to get out of the service," the secretary concluded, "unless his chief is wrong, and then you ought to change the chief."

GODFREY IN COURT ON CHECK CHARGE

Accused of defrauding many Oakland merchants by passing fictitious checks, George T. Godfrey was arraigned today in Police Judge George Samuels' court on the specific charge of falsely obtaining funds from the Central Bank of Oakland on a bogus bank account.

Godfrey was formerly employed at Hotel Oakland. He cut a wide swath among society folk in Eastbay district, until the uncertainty of his penmanship became apparent and he skipped out, charge the police. He was arrested by Chicago authorities and arrived from the Windy City last night in custody of Captain James T. Drew of the Oakland police.

In San Francisco Godfrey posed as an expert auditor and was employed for a short time at Hotel St. Francis.

The Central Bank charges Godfrey deposited a bogus check for $200, then drew $125 on his "account." He scattered bad paper at Lynn Stanley's store, Owl Drug Company, A. Schlueter's and other merchants, the police charge.

Godfrey will be examined in police court November 21. He is 35 years old.

EX-CONVICT HELD.

Briscoe Browning, negro, was committed to superior court, bail being fixed at $1000 today in Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court. An ex-convict, Browning is accused of a felony in carrying a concealed weapon.

Pension Case Will Be Appealed Board Differs From Decision

The Police Relief and Pension Board today authorized City Attorney H. L. Hagan to prosecute an appeal from the recent decision of Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure granting to Corporal Herman Rumetsch a writ of mandate compelling the Pension Board to pay him a pension allowance including a salary increase provided just prior to Rumetsch's retirement on half pay.

The Pension Board acted on the recommendation of City Attorney Hagan, who has had the case under investigation since Judge St. Sure rendered his decision and who holds that the decision is contrary to the spirit of the City Charter and opens the door for favoritism and politics.

The entire pension system is affected by the case, Hagan holding that if the decision stands all pensioners of the city will be able to claim increases in the pay of their rank granted since their retirement, while the spirit of the charter designates that the pay and rank of retirement shall be those of a year prior to retirement.

Rumetsch was temporarily retired on half pay almost a year ago, after being incapacitated by a wound through the lungs, received in a battle with an alleged madman. Just prior to his retirement the pay of his rank was increased, and when Rumetsch sought to collect the increase a test case was decided and the former officer carried his case to the Superior Court on a writ of mandate directed against the Pension Board. Judge St. Sure granted the writ.

M'NAB HOLDS LABOR PARLEY WORTH WHILE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The labor parley did good in spite of its premature dissolution following the collective bargaining deadlock, believes Gavin McNab, who has just returned from Washington, where he served as a member of the public group in the conference.

"The conference focussed public attention on necessary changes in our industrial situation," he said. "The old order has passed. There is a new world. In this new order men are first and property second. The voice of humanity will be heard."

In McNab's opinion, the conference as constituted could not have resulted otherwise than it did. He said:

"This was the most difficult time to have held an industrial conference. The country is a long way from normal. That is, war conditions are still dominant.

"The American Federation of Labor is much disturbed by excited radicals within its ranks attempting to drive the sound leadership into false positions which will not be backed by public opinion.

"Certain elements, however, fortunately not the majority of capitalists, are taking advantage of this situation, capitalizing the I. W. W. or 'reds' as they are now generally called, and through this conducting a propaganda against organized labor.

"The 'red' man is thus given a position in industrial affairs altogether out of proportion to his numbers. The selfish industrialist, who does not want to yield anything to humanity or peace, cites the 'red' man.

"In the public group appointed by the President were among the largest employers of labor, for instance John D. Rockefeller Jr., Endicott, the largest shoe manufacturer in the world, working 15,000 persons; Callaway, the largest cotton manufacturer in the South, with 7000 operatives; Landon of the American Radiator Company with many thousands of employees.

"The employers' group separately committed themselves to collective bargaining, but their definition the labor group held would make the plan ineffective.

"Another very curious feature of this situation was that three farmers, representing the National Granges, voted with the public group and with labor on collective bargaining and insisted in their group on being thus recorded."

Oakland-Made Map To Guide Aviators

The "Butterfly Map," an Oakland creation, has been adopted officially for the "circumnavigation" of the globe.

B. J. S. Cahill, Oakland architect, has produced "something new beneath the sun." So appealingly did it strike the Aerial Derby Commission that its secretary, Major Charles J. Glidden, sent Cahill the following letter:

"The Aerial Derby Commission takes pleasure in announcing that it has adopted your Butterfly Map of the World, in which scale and distance are approximately correct, to illustrate the route of the airmen in the contest around the world in 1920."

Instead of the old picturing of the globe in two hemispheres, the "Butterfly Map" divides the world into four parts, resembling the butterfly in shape. It is made by cutting grooves at six equidistant points on the covering of a sphere, which is then laid out flat.

In the October issue of the Pacific Marine Review, Cahill compares his map with that used to show the circumnavigation of the globe by Sir Francis Drake.

Interior Decorating Class Now Forming

That much of the ability of interior decorators to employ proper color schemes, taste in the selection and arrangement of furniture and the harmonizing of furniture and coverings will be made available to the housewife or home-maker who attends a new class that has just been formed at Technical high school, Twelfth and Market streets.

Previous knowledge of art or drawing are not essential to entrance in this course, the treatment of the subject being practical and nontechnical. It is planned not only to meet the needs of home-makers, but also to suit the aims of others who may wish to apply the knowledge thus gained as a means of livelihood.

Registration is now available to a limited number of applicants at the office of the school, Twelfth and Market streets.

Japan Agrees to Siberian Co-Operation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Japan, replying to a note from the American government last September regarding conditions in Siberia, has expressed a willingness to co-operate with the American authorities, both military and civil, in that country. This announcement was made today at the State department, but the text of the Japanese reply was withheld.

BERKELEY TO UTILIZE ART ON ITS DOCKS

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. — Bernard Maybeck, designer of the Palace of Fine Arts at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has been announced as architect for Berkeley waterfront dvelopment project as proposed by Rufus P. Jennings, Oakland capitalist.

In speaking last night before the Hillside Club, where he made first public announcement of his appointment, Maybeck declared that the aesthetic as well as the material would be considered in plans for Berkeley's harbor development. He promised color and beauty of form in some respects rivaling the exposition for the college city factory and harbor center.

Councilman Charles D. Heywood was also a speaker on the lease before the club.

When Councilman Heywood at the opening of his address announced that the opponents of the lease had not filed the referendum papers within the time required by law, and that therefore the lease would stand as awarded by the city council, the audience applauded. The speaker then gave an explanation of the chief covenants contained in the lease, elucidating the points on which there has been discussion in the community. The failure of the threatened referendum, he said, rendered unnecessary any extended remarks on his part.

MODESTO BANKERS SCORED BY JUDGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Declaring he was almost convinced the defendants had deliberately evaded compliance to the terms of a federal court judgment, Judge Van Fleet at a hearing of contempt proceedings against three leading bankers and business men of Modesto, intimated he would punish the three.

The men are E. C. Peck, president of the First National bank; C. D. Swan, president of the Union bank, and G. W. O'Connor, realty dealer.

They are liable to a fine of $32,000. Their case was continued two weeks and their testimony will then be taken.

"I believe there was a deliberate attempt to defeat the execution of judgment and if I find a way to punish the defendants I most assuredly will," declared Judge Van Fleet. "I propose to see that the wrong is righted."

The judgment was levied against Mary J. Dillon and Thomas P. Dillon, Modesto hotel owners. The case is the outgrowth of a love affair.

William Winter and Norvena Swenson, the latter owner of a large tract of land, were sweethearts seven years ago. She borrowed $4000. Years passed and the loan grew to $15,000. Miss Swenson married Frederick Lineker and Mrs. Winter married Thomas Dillon. Mrs. Lineker sued and won a judgment of $32,000, representing the loan and costs. When she tried to collect, she learned the defendants had turned the property over to the banks, the complaint says. Mrs. Lineker then brought suit against the banks, seeking to have them fined and to win the money awarded her.

She charged in this suit that the banks manipulated the funds, putting the money beyond the reach of the plaintiff.

Steamer Avalon to Make Catalina Run

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The steamer Avalon, 1823 tons, was purchased from the government today by Wm. Wrigley Jr., and several business associates. She will be sent to the Morse drydock in Brooklyn to be remodeled, after which she will be put in passenger service between Los Angeles and Catalina Island. The Avalon, formerly a Great Lakes steamer, was being fitted for a transport when sold by the government.

Lack of Evidence Ends Whisky Case

Lawrence Griffith, taken in custody at Hotel Oakland after two cases of whisky were missing from his mother's home, 377 Bay View avenue, was dismissed in police court of Judge George Samuels today for want of evidence. He was charged with drunkenness and violating a city ordinance by evading payment of taxi fare.

SEEK ALLEGED KNIFE USER.

With a blood-stained knife as the only clew, Oakland detectives are today searching for Louis Cross, 4152 Telegraph avenue, charged with cutting his son-in-law, Antone Ferro, 528 Thirty-fourth street. Ferro, stabbed three times, is recovering. The knife was found in Golden West Hall, Forty-ninth and Telegraph, where the attack happened.

BURGLAR LEAVES PRINT.

Fingerprint clews to the burglary of the home of George Fote, 2250 Union street, were obtained by Police Inspector William Kyle and Joseph Robinson last night. Loot valued at $500 was stolen.

CLASH OVER FLAG LEADS TO DIVORCE

Judge A. F. St. Sure granted Thomas A. Copeland a divorce from Elsie M. Copeland today on the ground of extreme cruelty. Mrs. Copeland, who is of German birth, was charged by her husband with refusal to consent to his suggestion that they purchase liberty bonds and at the time of such refusal saying the Americans were no good. She made the same remark about the Canadians, Copeland said, because his father was Canadian born, and finally the cap of her offending was to refuse to allow the flag to be displayed at their home, declaring she would not dirty her hands on it, and tearing it down when he placed it in a window.

She also was charged with saying the president was no good, and that she would return to Germany as soon as she could.

In her cross complaint Mrs. Copeland denied every charge made by her husband and specially concerning the flag. She said she had never objected to displaying the flag, that she was a good American and wanted the United States to win the war, and that she did not tear down the flag in the window. She says one of the children loosened the flag and it fell of its own weight.

Nagging Is Charged In Suit for Divorce

Frank M. Soares has filed a divorce suit against Mamie Soares, charging cruelty. He states that last March, one month after his discharge from the U. S. army, while he was ill of influenza, his wife taunted him with failure to provide for her and their daughter of nearly twelve years. Not only that, but she had him arrested. The following day the judge released him. Soares further says he is a member of a singing society and takes much interest in music. His wife has sought to bar him from this pleasure by phoning and telling societies and friends, where he habitually sings, that he is a married man.

PASS-KEY ROBBER BUSY.

Victims of the pass-key burglar in Oakland last night were A. A. Wise, 1947 Sixteenth avenue, loss, gold watch and chain; George Bates, 1229 Union street, gold watches, chains and two rings; Frank P. Clarke, Y. M. C. A., bag and Panama hat and S. H. Talcott, 4420 Foothill boulevard, shotgun and clothes.

OREGON UNIVERSITY LOOMS UP AS SEASON'S BIG SURPRISE

BATTLING VIERRA AND JIMMY DUNDEE TO MEET IN MAIN EVENT OF BENEFIT SHOW TOMORROW

TECHNICAL, OAKLAND HIGH RUGGERS MEET IN OPENING GAME

Coach C. H. Blesse's Squad Hopes to Break Blue and Whites' New Style of Attack

The annual football game between Oakland Hi and Tech Hi will occupy the limelight today. Both teams have been practicing hard and faithfully for this contest for the last ten weeks and a good, scrappy game is looked forward to. In the past Oakland and Tech have provided the high school football classic of the bay region and there is no reason why they should not repeat. The coaches report their teams in splendid condition, and in view of this fact neither team can very well offer much of an alibi in case of defeat.

Tech's team is given a little edge on today's game by the majority of the followers of local high school sports, because of its wonderful showing in practice games and because it has an advantage in weight. Tech's scrum is expected to outplay their rival's slightly with such men as Olds, Gooch, Lombardi and Moody representing the forward division of the purple and gold team. Their weight and experience should tell before the game is over. The purple and gold backfield is fast and many passing rushes which they have started and finished in preseason games have resulted in the downfall of their opponents. The Tech backfield consists of Tait, Rueben, Viverous, Bunker, "Nellie" Morse and Cowes.

OAKLAND TEAM LIGHT.

The Oakland Hi team is not very heavy, but everyone on the team is worth his weight in wildcats. The blue and white team did not show to very good advantage in practice games, but lately, under the careful eye of Coach Frank Bock the team has shown a reversal of form. Two practice games were held during the week vacation against the California Freshmen and both games ended without a score for either side, which speaks well for Oakland Hi.

Oakland Hi is not without its supporters and there are those who think the blue and white team will emerge victors after today's dash. They point to the speed of the Oakland Hi team and their scrap as their main assets and with these factors they can see nothing but another defeat for Broadway boys.

Oakland's strongest asset, however, is their backfield. Once they get started they can surely burn up ground. The spectators will certainly see some nice playing by both backfields.

LAST GAME OF RUGBY.

This is probably the last game of rugby football that the two rivals will ever play as the sentiment in both the Oakland High Schools Athletic League and the Alameda County Athletic League is for the American brand of play.

Tech enters the fray ready to fight to the last whistle. They have all of Blesse's excellent coaching for two months. Today will prove whether it has benefited them or not. Captain Boo Olds of the Tech squad says: "Watch us fight!"

Oakland high will try to out-fox the purple and gold boys with a new backfield plan of attack. It is a method used by the "all-black" rugby team of New Zealand which was a championship aggregation. Whoever wins in this tussle will have to show every ounce of their spirit and [illegible].

[illegible] school publications, the Weekly Scribe News and the Weekly [illegible] say, "May the best team win!"

OAKLAND VS. FREMONT.

The weather man made this one of the hardest weeks for the Oakland high football team to ever put in. A game such as the one which Oakland has with Tech today is usually enough and tough on any high school, but Oakland has another game scheduled with Fremont for next Friday afternoon that promises to be as hard fought as the one today, whether or not Oakland wins from Tech. There is as much rivalry between Oakland and Fremont as there is between Tech and Oakland. The game being played today was scheduled for a [illegible] but rain forced a postponement until today.

KITTLER TEACHING AMERICAN.

Now that it is definitely known that Oakland high schools are not connected with the A. C. A. L. and that there is no chance of his team playing the local league winners for the county championship, Coach Otto Kittler of Alameda high has started his players practicing American style, figuring what they might learn between now and the end of the season will prove of value to them next year when all the high schools in the start will take to the American way of playing. The C. I. F. has awarded the A. C. A. L. rugby championship for the county to Alameda. Immediately after the big games are over in the Oakland High School League, Coach Frank Bock will probably school his players in playing the American style, and there is a chance that Oakland and Alameda will get together in a friendly game of American before the close of the season.

Eddie Coulon Beats Ex-Marine Bramer

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 4.—Eddie Coulon, New Orleans bantamweight, was given the popular decision in a ten-round bout with Harry Bramer, Denver, last night. Pierce Matthews, St. Louis, was shaded, in the opinion of sport writers, by Danny Sheehan, Kansas City (light weights) and the ten-round go between Hugh Walker, Kansas City, and Jack Carey, St. Louis, was stopped in the eighth-round after Carey had broken a bone in his right hand. The Rev. Earl Blackman, a former army chaplain, refereed the bouts, which were under the auspices of the American legion.

Joe Benjamin, who was boxing among the four-rounders a few months ago gets his opportunity for ring fame tonight when he meets Welling in an eight-round bout at Newark, New Jersey. Welling is pretty well thought of in the East and Benjamin will come in for a lot of publicity should he receive the decision over the New York lightweight. Benjamin is being managed by Billy Gibson, manager of Benny Leonard, and Billy has been telling the eastern writers about the wonderful fight Benjamin put against the champion in San Francisco. The fact that Benjamin was scared to death and that Leonard had to hold him up at times does not worry Gibson at all.

The Dreamland promoters have matched Jimmy Hill with Monk Fowler for their main event Friday. Hill is from Australia and has been trying to get a match with Johnny Kilbane. Two local boys, Johnny Conde and Eddie Gorman, are on the same card. Conde meets Frank Oldrich and Gorman tackles Ray Rose.

Perry Lewis and Frank Haynie, who were tossed out of the ring at Dreamland last Friday night, have been suspended by Captain of Police Dan O'Brien. The suspension is not permanent and the boys will be allowed to box again after a brief lay-off.

Good Scraps Arranged by Boilermakers

Receipts of Tomorrow's Show Will Go to the Local Strikers

By BOB SHAND

Members of the Boilermakers Union have been busy the past few days disposing of tickets for tomorrow night's benefit boxing show at the Auditorium and indications point to a big crowd witnessing the fistic festivities. Matchmaker Tommy Simpson has arranged a nice set of battles for the union men and as the boxers are receiving their usual "medals" for slamming each other on the chin the fights should be worth while. The union officials are in full charge of the show and for once there will be a scarcity of "dead heads" in the front rows. It is strictly a cash performance and the boys on the hunt for "ducats" are having a terrible time making the right connections.

In Battling Vierra and Jimmy Dundee the Boilermakers have as nice a main event as has been offered here in a long time. Jimmy and the Battler are not champions and perhaps they never will be champions, but every time they clash there is a BATTLE. Last time out the decision was very close and there has been a clamor for a return bout. Simpson tried to make the match several times, but something always interfered and it was not until the union men lent their assistance that the bout was consummated.

Oregon Eleven May Play at Pasadena On New Year's Day

PASADENA, Nov. 4.—(United Press)—Interest [illegible] centers in Southern California on the outcome of the University of Oregon-Washington State football game scheduled for Portland Saturday.

This game may decide the team which will represent the West in the annual East-West football classic to be played at Pasadena New Year's day.

Washington State, experts feel, partially eliminated the University of California by last Saturday's victory, while Oregon's win over the University of Washington put the [illegible] in the running. Stanford [illegible] a chance for selection.

Penn State, Colgate and Harvard are looked upon as the three likely organizations to represent the East. A meeting will be held here next week to consider preliminaries for the big game.

Football Experts Find the Dope Won't Work This Season

By DOUG MONTELL

Once more fate played dope a trick in the realm of football when during the past week she upset the hopes of several teams in the coast conference and brought the race down to be determined by two remaining games. Washington passed out last week at the hands of "Shy" Huntington's lemon yellow Oregonians who beat "Jump" Hunt's team on their own grounds by 24-13. A severe shock it was to the Washingtonians who had high hopes as a result of their wonderful score against Whitman the previous week. The Seattle university had ambitions of trimming Washington State on the 15th, and had visions of a coast championship. The defeat that Oregon slapped on them brings the Eugene eleven into the public eye with a rush and leaves Washington out in the cold.

We might also add that the Oregon Aggies are also out in the cold. California did what had been expected of her when she trounced Hargiss' team here last week. It now remains to be seen whether the Aggies or Washington will trip up the two contenders for the championship when they meet later in the season. In the meantime, it brings the final test a week closer than expected and when Oregon goes to Portland to meet Washington State next Saturday, the contest will leave one team for the other undefeated in their aspirations for honors. It is quite possible that either Washington or the Oregon Aggies may take a fall out of the winner in later contests, but the decisive game of the season comes next Saturday for all that.

Stanford and California On Even Terms Now

Stanford and California are just about on even terms again and it is a bold predictor who comes out now and tells who will win the annual clash between the two rivals. California and Stanford both disposed of a common enemy in the Corvallis eleven, both won by one touchdown difference. Stanford won on fighting spirit odds, California won on better football against an evenly matched team. The Bears should have won by two touchdowns instead of one, but after all the comparison leaves California and Stanford evenly matched which gives promise of a real Big Game on November 22, when they get together "down on the farm."

We are not looking for any done upsets in the meantime, as California and Stanford each meet but one opponent, playing next Saturday and taking a vacation the following week-end by mutual consent while the rival Freshmen elevens test each other out on California Field. Stanford [illegible] Rugby days next Saturday when Santa Clara invades the Cardinal camp. Santa Clara under Harmon, has produced a good football team, and although they got tripped up by the Olympic Club in their first game, they came back with two large score victories against two rather elevens that showed the makings of a football team in the Mission city. The game will be hotly contested on account of the great rivalry, although the Stanford machine that Evans has built, he ought to triumph if injuries do not keep men out of the lineup.

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 4.—Frances Cowells Schroth of San Francisco broke her own American record when she won the women's fifty-yard swim in 29 1-5 seconds here yesterday. Norman Ross, also of San Francisco, won the 440-yard swim, his time being 5:25 4-5. Warren Kealoha and Harold Krueger, both of Honolulu, finished second and third, respectively.

Ross also captured the 100-yard dash in 54 4-5 seconds, Pua Kealoha coming second and Warren Kealoha third.

Brooklyn Natives Nosed Out in Fast Game With S.J.A.C.

In one of the most hotly contested games at Bay View this season, the St. Joseph's Athletic club nosed out the Brooklyn Natives by a 3 to 2 score. Both Nolan and Cunningham pitched stellar ball. "Cy" Cunningham, the crack hurler for the Natives, was baffled by the plan of attack used by the St. Joseph's batters in the fourth inning and he was nicked for three [illegible] which proved to be enough to win the game. [illegible] put the Natives in the lead in the first inning when he hit the first pitched ball for a [illegible] to right field. But Nolan steadied and there was no more scoring until the last of the ninth, when with a runner on first, Sherbourne [illegible] for a triple to center. The Athletics started their scoring in the fourth. W. O'Brien singled and scored on Cronin's double to right. Steve stole third and scored on Cornelius' sacrifice fly. E. O'Brien singled, stole second and scored when Smith threw wide to the plate on Nolan's hit. This is the first of a three-game series that these two clubs are playing. The second game next Saturday will take place on Bay View grounds at 1:30 p.m. The umpiring end was well taken care of by "Fat" La Rue and Schaffer. Score:

Krumb Wants Player List Kept Closed

Class A Managers Meet Tonight; Four Favor an Open List

By EDDIE MURPHY.

When the managers of the class A division of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE midwinter league meet tonight, another effort will be made by a couple of them to have the player list left open. A canvass of votes tells us that there will be four managers four and four against should President Fred L. Krumb have the boys' vote. President Krumb is himself opposed to the re-opening of the list, stating that all clubs had plenty of time to line up a strong club for the race. It was more than two months before the start of the race, that the first meeting was held, and managers knew that their teams would be in the league. Also it is hard to see where managers are going to pick up any players at the present time who would strengthen their clubs.

The list was open last week, and then players were scarce. Last week a howl came from the Seal's Midwinter league managers because they found out that a couple of managers on this side of the bay were dickering with their players. At the start of the season officers of The TRIBUNE and Seals agreed not to allow [illegible] to sign a player from one league to another unless he had a written release from the club he was last with. President Krumb will tell the managers at the meeting tonight that any dickering with Seal league players must stop unless the players are released.

Next Sunday's games will be the fifth of a schedule of fourteen, and it is about time that the managers be settled on their teams. Some clubs have to be near the bottom and also some have to be around the top, and a cry of weakness and a chance to strengthen is to be expected from the lower rung society. Maybe the same howl would come from the managers who now have team on the top, if theirs were down below, but right now they are not in favor of opening the list.

Walter "Dutch" Holstrum, manager of the Oakland Natives will ask that Erich Schreiber, the player who asked for his release the other day and got it, be reinstated. John Parker, business manager of the Crystals, told Schreiber that if he got his release from the Natives he could become a steady fixture in the outfield for the Crystals. But while Schreiber was getting his release from Holstrum, who is sweet on Erich's playing, but wanted to give him a chance to better himself, Bill Osgood, manager of the Crystals, had hired a fellow named Harding. That filled the Crystals list and Schreiber was left out in the cold, as it was then Friday when the player list closed and he hadn't time to hook on with another club. Dedge is also in favor of having Schreiber reinstated as he feels that he is to blame for his being out of the league. Holstrum would carry Schreiber on the Natives again.

Billy Hollander, former Oak, and who was with the Hall-Scotts at the start of The TRIBUNE league race, writes from Pittsburg to say that he expects to be back in Oakland in another week. Bill says that he went on a business trip, but his friends say he is bringing a Mrs. Hollander back with him. Immediately upon arrival here, he will get busy in coaching the University of California basketball team.

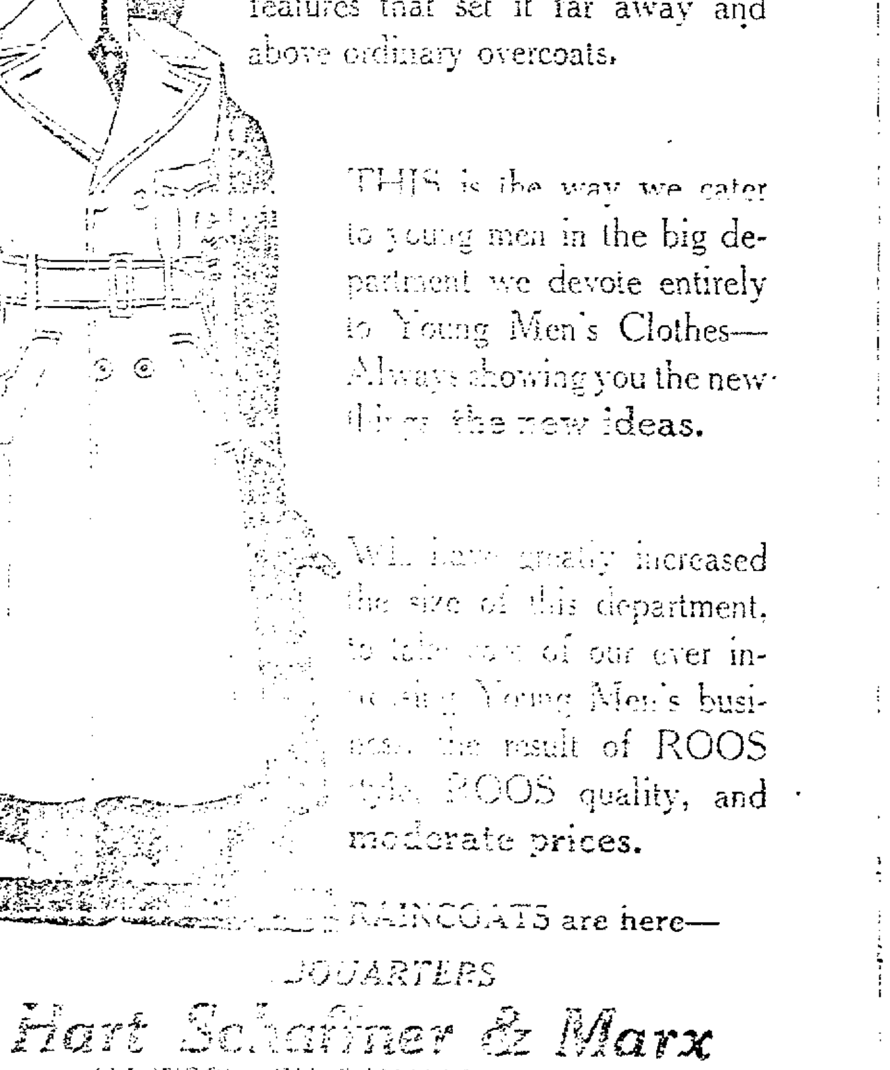

Carl Holling, Billy Lane Russell and Pap Arlett, all Oaks, and Holling's dad, made a trip to Dixon last Sunday, and all returned with the limit of ducks. Holling says they all had the limit after three hours of shooting.

Harold Boyd, shortstop for the C. L. Best Tractors, is a game kid. He was in the game last Sunday for the Tractors when he should have been sitting on the bench. The Sunday before he sprained his ankle, and then when the doctor told him he would be in condition to play again, he got a piece of steel in his finger, and only Friday afternoon he had the member cut open the full length. That did not keep him from sitting out and playing short Sunday, although he was advised not to. The Tractors were in a crippled condition as it was, as Husk Cardoza was unable to play because of his eyes. Bill Wagner and Toney Enos deserve credit for putting over wins with a crippled team.

Through a mistake last Sunday, Walter "Dutch" Holstrum of the Oakland Natives was charged with an error. Walter's father always kids him when he makes an error, and that is why we are telling you that it was all a mistake about Dutch making a boot. On the ball he dropped, he forced a runner at second. Also the summary did not give Holstrum credit for a three-bagger that [illegible] Dutch is not kicking, but he does not want his father to kid him.

[illegible] suffered quite a bit [illegible] of a thrown ball at San Leandro, hitting him last Sunday. [illegible] of sleep Sunday night and had to visit a couple of doctors yesterday. His lip is injured worse than it appeared shortly after he was struck.

Why Frank Garcia failed to show for the game is something that Walter Holstrom cannot solve. Frank promised to be out with the club and has no excuse to offer his leader. Luckily the Natives had several men on hand to fill in.

Sheridan Wins Tennis Tourney Of Island Club

Few Girls Send In Entries for Golf Tournament

DEL MONTE, Calif., Nov. 4.—The absence of entries from girls in the California State Junior Golf Championship scheduled over the Del Monte First Course in conjunction with the Annual Thanksgiving Day Tournament on the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of this month is noticeable. The event is open to boys and girls [illegible] is expected that a number of the young misses will tee off against their boy rivals.

Golf is one sport where the ladies are conceded some chance against the so-called sterner sex.

There will be prizes for the best gross and net scores, amongst the youngsters, and trophies will be given to the winners and runners-up in the flights. It is a good chance for the girls to get into the running and give the boys a tussle.

The California Golf Association has given its sanction for this initial staging of the Junior Championship. The event will be an annual affair and it is expected to play a prominent part in stimulating interest in the royal and ancient pastime and in the development of good golfers. Officials of the Golf Association and the rank and file of golfers are boosting to make the Junior Championship a success.

S. J. Merchants Win Final Game In City Series

UNIVERSITY OF SANTA CLARA, Nov. 4.—The San Jose Merchants took the fourth and deciding game of the city "grudge" series from the Bears in a game that was replete with hard hitting and sharp fielding. When the last out was registered the count stood 5 to 3 in favor of the Merchants. Bidinger's nine outclassed the Bears in what proved to be one of the best and fastest exhibitions of the national pastime seen in these parts for a long time.

In every one of the four games played the Bears seemed to have blown up in the fielding end just as the Merchants came into their own with their trusty bludgeons. The game of yesterday proved no exception. In the seventh inning the winners garnered their safe lead. With two men safely tucked away in the outs column Hal Rhyne drew up at second after a safe hit through the box and a steal to the keystone bag. Stone kicked Lamarra's slow roller and when he recovered it he heaved wild to Pratt, losing both runners. Then on two hits and as many errors the scorer hung up a quartet of runs.

It was on fielding particularly that the Merchants won the honors of the city and county.

Just because it was his 22d birthday Andy Phillips did some real nifty tossing for Bidinger. Throughout the whole of the nine innings he had the Bears at his mercy, eating out of his hand like good docile children. After Pratt's homer with two on in the last frame he settled down to work and struck out the remaining batters.

Nino pitched for the Bears.

CONVICTIONS FOR DRUNKENNESS IN BRITAIN DECLINE

LONDON, Nov. 4.—In the last year of the war there was a remarkable falling off in this country of convictions for drunkenness from pre-war totals. Official figures which show a decrease of 84.6 per cent, follow: 1913, 188,877; 1918, 29,075. The statistics given are confined to England and Wales. The greatest falling off of drunkenness, amounting to almost 90 per cent, was in the great mining and manufacturing districts of the English Midlands, and in the thickly settled coal-mining areas of Wales.

Dictatorship Costly, Hungarians Announce

BUDAPEST, Nov. 4.—The dictatorship of the proletariat cost Hungary 13,675,000,000 kronen according to a statement published here. The Red Army alone cost 2,660,000,000 kronen. One hundred and fifty million kronen were spent on foreign propaganda, and a similar sum is said to have been lost through frauds.

Knock-Out at Tennis Match Proves Costly

Those who think tennis is not a strenuous game should have been at the Oakland club's courts Sunday afternoon, when a real knock-out was witnessed. Henry Pyburn, a grizzled veteran of the sport, administered the K. O. blow and Arthur Finn, another old timer was the recipient. The pair of vets had worked their way into the finals of the handicap doubles and were going along nicely when Pyburn made a mighty wallop at a ball that dropped in the center of the court. He missed the ball and Finn, who had stepped over to assist his partner, arrived just in time to get Pyburn's elbow in the breadbasket. Down went Mr. Finn and it was ten minutes before he was able to get up again. This accident probably cost the veterans the match, as they were defeated by Milwain and Ellis. Here are the scores:

First round—Otis and Taylor (-15) d. Harris and Johnson (-15), 6-3, 7-5; J. E. Smith and Shrader (-30) d. Craig and Borton (15), 7-5, 6-3; Milwain and Ellis (15) d. Elmore and McCartney (15), 5-7, 6-2, 6-3; Hugh and Otoy (15) d. Dinsmore and Fern (sc.), 7-5, 6-4; Edwards and Benjamin (sc.) d. Von Helms and Ohnquist (-15), 6-2, 1-6, 6-4.

Second round—Finn and Pyburn (15) d. Dinsmore and E. O. Smith (-15), 6-3, 6-4; J. E. Smith and Shrader d. Otis and Taylor, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4; Milwain and Ellis d. Tuoo and Otoy, 6-2, 9-7; Edwards and Benjamin d. Jones and Agnew (-15), 6-1, 3-6.

Semi-final round—Finn and Pyburn d. J. E. Smith and Shrader, 2-6, 7-5, 9-7; Milwain and Ellis d. Edwards and Benjamin, 6-2, 6-4.

Final round—Finn and Pyburn d. J. E. Smith and Shrader, 2-6, 7-5, 9-7; Milwain and Ellis d. Edwards and Benjamin, 6-2, 6-4.

Final round—Milwain and Ellis d. Finn and Pyburn, 8-6, 7-5, 16-15.

Charlie Harvey steps out with his pick today. He says that in his opinion Jem Driscoll was the greatest fighter that ever lived.

"I want to tell you," piped Charley, "what a wonder he was. He was no model of home life. Jem was a lad of the world. He might say as Kipling said, 'I've taken my fun where I found it.' He did. Jem was a roving lad and took no care at all of his health, yet he was a master at his trade. When he came to America he was practically an old man. He had passed his best days, yet look what he did over here. He was only a featherweight, yet he made Kid [illegible] and made Leach Cross appear to be fighting a nest of hornets, and made Abe Attell fall flat on his face trying to hit him.

"Do you know of another man who ever made Abe Attell do that? He beat Attell handily, and Abe was the best feather[illegible] at that time that we'd ever seen.

"Driscoll was an Irishman and just fought because he loved the game. A fight to him was nothing but a frolic.

"Griffo was the greatest defensive fighter I ever looked at, and I guess that McGovern was the most aggressive, but [illegible] both thee attributes.

"He was a master of offense and a crackerjack at defense. His offense was in baffling the other fellow, as Corbett did. You don't have to strike at a man in order to be aggressive. If you [illegible] you you're forcing the milling. That was Driscoll. [illegible] neater footwork? No, sir. Why right now—and Jem [illegible] there, in London, knocking them over one after the other. [illegible] and I've seen thousands of them."

DUFFY LEWIS SAYS HE HAS QUIT THE NATIONAL GAME

Duffy Lewis, the greatest outfielder that Alameda ever boasted of, is back from the East and located at his Boyes Springs home. Duffy says he is through with baseball for all time and will enter the automobile tire business at Fresno. An Eastern millionaire has staked Duffy to a fat offer to manage his interests in the West and Lewis says he can make more money in tires than he can in baseball, despite the fact that he has been offered a $1000 salary boost and a bonus of $500 by the New York Yankees.

Duffy did not do very good with the Yanks the past season and failed to show any of the form that made him a hero with the Boston Red Sox. Perhaps the old boy feels he is slipping and wants to retire from the diamond while the retiring is good. Duffy could probably get by in the big tent for another couple of seasons, but he says the offer he has received to enter business is too good to be turned down.

It is Duffy's intention to quit the national game now—perhaps he will change his mind when the blossoms bloom again and he receives his contract from the Yankees. Better men than D. Lewis have changed their minds when the call for spring training came.

Umpire Murray Gets $500 for Being Hit By Ex-Heavyweight

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 4.—A judgment for $500 damages was given James A. Murray, Eastern baseball umpire, in the superior court here in his suit against Thomas Kennedy, motion picture actor, for assault during the post-season series between St. Paul and Vernon baseball teams.

Although Mr. Murray and Mr. Kennedy had agreed to a cash settlement, the umpire insisted that his suit should be filed in regular order and a judgment given that he might "go back East vindicated of any charges of rowdyism which only a court judgment could do."

45-Round Battles May Be Staged Over Mexican Line

BISBEE, Ariz., Nov. 4. — Tentative plans for 45-round prize fights across the line at Naco, Sonora, were announced by local promoters who recently held a conference with Cordovia Florencio, chief of police, and Judge Ricardo Moreno, Mexican official of the border town. Under recent ruling of Governor Huerta, Canasa and Naco are placed in the same district and Florencio is in a position to govern this section in all unimportant affairs that do not interfere with legislation of the state. The latter recently gave local promoters full authority to stage prize fights of any length, providing the sport was kept clean.

Construction of an arena in the old bull ring will be started immediately. The arena has a seating capacity of approximately 20,000.

The Branding Iron

(The Two Bar Brand)

"He lifted the hot iron and pressed it against the bare flesh of her shoulder"—

He was insanely jealous, so he marked his pretty young wife with his cattle brand, his stamp of possession. He wanted to preserve his property, his woman; and this was Pierre Landis' primitive way of doing it. He had a rival, he thought, in the minister, the "Sin Buster," they called him.

A Great Western Novel

But it is not exclusively a story of the West. The scenes shift to New York, with Joan Landis, the wife with the brand on her shoulder, a stage star.

The character of Joan, the passionate and primitive woman of the mountains, and of the two men who mould her destiny, one her cowboy husband, the other the over-civilized man of the city; the brilliantly colored scenes, ranging from the Wyoming wilderness to the stage of a great New York theater; the thrilling plot of love, hate, wrong, and atonement, all combine to make a story that once read will never be forgotten.

"I wish I had written 'The Branding Iron,' " says Rex Beach. Read it soon in

Bank's Growth in 15 Years Amazing

Figures that show the growth of the Bank of Italy were submitted by President A. P. Giannini at the recent celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the institution. Giannini's report showed that the bank began operations on October 17, 1904, with a capital of $150,000 and no deposits.

According to the figures presented by the president, the bank's capital, surplus and undivided profits have grown to approximately $9,000,000, while its deposits amount to $115,000,000. Total resources are reported to exceed $180,000,000. The bank now has twenty-four branches, the report shows, and the number of depositors is in excess of 182,000.

Citrus Fruits of State Abundant

New crop lemons have begun to reach the market and are expected to be plentiful until the end of the season. The California lemon crop is expected to be a bumper, commission merchants report. New crop grapefruit has been reaching the market for several days.

Navel oranges are due to reach the local market about November 12. Valencia oranges are holding out well and dealers will be supplied until the navels come in.

Reports from the citrus belts of the state indicate heavy yields of oranges, lemons, lemonettes and grapefruit, and the quality of all of the fruit is expected to be fully up to the previous standard.

The citrus fruit industry of California has shown great expansion during the last few years until the commercial annual output is now valued at approximately $100,000,000.

The Waterfront

Although the thick fog never left the Golden Gate all day yesterday, there were twenty-one arrivals from all parts of the world. The Norwegian steamer Taneref, a well-known collier of Oakland, having been chartered by the Dollar Company [illegible] 4770 tons of merchandise; the steamer F. S. Loof brought 1100 cedar poles to Oakland from Everett; the British steamer Cethana has 2569 tons of coal from Australia; the steamer Port Angeles with barge Rufus E. Wood in tow from Honolulu, brought 1167 tons of canned pineapple, and the barge has 200 tons of cargo. The Daisy Putnam, which left here Sunday for Gray's Harbor, returned on account of colliding with the steamer Cellio, off the heads, and six steam schooners brought 3,326,000 feet of lumber to this port. Several steamers are due here but on account of rough weather along the northern coast, they are bar-bound, and otherwise delayed. The steamer City of Topeka was to leave Marshfield yesterday but the sea is too heavy and the rain is severe, which reminds the mariners that one year ago today the steamer Santa Clara was wrecked at that place, and the weather was similar as today. The wind in the vicinity of the Golden Gate has moderated considerably, but is still blowing from the northwest, with plenty of fog, while north of this port the fog prevails with choppy seas and wind from the easterly quarters. The weather here is unsettled and fog will continue until the wind shifts and rain will follow.

The Monticello Steamship Company's new steamer Ashbury Park began her first service between San Francisco bay and Vallejo yesterday, under command of Captain Andrew Samuels. The new craft came from the Atlantic coast via Panama Canal and was remodeled here. She is the largest of her class on the Pacific Coast, being almost 300 feet in length, with a speed of twenty knots an hour, which will enable her to make the trip in less than an hour and a half.

The schooner John W. Wells, a 2274-ton craft built at St. Helens, Oregon, last year, for the Charles R. McCormick Company, has been turned over to the Gulf Mail Company, which later turned her over to the Pacific Freighters' Company. She is now on her way to Ipswich, having left this port on October 3. The Wells is one of the largest five-masted schooners on the coast and has a carrying capacity of three million feet of lumber.

The Shipping Board's new steamer West Inskip, which left here Sunday with a full cargo for the Orient, under command of Captain Tibbetts, returned to port today with engine troubles. She was under charter to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, which will have a survey today, and repairs will be made at once.

The Standard Oil tanker Col. E. L. Drake has been reported by wireless today, being 900 miles from the Golden Gate. The Drake is towing the disabled motor schooner Oronite to this port from Honolulu, and is making good time. It should arrive here on Sunday, should it continue with good weather.

The steamer Codova arrived at Codova, Alaska, yesterday from Kotzebue Sound, Nome, St. Michaels and Bristol Bay, she has the crew of the wrecked whaling steamer Belvedere, and many of the cannery hands of the Libby McNeil & Libby cannery at Bristol Bay, who refused to come home on the ship Abner Coburn. The Codova is also towing the Coburn to Seattle, and besides 175 passengers she has a full cargo picked up on her way home.

The British steamer Grace Dollar arrived at Portland today, where she will load twelve Scotch marine boilers for Hongkong. On her way north from here she lost some of her propeller blades and her skipper took her to Seattle to drydock for repairs. She has a full cargo of freight in her hold which was loaded at this port.

The Comyn MacKall & Company has purchased three new hulls from the Shipping Board and paid $75,000 each for them. They are the barkentine Apama, and the hulls Kremna and Nakoni. These craft are now in this port, and will be converted into merchant marine at once.

Change of masters registered at the United States Custom House: Captain Andrew Samuels, steamer Ashbury Park; Captain Chas. Anderson, schooner Commerce; Captain C. A. Gould, gas launch Premier; Captain D. Stairley, gas schooner Magnolia, and Captain P. E. Troup, schooner Henriette.

For Victoria and Vancouver—Motorship Challamba, Capt. Lakes, at 5 p. m. from Broadway wharf.

SCHOOL BOARD ROW DEVELOPS OVER WINHAM

Charges that favoritism is being shown in the case of Harry G. Winham, chief carpenter of the school board, whose suspension was annulled by the board last night, were made by those of the board opposed to the reinstatement. Winham's case, in which he is accused of dishonesty by Director Fred A. Campbell, is pending before the Civil Service Board, and it was charged amidst a display of verbal fireworks that Winham is being declared innocent and restored to his position without the formality of a trial. The restoration of the accused employee, it is thought, will automatically suspend the charge and remove the case from the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Board.

The case was revived by the School Board last night when Secretary Lloyd D. Barzee read a communication from the Civil Service Board announcing that the Winham appeal would probably not be held next Tuesday night, as scheduled, but would have to be postponed because of the absence of President Ralph Fisher of the board.

POLITICAL DEAL HINTED.

At the request of Director W. H. Edwards a number of communications from organizations and friends of Winham, endorsing his character, were read over the objection of Director Campbell.

"Why try to prejudice the jury in favor of this man," said Campbell. "Why try to bring outside influence to bear on the case. What do you want to do, use political influence?"

The motion to read the communication was put and passed while Campbell continued talking.

"We have laid Winham off without just cause," said Director Edwards, "and it is certain that the Civil Service Board will exonerate him. Now is a good time to reconsider the case."

"You can't do politics with the Civil Service Board," said Campbell.

"Edwards then presented a motion for reconsideration of the case and Director J. L. Pease provided the second.

"What's the idea now, a whitewash?" cried Campbell.

The motion was put and carried.

"I now move that Winham be restored under the same status as before, with the charges still pending against him," said Edwards.

MOTION IS CARRIED.

"In other words," cried Campbell, "this board goes on record as declaring Winham innocent without a trial of the case, and places itself in the position of using political influence with the Civil Service Board to have Winham exonerated."

It was then brought out by Director Daisy Short that the department is now paying Winham's salary of $9 a day and an equal amount to a substitute.

"If a man is hired in Winham's place it is foolish and extravagance," cried Campbell.

The motion to restore Winham was put and carried with the dissenting votes of Campbell and President Floyd Gray, and Secretary Barzee was instructed to put Winham back to work and to appear before the Civil Service Board tonight and make a statement of the latest developments in the case.

'STRANGE' MEN DIVORCE CAUSES

Two "strange" men have disturbed the peace and quiet of James L. Petersen and W. B. Collingwood to such extent that they have filed divorce suits against Elsie M. Petersen and Julia V. Collingwood. From Petersen's complaint it appears that Mrs. Petersen returned from a visit to friends at her former home in Humboldt county, bringing strange man No. 1 with her. During his stay in Oakland she went about with him frequently, not saying whither the twain were bound or inviting her husband to join the little party. And since the return of the unknown to Humboldt the mailbag has regularly carried letters back and forth. Petersen wonders what it's all about, and would much like to know what the too frequent missives contain. That's the information he gets from his wife is the statement that it's "none of his business." In addition he states that since the Humboldt outing Elsie's temperature has dropped so low that she often refuses to speak with him, and seeks seclusion in parts of the house where he is not.

Where the strange man who troubles Collingwood came from plaintiff sayeth not because he doesn't know. Nor do Mrs. Collingwood's relatives know, for when she introduced the human mystery to them she briefly titled him as her "friend." Yet, so charges Collingwood, the friendship has reached the stage where wife and friend have started a mutual give and take association in the matter of jewelry. Collingwood, it would seem, is not wholly certain that the jewelry purchased by his wife was paid for out of her own purse, for when recently he went to the Oakland Bank of Savings to draw some money he found that Mrs. Collingwood had anticipated him to the extent there was not a sou left in their joint account. The last straw seems to have been an occasion when Collingwood found his wife in the act of entering an auto with her strange friend and she would not so much as nod to him.

INVESTORS IN RABBIT FARM 'UP IN ARMS'

Wrathful feminine accusers of Lester Edgar Snearley are awaiting their chance to tell in court the details of their purchase of rabbit farm stock, which he is said to have sold, when his trial is held. Today Snearley, just brought here from Los Angeles, was arraigned and formally charged with embezzlement.

What the total sum of his alleged embezzlements will be found to be, the detectives are not yet ready to say. The original complaint against him involved only the sale of 700 shares of his stock to Mrs. Eloise Henning, employe of a local department store. On this complaint he was arrested at Los Angeles.

Both before and since his arrival here, however, complaints have been piling up against him. Other women in the same store and women employees of other stores have added their tales of woe to that of Mrs. Henning. They say that Snearley baited their pocket-books, too, in the nicely furnished offices he occupied for a time at 408 Twelfth street.

The California Co-operative Farms Company, in which the local women bought stock, is said by the Los Angeles police to have been pressed with less energy by Snearley in that city than here. His particular Los Angeles interest, fitted to the occupation of so many Southern California residents, was the publication of the "Actor's Voice." It was a periodical in defense of stage folks and was beginning to gain some ground when Snearley was placed under arrest.

Two charges are pending against Snearley. In one his bail was fixed at $2000 and in the other at $4000, and in default of both sums he remained in jail after he was brought here from Los Angeles by Police Inspector Harry Orbell. Hearing in his case was set for November 21.

Steamer in Distress Off Virginia Coast

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—"We need help immediately; power is getting low; sea running high and we are drifting to sea."

The foregoing message was received by the navy early today from the commanding officer of the steamship Wahklkum. The steamer gave her position as off Cape Charles. It is thought engine trouble caused the difficulty. Government ships have been ordered out to her help. The last position received was latitude 35.35 north, longitude 71.15 west.

The vessel is a freighter and [illegible] men in her crew. She registers 1510 tons and was bound from Bermuda to Newport News.

Asks Police to Find Loot Lost Eight Years Ago

Here's one woman in Oakland with implicit confidence in the ability of local sleuths. To recover goods stolen eight years ago, is all she asks.

A thief visited the home of Mrs. Rose Shaker, 1418 18th street, eight years ago and carried off most everything in the way of furnishings, to wit, a dining room table, oak stand marble top, bookcase, lamp and number of chairs. Notation on the police report says: "These articles stolen within the last eight years."

Charles H. Vigger, 2009 Webster street, had stolen a camera and suit of clothes three weeks ago. He has confidence also. He reported the burglary to the police today.

GIRL MEETS POLICE WHILE WAITING LOVER

The blighted marital hopes of Vera V. Ramsay, 16 years old, of 2654 Rhoda avenue, and Tony Mosca, 21, who planned an elopement that was to be as thrilling as a movie scenario, were patched up today, when the parents notified Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen, who detained the girl, that a marriage was not objected to.

Vera had been missing from her home two days. The parents, grief-stricken, finally gained a clew that Vera planned a meeting with her sweetheart, Tony Mosca, in front of the Y. W. C. A. Grim shadows were cast over the happy young couple's hopes of bing joined in wedlock. Police Inspectors Robert Tracy and Peter Van Houtte served a warrant issued by Judge Lincoln S. Church on Vera as she was standing in front of the Y. W. C. A. building waiting for Tony. The elopement was off. Vera was placed in the detention hom and her parents notified. The police inspectors waited for the young man, who failer to appear at the trysting place.

Today H. L. Ramsay, father of Vera, notified Captain Petersen he had no objection to his daughter being married to Tony Mosca. The Mosca boys' parents were agreeable, too.

Hence, Vera Ramsay was released today from the detention home. The day may be cloudy for those with "no eyes," but for Tony and Vera there is nothing but sunshine and pure bliss in the air. The wedding bells will soon ring, Vera bashfully admits.

And warrants, detention homes, stern police officials and such things will enter no more into their happy young lives, they hope.

TWO DESCRIBE FOUNDERING OF CUPID'S SHIP

The dove of peace has no chance to brood in the ark which shelters Edward and Mary Landi. Edward some time since filed suit for divorce in which he set forth such endearments on the part of his wife as a promise to disturb his slumbers some night by cutting his throat, shying a lighted lamp at him, and crushing his head with a quart bottle.

Now comes Mrs. Landi with a cross complaint not only denying her partner's statements, but declaring that he had paid her the compliment of comparing her face to that of a gorilla, and as to physical cruelties, if she is to be believed, her spouse went her several better in that he knocked her down with his fist; kicked her up again; sent her to the mat for the second time and tried to raise her therefrom by the same leverage, vainly however, for she had only one leg left to stand on, the other being broken, the culminating cruelty, though, would seem to have been the crowning disaster to the Thanksgiving dinner of last year. Both the Landis were cooking the piece de resistance, though Edward found time to dispose of sufficient port wine to affect his ability as a chef, so Mrs. Landi avers. As the turkey was taking on that rich brown umber tint that would presently announce its readiness for the platter, Landi opened the oven door, pulled out the roasting pan, and dropped the delectable bird on the floor.

'PHONE WORKERS TO ASK MORE PAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Delegates representing Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company electrical workers in four Pacific coast states are in session here today to adopt new demands for a modification of wage and working conditions which will be submitted to the telephone company tomorrow.

The meeting is being presided over by Thomas G. Vickers of Fresno, who is a member of the general executive committee of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Delegates to the conference said that no announcement of the proposed demand would be made public until they formally had been presented to the employer. It was indicated, however, that an increase in wages over a scale fixed by a recent conference between the company and its men would be the parallel.

The present conference affects only the men workers and not the operators, who are scheduled to meet within a few days under the direction of Miss Julia O'Connor, a national organizer.

ROBBERS TAKE BONDS.

HARRISBURG, Ore., Nov. 4.—The First National bank of this city was robbed last night, the thieves getting $2000 in Liberty bonds for their work.

Edwards Proposes Plan to Invest Millions in School Funds in Liberty Bonds

Preliminary arrangements for the first unit of the building program, made possible by the recent successful $5,000,000 bond issue, and for the disposition of the bonds were made last night by the school board.

A plan to invest the school bonds in Liberty bonds, pending the actual use of the funds for building, was suggested to the board by Director W. H. Edwards, Commissioner of Revenue and Finance, and the legality of the investment scheme is now being investigated.

According to Edwards the bond market is unusually high at the present time and the entire issue of school bonds can be converted into Liberty bonds to a great advantage at existing values. The interest on the Liberty bonds will take care of the school bonds with a margin, Edwards said.

The building program committee of the board yesterday took steps to secure an initial sale of bonds to the extent of $1,240,000 for the first unit of the building program. The committee report was referred back to the body for conference with Director W. H. Edwards, Commissioner of Revenue and Finance, and for final report Thursday evening, when the Board of Supervisors will probably be asked to sell the first bonds.

Of the total amout of $1,240,000, the committee recommends that $620,000 be spent for high schools and an equal amount for elementary schools. The committee recommended to the board that, as rapidly as the bonds authorized are sold, special building funds for the various schools and districts be created in the respective amounts as published in the building program and that the funds set aside for each school and district be used for that purpose only.

Commissioner of Public Works Frederick Soderberg has been requisitioned for plans and specifications for 25 additional portable buildings to be erected at a cost of $35,000, to answer the present urgent need of relieving the overcrowded condition in all the local schools. The portable building plan includes 17 one-room, open-air school buildings, 4 buildings of the kindergarten size and 4 of the double kindergarten size.

SWISS DISCLOSE RADICAL PLOTS FOR REVOLUTION

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Additional revelations from documents captured by Swiss authorities from Russian and German revolutionary agents, show the leaders of the Russian Soviet government early last spring had outlined a complete world revolutionary program for this winter.

One of the documents, taken from a Bolshevik messenger, forecast the present world-wide industrial unrest and instructed workers to seize upon the "psychological moment" to foment strikes preparatory to the general revolution.

"Order of Combat No. 4," signed by Tchitcherin, the Bolshevik foreign minister, last August, foretells the present coal shortage, declaring this condition will make inauguration of social revolution this winter particularly favorable.

The mass of documents contain lengthy instructions for agents, detailing methods of approaching soldiers and farmers to convert them to the revolutionary cause.

S. P. CARS ARE HELD UP BY TRUCK WRECK

If several hundred commuters in the Melrose-Fruitvale district arrived home to a cold supper last night, this is to inform the good wife that their alibi was real.

It was a freak accident that caused an auto truck, loaded with heavy steel pipe, to snap its axle just as it was crossing the Southern Pacific electric line on Seventh and Grove last night. The broken-down truck blocked both tracks for thirty minutes. Long ferry trains crowded to the guards with commuters piled up on either side and were compelled to halt while the pipe was unloaded into other trucks.

AID FOR FRENCH CHURCHES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Rev. Chas. S. Macfarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, sailed yesterday on the French liner La Lorraine, with a gift of $71,000 for the reconstruction and relief of the French Protestant churches.

SHIPBUILDERS IN EAST URGED NOT TO GO ON STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Shipbuilders on the Atlantic and gulf coasts were advised today not to strike by James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor. His action followed communications from the navy department and the emergency fleet corporation that they are without funds to pay the increase of eight cents an hour that is being demanded, and already sanctioned by a vote to strike.

"The shipbuilders on the Pacific coast have declined to pay increases in wages unless reimbursed by the government," said O'Connell, "and the advices today indicate that the government is without funds to do this. Under the circumstances I think it would be very unadvisable for the shipworkers on the Atlantic and gulf coasts to carry out their plan to join the Pacific strikers."

Drastic Punishment Promised Speeders

Severe punishment will be recommended for two youthful motorcyclists who scorched along Central avenue, Alameda, and imperiled the life of a little girl crossing the street, Chief of Police W. O. Jacoby, who arrested the pair after a race in his police car, announces. The boys are Lawrence Gerhl, 2063 Pacific avenue and Jack Grossman, 1821 San Antonio avenue, Alameda.

DEATH RATE IN OAKLAND ON DECLINE

Oakland's death rate for each 1000 persons has diminished .4 of a percent since 1917 according to mortuary statistics compiled by the bureau of census in Washington. In 1917 for the month of October the number of deaths was 38, the rate being 10.4 per 1000. In October this year the total deaths were 41, the rate per 1000 being 10 even, based on a population of 214,206 as of July 1, 1918.

According to the table, Oakland is in seventh place in the death rate column, lower death rates being enjoyed by Cleveland and Dayton, Ohio; by St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota; by Fall River, Idaho, and Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

San Francisco is seventh among the cities with the highest death rate, with a percentage of 14.9 per 1000. New Orleans heads the list with a rate of 16.4, with Albany, Cambridge, Kansas City, Pittsburg and Richmond, Va., following in the order named.

According to the tables, however, the rate fluctuates from year to year. The Oakland rate does not participate to any considerable degree in such fluctuations, but remains steadfastly at a low figure except in times of epidemic.

In October last there were no deaths in Oakland caused by influenza or any form of pneumonia. The death rate for children under one year during the same month was 7.3 per cent, the number of deaths being three.
